

Bloomington News-Letter.

A Weekly Democratic Newspaper---Devoted to News, Politics, Literature, Agricultural and Mechanical Interests, &c., &c.

A. B. & J. C. CARLTON, EDITORS.

J. C. CARLTON, PUBLISHER

VOL. III.

BLOOMINGTON, INDIANA, SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 26, 1856.

NO. 8.

THE BLOOMINGTON NEWS-LETTER

Is published every Saturday Morning, by JAMES C. CARLTON.
A. B. & J. C. CARLTON, Editors.
TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.
One copy one year, $1.50
Six months, 1.00
Local Ministers charged half price—75c a year.
No name entered on the subscription book until the subscription money is paid.

RATES OF ADVERTISING:

	3 months.	6 months.	1 year.
One square	$3.00	$5.00	$8.00
Two squares	4.50	7.00	10.00
Three squares	6.00	9.50	13.00
Fourth of a column	9.00	13.00	18.00
Half column	13.00	20.00	30.00
One column	22.00	33.00	50.00

One square, (10 lines), three insertions or less, one dollar; each additional insertion, under three months, twenty-five cents.

Special notices (always inserted next before the advertisements, on third page, and headed) 10 cents per line for the first insertion, and 5 cents per line for every subsequent insertion.

Advertisements, unlimited as to time, are inserted until a discontinuance is ordered, and charged accordingly. Advertisers will take particular notice of this part of our rates.

Legal advertisements are to be paid for when inserted, or the agent furnishing them will be held responsible for their payment.

For advertising wives, Five Dollars, for two squares or less; for every square above two, One Dollar extra.

BLOOMINGTON:

SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 26, 1856.

The next Illinois State Fair is to be held at Alton, commencing on the 30th of September.

Chicago issues eight daily, five tri-weekly, and twenty-eight weekly papers.

The American State Council, of Wisconsin, has repudiated Fillmore and nominated Banks.

The strong minded women will hold a National Dress Reform Convention at Syracuse, N. York, in June, when the subject of long petticoats or short ones will be decided.

The Greencastle Banner has hauled down the Fillmore and Donelson flag, and in its last issue publishes a caricature on the ticket. Pieth into him, Know Nothings!

SOLD.—We see it stated that the Cincinnati Enquirer has been sold to a company of Eastern gentlemen. Judge ALEXANDER WALKER, late of the New Orleans Delta, is to become the leading editor.

The Democracy of McCracken Co., Ky., have complimented R. B. J. TWYMAN, editor of the Paducah Democrat by presenting him with a gold watch.

BIRTH EXTRAORDINARY.—The last number of the Herald, published at Camden, Arkansas, contains the following:

A few days since a negro woman belonging to Col. Jno. Dockery, the worthy President of our railroad, was delivered of four children at one birth—three girls and one boy. Their average weight is seven pounds each. When last heard from, the mother and her little darlings were doing well. The Col. has named the children after his favorite enterprises—Mississippi, Ouchita, and Red River Railroad, giving the girls the names of the three rivers, and calling the boy Railroad! The woman and her husband were both at work on the railroad during the past year.

The New Albany Ledger publishes a letter from Hon. WM. H. ENGLISH, in which he says that he neither wishes nor expects to be a candidate for re-election. He recommends the nomination of some other man of his party, who is willing to run, and pledges to such prospective nominee his zealous and unwavering support.

The Abolitionists say that a nigger is as good as they are. We shall not dispute the point.

At the election in Springfield, Ill., there was a union of the Democrats and old line Whigs against the fusion of Know Nothings and Black Republicans. The latter were completely routed—the Democratic and Whig nominees being successful for every office. The test was exceedingly spirited.

The ensign of Nicaragua consists of three stripes, two of sky-blue, with a white stripe in the center. In the midst of the white is a circular device of the seal of State and the representations of seven volcanoes, in token of the volcanic range of Nicaragua.

LAND WARRANTS.—The Department at Washington has issued 112,794 land warrants under the act of 1855. The applications received amount to 142,000. There will be some waiting for those who are last on the list, though 170,000 have been examined, and 15,000 of the remainder, it is said, will be suspended for further proof. These cases require much more care and time in examination, and the issue from the Department will decrease from one-third to one-half. The present supply of warrants will consequently be soon exhausted, without the possibility of its again occurring, should there be more than the usual demand, prices must go higher than they ever have before.

[From Arthur's Home Magazine.]

The Cradle away up in the Garret.

BY M. LOUISA CHITWOOD.

It was an old-fashioned little cradle,—The proud daughter-in-law would scorn to have it in the nursery. Her children sleep in dainty cribs; and the relic of olden times is pushed into a darkened corner, away up in the garret. It is a quiet autumnal day; such days are full of memories; and the old grandmother is thinking, thinking. She arises, at length, and totters up, and up, the lofty flights of stairs; she passes thro' the elegant rooms; she gains the garret, and sinks down by the unsightly cradle, and bows her head over it, as if watching the slumbers of a babe. That little garret, with one long beam of sunlight streaming from the high window, and the spider webs woven over the rafters, and one cricket, singing lonesomely from some silent corner, is a good place to dream. Memory is unfolding picture after picture, for the grandmother to look upon.

She sees a cabin home. It is in the flush of summer time; there are green boughs in the fire-place, and around the clock, and above the mantel board. There are short white curtains drawn partially across the windows. There are two beds, with a bureau between, standing in the eastern part of the room; and a little stand, with a Bible and hymn-book upon its white fringed cover, beneath the little looking-glass. There is her cupboard, with its brightly polished pewter, and the pine table, scoured by her own hands. As she is sitting by the window, her foot gently touching that same dear little cradle, and her eyes lifted now and then to see if her heart's pride is coming; how deliciously her heart is stirred to the music of sweet thoughts. It is her first-born, her darling Johnny, sleeping in the cradle. Never yet have his dewy, rose-bud lips murmured "mother"; but his dimpled arms clasp her neck; his velvet cheek nestles against her breast, his clear blue eyes look lovingly into her own. She is the young mother again as memory paints that sweet baby face. She sees the shadow leaves of the Virginia creepers playing upon the grass in the sunlight, as the breeze stirs the long claspings arms that cling about the rough logs.

She hears the rivulet's ripple, as it winds through mossy spots, and leaves the root of the old sycamore, whose shadows fall upon her roof. She hears the birds singing away off in the woods. She sees, oh! best of all, her husband coming home from his daily labor. His step is on the sill, his merry voice speaks her name, and then little Johnny is clasped to his heart.

Another picture. She is a little older now. It is winter; there are drifts of snow on the eaves; as far as she can look, one unbroken mass of snow. She hears the winds moan through the sycamore. The flowers are dead, the rivulet frozen, the birds silent. But there is a bright fire on the hearth, and the cabin home warm with its crimson light. Johnny is playing with father, and a baby girl, the little Lizzie, is in the cradle; fragile, delicate, beautiful; she has dark eyes, like her mother's, only they bear a sadder, softer look, and her baby smile seems sad also; her hands are clasped and thrown above her head, and she smiles in her sleep, as if angels were whispering to her.

Another picture. It is the month of May, and all out of doors seems so beautiful.—Flowers in the woodland, birds in the woodland, joyous music everywhere. Everywhere? No, there is sadness in the cabin house. There is another babe in the cradle. It is robust, and the blood of health flows in its veins. It is Charlie. Why are they sad then? Johnny sits with his face hidden in his mother's bosom, and she is sobbing. Under the front window is something covered with white. The neighbor women are moving noiselessly about, speaking but little. Lizzie is in her coffin. There is an empty grave, where buttercups dot the grass. Dear little Lizzie! Joy that the angels took thee home so early.

Another picture. Johnny has grown up to nearly manhood. Charlie is a stout, merry boy, and there are others about the fireside. The mother is a good deal older now. Her hair is streaked a little with silver, her brow furrowed, and her cheek faded. There are fair daughters and sons, that have been born unto her since Lizzie died. Grace, with her dazzling blue eyes and golden hair; Mary, with sad, dark eyes like her dead sister; Annie, with her lips ever dewy with love and joy; Reginald, with eyes and brow so like his father's; and Louis, the youngest, the pet and the darling. An unbroken family, but not long.

Another picture. She is a widow now. Her beloved sleeps with little Lizzie. God knows how bereft she is; to Him she looks for balm; to Him she prays for her dear children; and most of all for Reginald—the proud, the passionate, wilful Reginald.—Ah! the mother's heart; how it goes with her children. How it would bear every pang, that they might be saved. Yet how often it is torn, crushed, broken by those she has sheltered in her bosom. God pity the mother whose heart thus beats against thorns.

Another picture. Oh, God! have pity. The household altar is almost desolate.—Years have gone by, sad years. No wonder the palsied hand trembles, as it clasps the cradle. No wonder tears fall where sunny heads once nestled. No wonder the old grandmother cries out, "Father! have mercy!" for she feels the need of strength and love. Johnny is still with her; he is growing wealthy. Mary is in the grave, stricken in early womanhood, when life seems so bright. Beautiful Grace is gone, she knows not whither. Beauty to her was a curse, and she fled to a distant land with one fascinating as the serpent, but already wedded. Annie joined her fortunes to one alas! unworthy, and died, far from her mother's house, of a broken heart. Reginald went into the gay world; was tempted, was lost; and the grave of the drunkard and the debauchee closes over his bright head. Louis, the pet, the youngest, is winning himself a fame beneath Italian skies; the beautiful life of the poet-painter is his own, and his face is inspired, almost, by the beautiful associations around him. Over the ocean do his mother's prayers often go to him.

Another picture. Oh! no, it is much too real. The old garret, the now empty cradle. She is living with Johnny, in his costly home. She is considered an intruder by the daughter-in-law; and her son—her Johnny—the first-born, whom she has watched over, and cradled on her breast, and loved so, says, "Mother is getting to be quite troublesome; she is growing childish."

The desolate old grandmother knows this, and longs for the grave. She has outlived all that makes life attractive. God compass that weary, almost worn-out heart with His love, and take her to His house of many mansions.

Dissolve this Union.

Gen GRANGER, of Syracuse, now an M. C.,—who, before he was bitten by the negro mania, was in very sound political health, said the other day in Congress:

Dissolve the Union? Who will dissolve it? The north will not; the South dare not; the world in arms can not. Away with such nonsense.

The Religious "Union" of the United States is already pretty well dissolved,—and would be wholly dissolved,—if the negro maniacs could have their way. The great Methodist Church is split into the Methodist Church South and the Methodist Church North. The Presbyterian Church is split too, North and South. The great Baptist Church, next to the Methodist in numbers, is also rent in twain, the Church South being called, "the Southern Baptist Convention," and the Church North, "the Missionary Union." The Northern Religious Missions, among the South Western Indians, have been broken up. A great war is now being made upon the Tract Society, because it recognizes sinners to be converted in the South as well as the North,—without reference to their slavery or anti-slavery education. The Bible society may soon have to purge the Holy Book of such passages as "bondmen," and "bondwomen," "servants obey your masters" to be fit for Northern circulation. In short, the Religious Union of the North and South is now about "dissolved."

But the party Unions—the political Unions—and the constitutional Union yet exist,—but in Pittsburgh, as in Hartford, Conn., during the last war, and in Columbia, S. C., in 1832—a Northern, dis Union States Party has been formed to break the Union up. If there is a success in that, we have men of the North and South parted in religion and politics—the strongest bond of connexion—and we have only the bond of commerce left.—To sever that, it is said now, only the cities, the free commercial cities, such as New York, Boston, Philadelphia, and Cincinnati, are "cotton" cities, "dough-face" cities, &c.,—and the rural districts are urged by every possible appeal to country prejudice, to put down the cotton, the iron, and the manufacturing lords with them "who sell their souls for gold." The Religious bond being broken—if the Political bond can be severed, the Commercial bond thus will soon go.

The Union will never be broken up, as Gen. Granger says, by the North or South, in form. The people will never vote to part connexion; but if we have one God in the North and they another in the South—as now—if we have one great Northern party in the North, and they one great Southern party in the South, on the Pittsburg programme—the Union but exists in name—in form—for it would be already gone.

The Union of this people is not in the constitutional roll of parchment in the office of secretary of State, signed by George Washington, Ben. Franklin, Roger Sherman, James Madison, Alexander Hamilton and others, but it is in the hearts, the interests, the affection of the North and the South. Sever their affections, and their interests—and the roll of parchment is worth nothing but its autographs and their associations. Parchments are no bond of Union. Written Constitutions are but sheepskins. We must love each other—we must respect each other—we must be proud of each other—we must have a common interest in each other—we must do justice and equality to each other, to be one people, in one country. From the bitter struggles and passions of Northern and Southern Parties, civil war is inevitable, no matter what may be written on that sheepskin in the Department of State at Washington.—New York Express.

[From the New Orleans Delta, April 3.] Know Nothing Outrage in New Orleans! Court of Justice Insulted—A Judge Assaulted and Beaten!

We have in our local column of this morning a brief notice of the conduct of the Huffy mob in the contested election case, which was tried yesterday; we have now to add the second and more tragical act of the disgraceful drama.

Before the referring to the particulars of the outrage committed on the person of Judge Robertson this morning, it may be well to premise a few details of the proceedings of yesterday, which were not embodied in our local report.

During the preliminary proceedings in the case of Alupente vs. Bezon considerable disorder prevailed in the Court, as has already been stated, and the Judge ordered every one in the Court to be seated. The order was obeyed by all with the exception of an individual named Daunoy, who had intruded himself between the Judge's seat and the desk occupied by the Clerk and Sheriff of the court.

The Judge, addressing him sotto voce, required him to take his seat. The tone of the request was friendly and conciliatory. Daunoy disregarded his expressed wish. In a more peremptory tone the Judge renewed his order, which was again disobeyed. A third time the same order was given, and a third time disobeyed. Daunoy, stepping aside to the iron column on the left side of the bench, remarked that he would stand there. Judge Robertson then called upon a Deputy Sheriff of Mr. Bell, to remove the audacious disturber; the Deputy accordingly requested him to leave the court-room, but Daunoy was obstinate, and the Deputy was compelled finally to take hold of him, whereupon Daunoy pushed him off.

It was then apparent that a fight was about to commence, and the gang of rowdies in the pay of Mr. Huffy, gathered hastily to the scene of action. One of the party unbuttoned his vest and put his hand upon a pistol.

Mr. Andry (Mr. Bell's Deputy) then asked the Court for advice as to the course he had better adopt. "Remove him, sir," said the Judge, "and if there is resistance make, kill him." Daunoy was thereupon forcibly removed from the Court. The Judge immediately ordered the Clerk to write out his commitment for ten days, the commitment was duly made out and handed to the Deputy, who went forthwith to execute it.

In a short time he returned and informed the Court that it was impossible to arrest Daunoy, he found him surrounded by a crowd of men who threatened to defend him against arrest, or, in their own words, said they would not suffer him to be taken. Judge Robertson ordered Sheriff Bell to be summoned, observing that the orders of the Court should be obeyed, and if necessary he should leave the bench to assist personally in enforcing those orders. Meanwhile, Mr. Randall Hunt appeared amici curiæ, and moved the Court to allow Mr. Daunoy to "purge himself" of the contempt. In support of his motion, Mr. Hunt alleged that Daunoy had no intention of insulting the Court, that his misbehavior had been provoked by the Deputy Sheriff arresting him, as between him, and the Deputy some bad blood existed. We have the authority of Judge Robertson for stating that subsequently Mr. Hunt attributed the course pursued by him to a fear that there would be bloodshed if the order for Daunoy's arrest had been carried out.

Daunoy then entered the court, followed by his adherents, and on disclaiming all contempt, was discharged. A faint hurrah greeted the result. During all these proceedings a hostile crowd had been assembled in the entrance to the court, cursing, Robertson, and swearing "like the army in Flanders."

Such was the scene of yesterday. That of this morning was more decisive.

As the Judge was going to court, his hands encumbered with papers and books, he was met at the corner of Chartres and Toulouse streets by this same Daunoy, who accosted him in an apparently amicable manner. He extended his hand to the Judge, who received it, and told him he was glad to meet him, as he wanted to speak about his conduct yesterday. Daunoy replied that he, too, wanted to speak on the same subject. By this time they reached about the middle of Toulouse street, between Royal and Chartres, when Daunoy, changing his tone, addressed the Judge and said: "I want you to apologise for your conduct to me yesterday." "Apologise!" replied the Judge, "you have mistaken your man if you suppose, I can apologise for performing my duty."

Daunoy immediately pushed him off to have him within reach of a very heavy loaded cane, with which he struck him a tremendous blow on the head, which was followed by others in quick succession. The Judge tried to draw his pistol, but one hand was occupied in parrying the blows, and he could not succeed.

Two or three friends of Daunoy's then jumped upon the Judge, catching his arms and choking him, while the chief assailant continued his assault. The Judge at last succeeded in drawing his pistol, but it was wrested from his hands at once. The beating lasted for some time. One of Mr.

Bell's deputies, who was fortunately passing by, came up and rescued the Judge from the grip of his merciless foes. The wounds inflicted are very severe.

Canada.

They are becoming democratic in the Canadian provinces. They are no longer willing to have England furnish them with Governors. Hear the Hamilton Banner. It speaks emphatically and justly:

We will have an Elective Legislative Council bill passed in a few days. We must have also an elective Governor. The people in Canada are in a position to choose from among themselves a man competent to fill the highest post in the country. It is time an end was put to the abominable system of sending out to Canada broken down characterless baronets and lords to monopolize our most respectable situations, and to ride rough shod over the sons of the lusty yeomanry, by whose brawny arms the resources of the country are developed. Last Saturday, Lady Head, daughters, aid-de-camp, and two or three servants, came up from Toronto by the morning train on their way to Niagara Falls. They occupied a separate car, the doors of which were locked against the Canadian bipeds, over whom Sir Edmund rules for the small (!) consideration of £7,777 7s. 7d. Moreover, the car was not only special, but superior to any other on the train. All this invidious distinction was shown to these distinguished personages free gratis! Why should not the wives and daughters of Canadians ride in the same car with Lady Head? Such exclusiveness in those who are dependent on our country for their bread, butter, and social positions, does not harmonize with the genius of Canadians. It is a base insult to our intelligence and respectability. We remember traveling, a few years ago, in company with President Fillmore, whose position was not inferior to that of Queen Victoria or Emperor Napoleon. He never thought of a special car; he considered that he was traveling with people who were entitled to his respect, and fit to associate with him and converse on the interests of the nation. It is not so with the greedy Heads, Metcalfs and Colbornes, who have been sent out to tyrannize over us, and to conspire with the family compact and greedy bishops against our dearest rights and interests.

[From the Banner of Liberty.]

A Pair of Know Nothing Parsons.

Rev. L. Jerman, Methodist minister at Milton, N. J., does not seem to be quite the man he should be. At a recent session of his Conference, sworn affidavits were presented by the Trustees of his church, showing that although a married man, he had represented himself otherwise, and been paying particular attention to a young lady of his church; moreover, he had formed an improper connection with a married sister, telling her that if she loved another man better than her husband, it would not be sinful; and had begged money for the church, and used it up.—Wayne County Herald.

The story of the above "vicegerent," as Sam Houston would call him, would answer, with but little alteration, for thousands of wolves in sheep's clothing, in various parts of the country. We do not profess to chronicle all cases of clerical depravity, in these degenerate times; for, to do so we should have to fill our paper, to the exclusion of everything else; but it is well enough to show up the animals occasionally, in order to convince the simple-minded among our pious friends, that preachers, like other men, are fallible, and in order that they may not hold themselves, in all cases, bound to believe all the outrageous lies uttered by these reverend gentlemen relative to Catholics, foreigners, southerners, or the Democratic party. "Cursed is man that trusteth in man."

While our hand is in, we will also copy from the same paper the following:

"AN ASCENDING CLERGYMAN.—There has been great anxiety at Pittsburgh, Penn., about the mysterious disappearance of Rev. A. G. Williams, a Methodist clergyman; but it is now relieved by a letter from him, stating that he is on his way west, to escape difficulties of a domestic nature, which in no way affect his religious character, but he feared might impair his usefulness."

His reverence will probably turn up in Kansas. Won't the Rev. Blowhard Beecher or Prof. Sillyman please send him a Sharpe's rifle?

In our court, (writes an Eastern friend,) one of our smart young lawyers was well come up with the other day. A witness, in a case of assault, was asked by the junior counsel, "How far was you, sir, from the parties when the alleged assault took place?"

"Four feet five inches and a half," was the answer promptly given.

"Ah!" fiercely demanded the lawyer, "how came you to see so very exact as all this?"

"Because," said the witness, very coolly, "I expected some confounded fool would, likely as not, ask me, and so I went and measured it."

The London Post Office.

A writer in a late number of Putnam's Magazine, speaking of the London Post Office, says:

"Each letter goes through from ten to fourteen processes, and the wonder is, how 500 men can handle 300,000 with so little confusion, and so few mistakes. A spectator is always astonished at the rapidity with which the letters pass under the stamp. An active stamper will stamp and count from seven to eight thousand in an hour. The process of sorting is carried on on large tables, which are divided into apartments, labelled 'Great Western,' 'Eastern Counties,' 'Scotch Irish,' 'Blind,' &c.—Those marked 'Blind' are carried to a person called the 'Blind Man,' who has more skill in deciphering bad writing than a Philadelphia lawyer. He will take a letter directed 'Srom Predevi,' and read at once Sir Humphrey Davy; a letter superscribed 'jonsmeet ne Weasel pin tin,' he sees immediately belongs to John Smith, Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

In short, he is such an adept in this business, that it is almost impossible to attempt to write or spell so as to be unintelligible to him. The mail bags are made of sheep skin, soft and pliable. They are sealed up with wax upon the twine around the top. This is thought to be safer than locking, although bags that have to go a great distance are secured by locks. The average weight of the evening mail from London is about 14 tons. The number of newspapers sent from the office yearly is estimated at 53,000,000; the average number of letters sent daily is 267,531; the average number received is 283,225.

TAKE A PAPER FOR YOUR WIFE.—A friend, says an exchange, told us a story in relation to one of our subscribers, which contains a good moral for husbands, and also furnishes an example for wives, which is not unworthy of imitation under similar circumstances:

The subscriber referred to said it had been his intention to call at the office, pay up his arrears, and discontinue the paper. His wife very properly asked, "Why do you intend to discontinue the paper?"

"Because," said the husband, "I am so much away from home on business, and have so little time to read, there seems to be little use in my taking the paper."

"Yes," replied she, "it may be little use to you, but it is great use to me. I remain at home while you are gone. If you discontinue the paper, I will go straight to town and subscribe myself."

MURDER IN INDIANA.—The New Albany Ledger is informed by a gentleman from Harrison county, that a horrible murder was committed in Taylor township, in that county, on Saturday night, the 12th inst.—An old man named Glassman, a German, was shot from a window of his house, while lying in bed asleep, two balls entering the region of the heart, producing instant death. His wife was lying at his side at the time he was killed. The murderer has not yet been discovered, but suspicion rests upon a man named Chaffin, who owed Glassman some money, which the latter was desirous of getting, as he was about to move away.

F. P. BLAIR.—Mr. Blair was, once, Mr. Clay's confidential friend and advocate, then his enemy; once a supporter of the United States Bank, then its opponent; once its debtor to the amount of $20,000, then freed from obligation through the healing art of a bankrupt law, once a slaveholder, then an Abolitionist; he was devoted to "Southern views" while "thrift followed fawning," but after Mr. Polk rejected him as the official organ of the administration, and Congressional printing left his presses, he joined the Van Buren Free Soil movement, and has been falling ever since, until he has reached the lowest dept. of apostacy, and rests in "Black Republicanism." To freshen this ancient piece of Democratic flesh, some of Mr. Blair's own ilk attempt to scatter a little Jackson salt over him.—Boston Post.

An exchange paper, the editor of which no doubt lately 'set up' with a widow, goes off thus: "For the other half of a courting match, there is nothing like an interesting widow. There's as much difference between courting a damsel and an attractive widow as there is between cyphering in addition and double rule of three. Courting a girl is like eating fruit, all very nice as far as it extends, but doing the amiable to a blue-eyed bereaved one in black crape, comes under the head of preserves—rich, pungent, syrupy. For delicious courting, we repeat, give us 'a live widder.'"

The following, from the Louisville Times is a pretty fair commentary on the practical effects of the Know Nothing movement.

We learn that the Hon. Jno. L. Helm, President of the L. & N. R. R. failed to make a sale of the bonds of the city of Louisville during his recent visit to New York. The New York Courier and Enquirer, the leading Commercial and Monetary organ in that city told the business community that Louisville was not under the dominion of any law, but the will of a mob, and that the credit of such a city was worthless.

The News-Letter.
BLOOMINGTON:
SATURDAY MORNING, APRIL 26, 1856.
Democratic State Ticket.
FOR GOVERNOR,
ASHBEL P. WILLARD, of White.
FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR,
ABRAM A. HAMMOND, of Vigo.
FOR SECRETARY OF STATE,
DANIEL MCCLURE, of Morgan.
FOR AUDITOR OF STATE,
JOHN W. DODD, of Grant.
FOR TREASURER OF STATE,
AQUILLA JONES, of Bartholomew.
FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL,
JOS. E. McDONALD, of Montgomery.
FOR CLERK OF THE SUPREME COURT,
WM. B. BEACH, of Boone.
FOR REPORTER OF THE SUPREME COURT,
GORDON TANNER, of Jackson.

FUSION PLATFORM.
"Abolitionists to rule America."
"Let the Union slide."
Watchword for the Campaign.
"Put none but NIGGERS on guard to-night."—FRED. DOUGLASS.

Lieut. Governor.
On the 16th inst., the Democratic State Central Committee met at Indianapolis. They addressed a written request to Col. WALKER, in view of the want of record evidence of his age, to withdraw from the canvass. With characteristic politeness, and in a spirit of patriotic devotion, the Colonel resigned his candidacy. The Committee then proceeded to fill the vacancy, by the nomination of ABRAM A. HAMMOND, of Terre Haute. Judge HAMMOND accepted the nomination. He was formerly an old line Whig. Upon his return from California in 1854, he voted the Democratic ticket, and has acted and voted with the Democratic party since that period. He was a delegate to the 8th of January Democratic State Convention, from Vigo county. Judge HAMMOND is a good speaker, a gentleman, and a popular man. WILLARD and HAMMOND will make a strong team. WILLARD can rouse the old Democracy like the sound of the bugle blast, while HAMMOND can call his former political friends to a haven of safety from the wreck of the old Whig party.

Action for Libel.
A few weeks ago, an editorial article was published in the Paoli Constitutionalist, written by JOSEPH COX, one of the editors, charging that Judge HUGHES had accused Hon. SAMUEL H. BUSKIRK with having been bought up by the New State Bank, while a member of the Legislature, (amounting to a charge of bribery.)—The article was copied into the Bloomington Times. Mr. BUSKIRK has taken the initiatory steps for commencing an action of slander against JOSEPH COX, in the Paoli Circuit Court; also against MESSRS. WALKER and DEMOTT, editors of the Bloomington Times, and JESSE T. COX, who, it is averred, requested the Times to copy the article from the Constitutionalist.

Common Pleas Court.
The Monroe Common Pleas Court commenced its April term last Monday. In the case of the State of Indiana vs. JACOB YOUNG, for retailing spirituous liquors, Judge QUICK decided the prohibitory law to be unconstitutional and void. The State of Indiana vs. ALEXANDER TILLEY. The defendant in this case, aged about 21 years, was charged with an assault and battery upon his mother, RUTH TILLEY, by choking her and knocking her down with his fist. The jury found him guilty, and fined him seventy-five dollars.

Newspaper Proscription.
The Know Nothing portion of the business men of Louisville are just now proscribing the Democrat, Courier and Times, for expressing their honest sentiments in regard to the tyrannical and partial course pursued by the Know Nothing officials of that city, and other matters relative to Know Nothingism in Louisville,—nearly all the Know Nothing business houses having withdrawn their advertisements and subscription from those papers. As was the case with us when we commenced an uncompromising war upon the Know Nothings of this country, we learn the Democrats and Old Line Whigs are making up the loss in fivefold proportion, and that those papers are doing a larger business than at any former period. The better portion of the Know Nothings, when they had cooled off a little, and calmly reviewed the matter, came back to us, and are now as good as advertising patrons as we have; as a large number of those who are now proscribing the Democratic papers of Louisville will do, when they come to their senses.

"Lapping."
At the Republican meeting, last Saturday week, MORTON C. HUNTER made a valiant attack against the county officers, especially that honest and faithful public officer, ELIAS ABEL, late Treasurer of Monroe County. Mr. HUNTER charged that the delinquent taxes amounted to $3,500. The manner in which he arrived at his conclusion is very amusing. He went back several years, and added together the delinquent taxes for each year, when in fact the delinquent taxes of the preceding years are brought up, and included in those of each year. He would have arrived at the true result by examining the duplicate for 1854-'5, the delinquent taxes for the preceding years being included in that, and the aggregate will not exceed $1500.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—The May No. of this excellent Magazine has been received. It is finely illustrated, and like the month for which it is published, looks fresh and blooming. Every lady in the land should take Godey. Price $3; or two copies for $5.

Romance in Real Life.
"Go in, lemons, and get squeezed!"
"Truth is stranger than fiction" is a trite proverb. Bloomington is remarkable for romantic incidents, one of the most notable of which occurred a few days ago.—On Monday of last week, Mr. LAWRENCE ROBEY, of Bullitt county, Kentucky, a widower in search of a wife, came to Bloomington, distinguished throughout the State for her beautiful ladies. Early on Tuesday morning, Mr. ROBEY commenced his search for a wife. Being a total stranger in the place, he had, of course, to "go it blind." He had a friend with him, however, who assisted him somewhat in his negotiations. He went over to the westside of town, accompanied by one or two persons, where he found a young man making mortar, of whom the inquiry was made if he knew of any young lady who wanted to marry.

He exhibited, at the same time, in writing, a pedigree or description of his parts and qualities, in the following words and figures, to-wit:
"Larance Robey of Bullitt Co. Ky age 43 years occupation Farmer Sldley grayed headed Character unblemishd owns a Batful farm and is worth $5,000 has bin married but his wife has bin Dead 2 years and he has no children."

The above pedigree, we believe, was made out by a friend, and not by Mr. ROBEY himself, as his chirography was somewhat neglected in his youth.

At this juncture, Mr. WILLIAM B. comes up, and informs Mr. ROBEY that he has a daughter, aged about 17, and that he will speak to her on the subject. Being away from home, she is sent for.—Comes home and dresses up, when the gallant Mr. ROBEY is introduced to her. He draws his chair up—has a pleasant interview—proposes to give her all his property, worth $5,000, at his death, if she will marry him. Her maiden coyness is taken for assent, and Mr. ROBEY takes his leave, fondly imagining that his hopes are to be realized. On the same day, or the next, Mr. ROBEY goes back to see her. He approaches the house with buoyant feelings and pulse-quickenig anticipations,—his mind dwelling upon the glorious future, whose rapturous visions were about to become enchanting realities. Alas! for the vanity of human hopes!

"All that's bright must fade,
The brightest still the fleetest."

The young lady bursts out a-crying, and says she has but one objection, she doesn't love him well enough!

But "faint heart never won fair lady,"—our hero is not discouraged. He next calls on Miss MARTHA O., on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock, and before 11 they are engaged to be married!

"Oh! there are looks and tones that dart
An instant sunshine through the heart,
As if the soul that minute caught
Some treasure it through life had sought;
As if the very lips and eyes
Predestined to have all our sighs,
And never be forgot again,
Sparkled and spoke before us then."

We omitted to mention, at the proper place, that Mr. ROBEY had courted two ladies in Bullitt county, and was about to marry each, (not both,) but the matches were broken off by the interference of his relatives. Whereupon he made a vow that he would come out to Indiana, and marry the poorest lady he could find, just for spite. It is further a remarkable fact in the history of Mr. ROBEY that he was never more than twenty miles from home before, although he is slightly "gray-headed" and forty-three years old. On the same day the license was procured from the Clerk, and the girl being poor, Mr. ROBEY advanced $30 for a wedding dinner, and a considerable sum for a splendid wedding attire for the bride. He also made a marriage settlement, by deed, upon his intended wife, of $4,000 worth of real estate. On Monday morning they were married, and started off on the cars.

Assassin.
We have a word to say to the young lady who found a book of ours and wrote in it "A. B. CARLTON, the assassin" (!) We love that young lady. We admire her spirit. We wouldn't assassinate her for anything in the world. She is too kind and accommodating.—Wonder if she is the young lady who "laid down the spoils?"

[For the News-Letter.]
MR. EDITOR:—An anxious inquirer desires to know whether the delinquent taxes of Monroe county could not be found by consulting Dr. ROBACK, the celebrated astrologer of Cincinnati.
X. Y. Z.

Democratic Mass Meeting.
The Democracy of Monroe County will hold a Mass Meeting at the Court House in Bloomington, on Saturday, the 10th day of May, (the last day of the Circuit Court,) for the purpose of appointing delegates to the Congressional Convention to be held at Columbus, in Bartholomew county, on Wednesday, the 11th day of June next.

By order of the Executive Committee.
MR. JOSEPH M. HOWE has just received a large stock of Fancy Dress Goods, such as French worked Collars, Berages, Challies, all wool DeLaines, Bonnets, Ribbons, Flowers, &c. Our lady friends should go and examine Mr. Howe's assortment.
The whole Democratic ticket has been elected at Trenton, N. J., by about 230 majority.

"Got a Cauld."
While considerable numbers of the fusion party in the southern part of the State yet cry out, with a feeble voice, "Great is Sam," nearly all the fusionists of the northern and central portions of the State are decidedly in favor of Sambo.—The abolitionists of Indiana who have swallowed up all the other factions of the opposition, will control the fusion party.—The genuine abolitionists prefer the natural smell of Sambo. In order to accommodate the free-soilers they rub him down with pomatum; still he smells awfully like a gourd patch. In Bloomington, and in this portion of the State generally, the fusionists don't know exactly what to do, since the Philadelphia Know Nothing Convention. They have taken a troublesome oath of fealty to "Sam," and they don't like the idea of being posted as "perjured villains." Sam and Sambo have dissolved partnership, and they can't serve two masters. Will they follow the master whom they have sworn to support, or the woolly-headed chieftain? The Know Nothings of this neighborhood have generally preserved an ominous silence upon the subject, since the Philadelphia Convention. They are mortified and dumbfounded.

The President of the Know Nothings of Monroe county, a gentleman of the legal profession, made a big speech at the Republican Mass Meeting last Saturday week. His standing as a man and a politician would have warranted us in expecting that he would have argued the great questions that agitate the nation. But no. He said not one word about the Kansas or Know Nothing questions,—but contented himself with an attack on the county officers. The Know Nothings of this place have been badly sold. They feel discouraged. Speak to them of the relative positions of Sam and Sambo, and they are suddenly siezed with a violent "cauld," as was the fox in the fable related by the Irishman:

"Once there was a lion that wanted to know how polite all the basties were. So he made a great smell in his den with brimstone, or something else—I don't mind what just—but it smelt enough to knock you down entirely; and then he called in the bear, and says he, 'Good morning, Mr. Bear, and what d'ye think of the smell here this morning?' and says the bear, says he, 'Why it smells bad.' 'What's that you say?' says the lion, 'take that,' says he, (ating him up altogether,) 'take that, and see if it will tache ye politeness, ye unmannerly son of a cub!' Now, when the bear was at up, the lion called in the monkey, and asked him the same question precisely. Now the monkey seeing the bear that the lion had swallowed lying dead in the corner, says he, 'May it please your Majesty,' says he, 'it's just the most delightful smell I ever smelt in my life, at all, at all.' 'So it is,' said the lion, (patting him on the head, aisy like, so as to bate the breath clane out of his body,) 'so it is,' said he, 'and now you'll not tell another lie soon, I'm thinking.'"

"Now when the lion had kilt the bear and the monkey, he called in the fox to him, and says he, (looking very savage, and ready to ate him up, if he should make the laste fox paw at all,) 'Good morning, Fox,' says he, 'how does my parlor smelt to-day?' And says the fox, (wiping his nose with the brush of his tail, and pulling down his eyelid with his paw, as much as to say, 'do you see any green there, my honesty?') 'Faith,' says he, 'may it please your Majesty, I've a very bad cauld this morning, and it's me that can't smelt, at all, at all!' So the lion laughed, and tould the fox he was a very clever baste, and that he might tread in his foot-steps if he could straddle wide enough, and that all the other basties should mind him, or he would ate them up as he had done the bear."

The advertising columns of the London Times are estimated to yield the establishment the enormous sum of $3,000,000 per annum. One firm alone pays as high as $150,000 for advertising, and there are several business establishments that pay it over $50,000 a year, for advertising alone.

Democratic Club.
The meeting last Saturday night was not well attended. The "unfettered" ought to wake up.

A SEASONABLE MEDICINE.—It is a well-known fact that during the spring and fall such changes in the human system occur as to render a valuable medicine necessary to restore the disturbed balance of the combined organs of the body. To effect this desirable purpose we know of no other remedy equal in efficacy to HURLEY'S SARSAPARILLA. As a purifier of the blood, its powers are unsurpassed, and extensive experience proves it a real blessing to suffering humanity; we therefore can conscientiously recommend this specific to persons of either sex, and every age, and with the full assurance that they will hereafter thank us for the advice.
N. O. Delta.

This wonderful and valuable spring remedy can be obtained at Dr. ORR'S.

She that marries a man because he is a "good match," must not be surprised if he turns out a Lucifer.

"Have you read my last speech?" said a pro- orator the other day to a friend. "I hope so," was the satisfactory reply.

The Boston Post says that new trials in the American courts, are to attorneys what relapses are to physicians.

Hood says that artistic enthusiasm is like turtle soup—for one quart of real there are hogheads of false, and calves' head in proportion.

CONTRARY TO SCRIPTURE.—A cotemporary, speaking of the FILLMORE and DONELSON team, says that it is contrary to Scripture for an ox and an ass to plow together.

Mrs. HUBBARD wife of the HUBBARD who was hung at Wabash, Indiana, a short time ago for the murder of the French family, has been convicted as an accessory in that awful crime, and sentenced to confinement in the Penitentiary for life.

[For the News-Letter]
A Dream.
"Sleep hath its own world, and a wide Realm of wild reality."—BROOKS.
While sleep relieved my burning brain,
My fair young bride came back again;
Not pale and thin, as on the day
The angels beckoned her away,
But lovely, as when by my side,
She stood, a fair and blushing bride.
I felt her warm breath on my cheek,
And her soft hand on my brow,
And heard her sweet lips murm'ring speak,
So soft so sad and low.
Around me twined her milk-white arms,
Against my cheek her bosom's charms;
And then she told me she had come
To be my angel minister;
That often from her blessed home,
When my spirit leaped to her,
She hovered like an unseen dove,
And pointed to her home of love,
Where reunited, by my side,
Should smile again my long-lost bride.
I awoke;—the spirit fled
To the mansions of the dead,
While with burning tears I sighed
For her who in her sweet youth died!
Alas! alas, for the lovely dead!
The grass is green above her head,—
But time and age can ne'er efface
The memory of that angel face.

GLAUCUS.

Pulpit Politics.
In the May No. of Harper's Magazine, we find a long article in the Editor's Table, under the caption of "THE AMERICAN PULPIT;" in which the writer argues with great force against the preachers intermeddling with politics. We are glad HARPER has taken up this subject. The Magazine has a hundred and fifty thousand readers, and although many persons are so fanatical that they would not hearken to one risen from the dead, yet there are thousands who have been led by the nose by the preachers long enough, and their eyes are beginning to open. The "SHARPE'S rifle" addenda to the New Testament will not suit the true Christians of this country. We give below a few extracts from HARPER:

"The effect of intellectual secularization begins to be mournfully apparent in the American Ministry. Every man of religious observation knows that the Gospel is not generally preached in this country as it was thirty years since. The merchant is minus his statistics, and the ledger is spread out in the pages of the Sunday sermon. And the politicians, long left to their stumps and platforms in unrivaled solitude, wonder what next, when they find their arts departing for cushioned pulpits. With a change of topics has come a corresponding change of language, figurative illustration and style. The short, abrupt, torpedo sentence—the playful suspense and the sudden surprise—the sharp, angular turns—the wit that arms a thought like a protruding sting, or the piercing satire that comes like a serpent's fang, with a serpent's hiss—all these are admired and coveted as the intellectual and moral forces of the new school of dexterity. * * * Turning, however, from that bright page in the annals of the American pulpit, it is sad to think that of late years, its influence over the minds of our countrymen has been threatened with diminution, if not indeed with decay. * * * The confidence of thousands of our fellow-citizens is disturbed, and the ministry of the churches is looked upon with some distrust. We cannot hide this fact from our eyes. It meets us everywhere. Our newspapers, our literature, our conversation and public addresses, indicate it too clearly for any honest man to deny or disguise it. * * * There is just ground for complaint. Confess we must, that our pulpit is forgetting, in numerous instances, its peculiar mission, and descending from its exclusive work to embroil its spirit and soil its garments in contact with the world. It is diverting its talents to false issues—issues aside from its own definite line of action. It is guilty of partisanship. It is pandering to unhealthy passions, and stirring up strife among brethren.—We repeat that, in many cases, it is obnoxious to this charge. Its own acts have awakened a sentiment of hostility, and not a few of the best men of the country are affected by it. The evil is now in its incipient stage, and it can be remedied. One course must be pursued, and matters will come right again, viz: the American pulpit must banish everything from its discussions and appeals except the simple proclamation of the Gospel as Jesus Christ taught it."

The Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun says:
It has been evident for some time that the Republicans were in trouble for a standard-bearer, and hesitated whether to adopt Mr. Seward, the ablest of her leaders, or not. But Mr. Seward's late speech has settled the question. His nomination, through the Courier and Enquirer, is placed on grounds which the party cannot dispute.
Mr. Seward has made the issue for the Black Republicans in his speech and in his substitute for Judge Douglas' Kansas State Bill. The issue is the immediate admission of Kansas 'with her present Constitution,' adopted by a spurious convention, and followed up by a bogus legislature, whose proceedings the Senate has just refused, by an overwhelming majority, to recognize.

Henry Ward Beecher has the fortune, or rather the misfortune, of keeping those who pin their theology and morals to his skirts, in uncomfortably hot water—while the Reverend thumper of pulpits and star-line of the Independent occasionally puts his own foot in the warm fluid. One set of his admirers, being disposed to sympathise with the peace doctrines of the Gospel, have been shocked at preaching an armed crusade in behalf of Abolition in Kansas, though their surprise at such unclerical conduct has doubtless been tempered by the uncontradicted statement of some of our cotemporaries, that the rampant Brooklyn Parson has a pecuniary interest in the patent and manufacture of Sharpe's rifles, apart from a handsome commission on all of his rifles sold under the influence of his preaching.—N. Y. Mirror.

Pulpernickel says that a woman's heart is the "most sweetest" thing in the world; in fact a perfect honeycomb—full of sells. Bee-ware.

Sentence of Mr. Greatrake.
PITTSBURGH, April 18.
Wm. A. Greatrake, convicted of seduction under promise of marriage, of Miss Mary Murray, a young woman employed as a compositor on one of the daily papers of this city, was to-day sentenced to two years imprisonment in the Western State Penitentiary.
Official from Nicaragua.
WASHINGTON, April 18.
Dispatches from Col. Wheeler to the government, mention that Col. Sclesinger's retreat was not the result of a defeat by the Costa Ricans, but a stroke of successful policy superinduced by the large and overwhelming force of the enemy.

Ravages of the Cholera.
NEW YORK, April 18.
A letter from Pernambuco, dated March 15th, states that the cholera was raging there to a fearful extent—2,100 persons having died.
The Brazilian steamer Marquis Deschinde, was lately lost near Rio Janeiro.

Southern Mail.
BALTIMORE, April 18.
New Orleans papers of Saturday have been received. They contain Very Cruz dates to the 8th inst.
The country was still in an unsettled condition, although the Insurgents had been defeated at Puebla.

In consequence of the clergy having been the principal fermentors of the disturbance, the Government has issued an edict forfeiting the property of the church. The edict is very severe against any person who may conceal or assist the clergy in concealing the property forfeited. The Bishop of Puebla refused to deliver the books containing statements and accounts of the property of the church; thereupon the officers in that city proceeded to enforce the surrender, and repaired to the Episcopal palace accompanied by troops. On reaching the gates, a notice was found posted, in which the Bishop declared all who assisted in the enforcement of the Government decree to be excommunicated. Notwithstanding this the Government officials proceeded to take possession of the property.

THE TRIUMPH COMPLETE.—The Democratic triumph in the State is complete. The returns come in better and better. Since the State election of 1847, the opposition party has not been so thoroughly routed.—We have certainly carried eight-tenths of the Supervisors, and our present impression is that the Democratic popular majority will not be less than six thousand! and it is very likely to reach seven thousand!

This is the first gun of the Presidential campaign from the North-west. The glorious sound booms over the Union, and carries gladness to tens of thousands of patriotic hearts. It announces the great fact that the rebellion is fairly under way, and that its progress is irresistible.—Detroit Free Press, 11th.

Big Ship.
The N. Y. Herald, speaking of the enormous new ships Persia and Adriatic—in the rival Cunard and Collins steamship lines—says:

But these gigantic vessels shrink into insignificance when compared with the mammoth iron steamer which is now in process of construction at London for the Eastern Steam Navigation Company. Her length is 680 feet; her draft of water when loaded is 28 feet, her register 28,000 tons, and is to be propelled by a gigantic screw 23 feet in diameter, and by four paddles, besides the sails which she will carry, and for which she will have seven masts. With this motive power it is calculated that her average speed will be twenty-three knots an hour. Besides a large number of life boats, she is to carry, eight small screw steamers, each 118 feet long. These will be employed in taking on board and landing passengers and cargo, as it will be impossible for her to approach near the shore, in accommodations will be ample enough for 600 Orsi first class passengers, 1,800 second class, and 10,000 troops, with all their field equipments. The estimated cost of this leviathan, which we understand is to be called the "Great Eastern," is over one and a half million dollars.

TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.
The Monroe County Teachers' Association will meet at the College Chapel, in Bloomington, on the 3d of May, at 10 o'clock, a. m. There will be several addresses delivered on subjects highly interesting to teachers, and all lovers of learning. The public are invited to attend. And it is hoped that the teachers throughout the different parts of the county will come up to the help of those who have engaged in this enterprise.—We would be glad to see our lady friends present, especially those who have been engaged in teaching.
By order of the Committee,
April 26 1854.—Sw2
H. RIDDLE, Sec'y.

EVERY READER will please notice the advertisement descriptive of Mr. SEARS' PICTORIAL FAMILY BIBLE, and send for the printed catalogue of all our Illustrated works.

To the uninitiated in the great art of selling books we would say that we present a scheme for making money, which is far better than all the gold mines of California and Australia.

Any person wishing to embark in the enterprise will risk little by sending to the publisher $25, for which he will receive sample copies of the various works, (at wholesale prices,) carefully boxed, insured and directed, affording a very liberal per centage to the agent for his trouble. With these he will soon be able to ascertain the most saleable and order accordingly.
Address,
ROBERT SEARS, Publisher,
8m2
181 William st., New York.

MILL SACKS in store and for sale by SLIDER & TIBBETTS.

GRINDSTONES—Nova Scotia Grindstones, superior to the French Lick stone, for sale by S. & T.

A LARGE and beautiful assortment of Prints, ranging from 6 1/4 to 12 cents per yard, in store and for sale by S. & T.

AROLD'S WRITING FLUID for sale by S. & T.

FANCY and Plain Gingham and common Lawns, rating at from 30 to 12 1/2 cents, for sale by S. & T.

SILK BONNETS, rating at from $1.25 to $3.00.—Panama, Leghorn and Chip Hats, in store and for sale by S. & T.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.
New Spring Goods!!
GEO. H. JOHNSTON is now receiving his new stock of Spring and Summer Goods, which comprises a very splendid assortment of the newest and most fashionable styles and best brands of English and American PLAIN AND FANCY PRINTS,
Also dress and apron Silks, cottonades, brown and bleached muslins, de beges, de laines, alpaccas, lawns, silk and cashmerette shawls, and notions of endless variety; also a large and complete assortment of READY-MADE CLOTHING,
Suitable for the season; also a very ample stock of men's and boy's silk and soft hats, palm-leaf, Panama and leghorn do.
A very large stock of Groceries, coffee, rice, tar, brooms, &c., and sugar and molasses, in barrels and half barrels.
Queenware, Hardware, Cutlery and Nails.
BOOTS AND SHOES.
In a word we have everything usually kept in a country store, which we offer as low as can be soled in any house in town.
GEORGE H. JOHNSTON.
All kinds of produce taken in exchange for goods, as usual.

An Elegant GIFT for a Father to Present to His Family.
Price only SIX DOLLARS, well and substantially bound.

Christian Reader, have you a Family Bible?
Secure without delay this precious gift for your wife and children—

AMERICAN PICTORIAL BOOK ESTABLISHMENT,
No 181 William st., New York, 1856.
DEAR SIR—The object of this circular is to call your attention to a new and valuable enterprise in which I have engaged, in connection with my other Pictorial Publications. The work to which I allude is

Sears' Large Type Quarto Bible,
FOR FAMILY USE, ENTITLED THE PEOPLE'S PICTORIAL DOMESTIC BIBLE.

BEING
THE OLD AND NEW TESTAMENTS,
According to the Authorized Version:
Illustrated with about one thousand Engravings

REPRESENTING THE Historical Events, Landscape Scenes, Antiquities, Costumes, Beasts, Birds, Insects, Plants and Trees, Minerals, Coins, Medals, Inscriptions, from the most authentic Sources: WITH 50,000 MARGINAL REFERENCES.

TO WHICH ARE ADDED
Ancient Chronology, by Abraham Calovius; a Summary of the whole Scripture; an accurate copper-plate Map of Palestine; a beautiful engraved Family Record, &c., &c.

Each chapter commences with an illuminated letter. This is, without doubt, the cheapest and best Family Bible in the market. It is destined, if we can form an opinion from the notices of the Press, to have an unprecedented circulation in every section of our wide-spread continent, and to form a distinct era in the sale of our works. This useful book will no doubt in a few years become THE FAMILY BIBLE OF THE AMERICAN PEOPLE.

The whole printed upon superior paper, and substantially bound in one quarto volume of FIFTEEN HUNDRED PAGES.

IF The Text, together with the Marginal References, is printed from the standard edition of the American Bible Society.

ROBERT SEARS, Publisher,
181 William street, New York.

A WORK OF NATIONAL IMPORTANCE
Sold Exclusively by Subscription.

HISTORY OF THE AMERICAN PRIVATEERS AND LETTERS OF MARQUE,
During our war with England, in the years 1812, 13, '14. Interspersed with several Naval Battles between American and British ships of war.

By GEORGE COCKSALL, Author of "Voyages to the Various Parts of the World." In one handsome 8vo volume, printed on fine paper, with large type, of about 500 pages. Illustrated with six spirited illustrations. Bound in cloth, $2.00; cloth gilt, $2.50.

CHARLES T. EVANS,
Publisher's Agent, 321 Broadway, N. Y.

Several agents are wanted to canvass for this work, also for general other works that are having a large sale. Liberal commissions will be given. Address C. T. Evans, box 4553, N. Y. Post Office.

SCHOOL NOTICE.
THE BLOOMINGTON FEMALE SCHOOL
HERETOFORE conducted by Professor SINEX, will be continued under the supervision of Mrs. Alexander. The next session will commence on the first Monday in May, 1856. Scale of prices unchanged, but required to be paid in advance. Sw3

NOTICE.
NOTICE is hereby given that the undersigned has been appointed administrator of the estate of Larkin Reynolds, deceased. Said estate is solvent.
HENRY WORLEY, Adm'r.
April 22 1856.—Sw3

RENEWAL OF NEW SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS AT

TULEY & ROBINSON'S
South Side of the Public Square.

OUR stock is now complete in all the following departments, and will be found worthy of inspection: Black and Fancy Silks, Tissues, Barges, Lawns and Challies, Muslins and Calico, Embroideries, Laces, Hosiery and Gloves, Bonnets and Ribbons, De Laines, Gingham, Wreaths and Flowers, Cloths, Cassimeres and Vestings, Hats and Caps, Boots and Shoes, Umbrellas and Parasols.

Also a large stock of DRESS TRIMMINGS, VELVET and MOIRE ANTIQUE, with our usual large stock of

READY MADE CLOTHING, HARDWARE, CUTLERY, and all kinds of

GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS.
We would call particular attention to our stock of summer goods for men's and boys' wear; in short every department has received additions.

The success since our commencement in business, gives us the utmost confidence in our goods, and we gladly take the opportunity to return our customers generally our sincere thanks for their kind support. We think we are justified in saying we have done everything in our power to oblige our customers, and for their interest we lay out small profit on our goods, and in the selection of them give our friends the benefit of all the skill and judgment which our experience enables us to command. This we pledge ourselves to continue to do, and as we look forward to an increasing business, we shall try, by strict personal attention, to merit the kind preference of those who may favor us with their orders, as a single trial will be sufficient to convince all that a real saving will be effected by purchasing at this establishment.
Bloomington, April 19.—7tf

PUBLIC NOTICE.
A CONGREGATIONAL MEETING will be held at the usual place of worship of the Presbyterian Church, (N. S.) Bloomington, on Wednesday, April 30th, at 7 o'clock, p. m., for the purpose of electing Trustees for said church. Tw2

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.
ALL persons indebted to the firm of J. T. COX & CO., are requested to come forward and settle up, as the style of the firm has changed, and the business will henceforth be carried on by COX & SPRINGER. April 19.—7w3.

LADIES wanting Dress Goods, bonnets, ribbons, &c. (white goods, &c. etc.), would do well to call at A. HELTON & SON'S store. 7tf

GLASS LAMPS.—A superior lot just received and for sale by [4w3] WOODARD & BUCHANAN.

WINNIE AND I, for sale by W. & B. [4w3]

TO PRINTERS.

Having made arrangements to fit up the News-Letter in a new dress, the Small Pica and Long Primer on which this paper is now printed, will be far sale after the 1st of August. This type will work well for three or four years yet. We will sell it at half the foundry price.

Agents for the News-Letter.

A. C. PARKS, Ellettsville; JOSEPH SANDERS, Stanford;
JAS. P. MORGAN, " "
SAMUEL B. PERRY, Smithville;
J. J. ALEXANDER, Unionville;
IVY C. BENDER, " "
JOSEPH SREAN, Harrodsburg;
DR. WARE S. WALKER, Mount Tabor;
JOHN H. BRYANT, Bedford;
ROBERT M. CANNON, Lawrence Co.; W. W. OWENS, Guthrie, Lawrence Co.;
DR. ZIRA FOWLE, Hellsboro, " "
NOAH BRIDWELL, Springville, " "
DAVID L. SHERK, Mitchell, " "
WILLIAM WILKINS, Washington, Daviess Co.;
CAPT. ALEXANDER, Gosport; BASIL MEEK, Searcy, " "
DAVID BUTLER, White Hall;
MONROE MASSE, Nashville;
HON. W. K. EDWARDS, Terre Haute;
DR. J. N. CONNELLY, Bloomfield;
DR. J. J. JOHNSON, Morgantown;
A. GARMONCHER, Center Township, Greene Co.
J. W. CARMICHAEL, " "

Suicide.

On last Wednesday evening, BENJAMIN CAMPBELL, who resided near Mt. Tabor, in this county, committed suicide by hanging himself with a rope, in the garret of his dwelling house.—Supposed cause, domestic troubles.

Some one has presented PRENTICE of the Louisville with Journal an eagle. The editor promises to set the captive free when FILLMORE is elected. Poor bird, he is destined to life-long captivity.

HOMES, the locksmith, has picked one of BANQUO's gory locks; he did it with a pickaxe. He is now at work on a wed-lock.

CANDIDATES.

We are authorized to announce AMBROSE D. CRUMMEY, of Brown Co., a candidate for Prosecuting Attorney for the Common Pleas Court, at the approaching October election.

COMMERCIAL.

From the New Albany Ledger.

THE NEW ALBANY MARKET.

Flour—$5 75c @ 6c for country brands. City mills are selling at $6 00.
Grain—Wheat $1 00 @ 1 05. Corn 25 @ 30c. Oats 25 @ 30c.
Groceries—Sales office at 12 1/2 @ 13c. Sugar fine at 6 @ 7c by the bbl. @ 9c by the bbl. Molasses, plantation, 40 @ 41c.
Bacon and Lard—We quote clear sides at 8 @ 8 1/2c; shoulders, 6 @ 6 1/2c; plain hams 8 @ 8 1/2c from wagon; prime lard in bbl. 8c, keg 8 1/2c.
Salt—Sales are made at 35c by the 50 bbls, and 38c retail, drayage added.
Cornmeal—40 @ 45c.
Rice—40 @ 61c.
Fruit—Dried Apples 8c, and Peaches $1 25.
Cotton Yarns—No. 5 500, 600, and 700, we quote at $1. 90, 10 1/2.
Cotton Baling—No. 1, 12 @ 12 1/2c.
Lead and Shot—Pig Lead at 7 1/2c, and Bar at 8c.
Shot $2 00 @ 2 10 per lb.
Oils—Pure Castor Oil $1 95 per gal. by the quantity. Tanners $2 25 per bbl. Lard Oil 85 @ 90c in lots. Lined Oil $1 05 @ 1 10.
Nails—Sales at 3 1/2c, 4 1/2c, 5c, for 10, 8, 6, and 4 1/2, by the quantity.
Iron—3c in large lots.
Tar—$4 00 @ 5 00.
Coal—Pittsburgh 13.
Hay—$12 @ 13.
Potatoes—75 @ 80 per bush.
Onions—Dull at 40 @ 50c per bushel.
White Beans—We quote at $1 50.
Rags, Feathers, Ginseng, &c.—Rags we quote at 3 @ 1 1/2c, as per quality. Feathers we quote at 35c from the country. Ginseng we quote at 25c. Beeswax 18 @ 20c from the country.
Manufactured Tobacco—Common 12 1/2c, choice and extra brands 25 @ 35c.
Glass—Sales of 8x10, country manufacture, in lots, at $3 50; Pittsburgh manufacture, $4 00; sales of 10x12, country manufacture, $4 @ 4 50; Pittsburgh manufacture, $4 50 @ 5; larger sizes ranging from 12x14 to 12x18 from $5 50 @ $7 in lots. Sales to the country are made at a small advance on our quotations.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT AND PILLS Certain remedies for Rheumatism.—Henry Foot, aged 52, of Natchez, Mississippi, was a severe sufferer from this complaint, and tried a number of reputed remedies, hoping they would benefit him, but he became so bad at last, as to be entirely confined to his bed, and he was unable to move hand or foot. While in this horrible condition, a friend brought him a quantity of Holloway's Ointment and Pills, which he immediately commenced using, and soon found himself gradually improved by them, and by persevering with them for 11 weeks, he was entirely cured, and has since enjoyed the best of health.

PIANOS AND MUSIC.—We learn that HORACE WATERS, of 333 Broadway, N. Y., agent for the sale of many of the most celebrated makers of Pianos and Melodeons, is offering them at prices which we advise all who desire to purchase to avail themselves of, as an opportunity not likely often to occur. He is also selling his large and well-known Catalogue of Music at one-third off from the regular prices, and will send the same free of postage. This offers to the trade, teachers, and schools, one of the most favorable character—all of which he will be able to fill to the letter, for having wisely adopted the cash system. The Horace Waters Pianos are known as among the very best. We are enabled to speak of these instruments with some degree of confidence, from personal knowledge of their excellent tone and durable quality.—N. Y. Evangelist. m29

THE COURTS.

Courts in the Sixth Circuit—Spring of 1856. Sullivan county begins Monday, Feb. 25—1 week.
Vigo " " " " Mar. 3—3 " Clay " " " " 24—1 " Putnam " " " " 31—3 " Greene " " " " April 14—3 " Montgomery " " " " 28—3 " Morgan " " " " May 12—2 " Owen " " " " 26—2 "

Monroe Common Pleas Court commences its quarterly sessions on the 3d Mondays in April, July, October, and January; and sits two weeks.

County Commissioners' Court commences its quarterly sessions on the 1st Mondays in June, October, December, and March.

THE MAILS.

Arrivals at and Departures from the Bloomington P. O. From Columbus (by two-horse hack) arrives every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday, at 12 M.; and departs every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, at 10 A. M. From Bloomfield (by hack when necessary) arrives every Tuesday and Saturday, at 4 P. M.; and departs every Monday and Friday, at 8 A. M. From Indianapolis, via Martinsville, (by two-horse hack) arrives every Tuesday and Friday, at 12 M.; and departs same days, at 1 P. M. From Point Commerce, via White Hall, (horse-back) arrives every Thursday, at 1 P. M.; and departs same day, at 1:30 P. M.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

FAIRBANKS' CELEBRATED SCALES. INDIANAPOLIS, IND. BROWNING & MAYER, AGENTS. 189 Broadway, New York. FAIRBANKS & CO., AGENTS. 71 1/2 (SMP—Boston Agency.)

NEW STORE. THE LAST ARRIVAL OF Spring and Summer GOODS.

The citizens of Bloomington and of the surrounding country are respectfully solicited to call at the New Store. West Main St., nearly opposite the Court House. Where they may find a complete assortment of well selected Goods; consisting in part of DRY GOODS, CLOTHING, HATS, CAPS AND BONNETS, BOOTS AND SHOES, GROCERIES, HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE, STONWARE AND GLASSWARE. By strict attention, reasonable terms, fair prices and fair dealing, the subscriber expects to merit a share of public patronage. THOMAS MULLIKIN. Bloomington, Ind., April 19, 1856—7tf.

LOUISVILLE BONNET AND RIBBON HOUSE.

The undersigned, at his Establishment, 121 MARKET ST. BET. FOURTH AND FIFTH. Has now in store the largest Stock of BONNETS, RIBBONS, FRENCH AND AMERICAN FLOWERS, MISSES PLATS AND HATS, CRAPES, RUCHES, STRAW TRIMMINGS, Frames, Crowns, Wires, and other MILLINERY GOODS, TO BE FOUND IN THIS MARKET. Having a resident purchaser in New York, and dealing exclusively in the above named goods, we can and will offer inducements to merchants and others in stock and prices, which cannot be equaled in the city. Specie-paying Free Bank paper taken at par. JOHN H. CANNON. Louisville, April 19, 1856—7m2

A. HELTON & SON.

WOULD respectfully announce that they are now in receipt of their unusually large and well-selected stock of SPRING AND SUMMER GOODS. It is unnecessary to enumerate even an outline of their stock, further than to say that it consists of a good variety of such goods as are suited to their trade.—Their stock, this season, presents unusual attractions in regard to quality, styles and prices. Having selected their goods with the greatest care in the eastern market, with a particular view to the wants of their customers, they have great confidence in assuring their customers that they will prove entirely satisfactory. Be sure to give them a call before purchasing elsewhere. A. HELTON & SON have just received a very large lot of and inviting stock of spring and summer goods. Give them a call.

THE MODEL SCHOOL.

THE next session of this School will open on the 1st of May. Tuition fees will be required in advance. TERMS. Orthography, reading and writing..... $3 50 Primary Geography and Mental Arithmetic 4 00 Written Arithmetic, Geography, English Grammar..... 4 50 Natural Philosophy, Algebra, &c..... 5 00 D. E. HUNTER, Teacher. April 19, 1856—7w3

INFORMATION WANTED.

THE undersigned wishes to learn the whereabouts of Mrs. John Carr, who is supposed to be living in some part of the coal region of Pennsylvania. I have had no word from her since I came to this country, more definite than the above. Information of her whereabouts sent to the "News-Letter" Office; Bloomington, Ind., will reach me. Pennsylvania papers, in the neighborhood of the coal country, will confer a great favor on the undersigned, (Mrs. Carr's brother) by publishing the above among the news matter, including this notice. BRYAN LESLIE. 7w3

A MARVELOUS REMEDY FOR A MARVELOUS AGE!!

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT.

THE GRAND EXTERNAL REMEDY. BY the aid of a microscope, we see millions of little openings on the surface of our bodies. Through these these openings, when rubbed on the skin, is carried to any organ or inward part. Diseases of the kidneys, disorders of the liver, affections of the heart, inflammation of the lungs, asthma, coughs and colds, are by it effectually cured. Every housewife knows that salt passes freely through bone or meat of any thickness. This healing Ointment far more readily penetrates through any bone or fleshy part of the living body, curing the most dangerous inward complaints, that cannot be reached by any other medicine. ERYSIPELAS, SALT RHEUM & SCORBUTIC HUMORS. No remedy has ever done so much for the cure of diseases of the skin, as when rubbed on they may assume, as this ointment. No case of salt rheum, scurvy, sore head, scrofula or erysipelas can long withstand its influence. The inventor has traveled over many parts of the globe, visiting the principal hospitals, and dispensing this ointment, giving advice as to its application, and has, thus been the means of restoring countless numbers to health. SORE LEGS, SORE BREASTS, WOUNDS AND ULCERS. Some of the most scientific surgeons now rely solely on the use of this wonderful ointment, when having to cope with the worst cases of sores, wounds, ulcers, glandular swellings and tumors. Prof. Holloway has, by command of the allied governments, dispatched to the East, large shipments of this ointment, to be used under the direction of the medical staff, in the worst cases of wounds. It will cure any ulcer, glandular swelling, stiffness or contraction of the joints, even 20 years' standing. PILES AND FISTULAS. These and other distressing complaints can be effectually cured if the ointment is well rubbed in over the part affected, and by otherwise following the printed directions around each pot. Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following Cases: Bunions, Burns, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Fistulas, Gout, Lumbago, Mercurial Eruptions, Piles, Rheumatism, Salt Rheum, Skin Diseases, Sore Legs, Sore Breasts, Sore Heads, Sore Throats, Sores of all kinds, Sprains, Scalds, Swelled Glands, Stiff Joints, Ulcers, Venereal Sores, Wounds of all kinds. *Sold at the manufacture of Professor HOLLOWAY, 88 Maiden Lane, New York, and 244 Strand, London, and by all respectable Druggists and dealers in Medicines throughout the United States and the civilized world, in pots, at 25 cents, 62 1/2 cents and $1 each. *There is a considerable saving by taking the larger sizes. N. B. Directions for the guidance of patients in every disorder, are affixed to each pot. 6

New York Advertisements.

FROM ALBERT G. RICHARDSON'S Advertising and Corresponding Office, 365 Broadway, (opposite the Park,) New York.

ROBILS vs. FRIS.

Robinson's Patent Gridiron against the Frying Pan!! It is a well known fact that meat broiled is much more palatable, tender and healthful than when fried. All sliced meats ought to be broiled. The New Gridiron is as convenient as the frying pan, and much more economical. Having a downward draught, it takes all the smoke through its own chimney, cooks the meat entirely through in its own juices without burning it, saves all the fat, reduces the meat bills full 25 per cent, and can be used over a wood or coal fire. Price for the round 10 inches diameter,..... $2 00 " " square 9 by 14 inches,..... 2 25 " " oblong 7 by 16 inches,..... 2 00 " " 8 by 15,..... 2 00 " " 9 by 21,..... 2 00 We will send by express, prepaid, one or more of these sizes to any part of the United States, east of the Mississippi, (or not far west of it,) on receipt of the price. Money may be sent by mail, 'registered,' at our risk. Agents wanted in every county, town, and city in the Union. Circulars with full description sent on application. Address. AMERICAN & FOREIGN PATENT AGENCY CO. April 19—7yl. 79 Duane st., New York.

CRISTADORO'S HAIR DYE STILL TRIUMPHANT!

CONTRAST the facts brought out in the hair by Cristadoro's coloring and revivifying HAIR DYE, and those produced by the application of the burning fluids ordinarily sold as Hair Dyes, you see at once that the color is natural in one case, unnatural in the other, and the simple reason is that Cristadoro's is the only preparation which, by its exact chemical combination, operates on natural and immutable principles. Made, sold and applied, (in 10 private rooms) at CRISTADORO'S, 6 Astor House, Broadway, N. York. Also for sale by the principal druggists and perfumers throughout the country. New York Agents, W. H. GARY & Co., and WARD, CLOSE & Co. ap19—7yl.

ENGRAVING AND PRINTING.

FASHIONABLE Wedding, Visiting, Complimentary and Business Cards, Notarial, Consular and Commercial Seals and Seal Presses. Certificates of Stock and Deposit, Bills of Lading and Exchange, Checks, Drafts, Notes of Hand, Bill Heads, Circulars, Show Cards, Labels, and every description of Engraving and every specimen by mail, (on application with P. O. stamp). Orders by mail promptly attended to. Terms reasonable. Address WM. N. DUNNELL, April 19—7m3. 155 Broadway, cor. Dey st. N. Y.

EUROPEAN LAND AND GENERAL AGENCY.

333 Broadway, New York (Up Stairs.) THE subscribers having procured, at a very great expense, complete lists of all Unclaimed Dividends of the Bank of England, East India and South Sea Co.'s Stocks, and also a list of all the Heirs-at-law and next-of-kin advertisements, that have appeared in the European papers during the last century; they have peculiar facilities for prosecuting claims to European property; and as it is the intention of one of the firm to visit Europe annually or oftener, if required, the expense of managing the business there would be but trifling to the claimants, compared to sending a special messenger for that purpose. Search for any one name in the above lists can be made, either personally or by letter, on receipt of One Dollar; and copies of advertisements can be had for a reasonable compensation. J. A. KNIGHT & CO. Also Agents for the Mosher Estate. April 19—7m6.

THE LIBRARY OF STANDARD LETTERS VOL. II.

MASON BROTHERS, NEW YORK, Publish this Day, THE LETTERS OF LADY MARY WORTLEY MONTAGUE. Edited by Mrs. SARAH J. HALE, Authoress of 'Woman's Record,' 'Northwood,' 'Vigil of Love,' &c., being Vol. II. of the 'Library of Standard Letters.' 1 vol. 12mo, 408 pp. Price $1 25. 'The work can scarcely fail of interesting deeply the American reader. Lady Mary lived and wrote in the first half of the eighteenth century when our land was a component part of the British Empire, and consequently her genius and her fame are ours by inheritance. Her letters will be found valuable, as well as amusing, aiding the students of history to catch the manners and opinions of English society in high life, then the dominant power of the realm at the time Benjamin Franklin and his co-patriots in this western world were working out the problem of American independence and popular sovereignty.' Just Published, The Letters of Madame De Sevigne to her Daughter and Friends. Edited by Mrs. SARAH J. HALE. 1 vol. 12mo. Price $1 25. Being Vol. I of the 'Library of Standard Letters.' In Press, The Humorous Poetry of the English Language, from Chaucer to Saxe. Narratives, Satires, Enigmas, Burlesques, Parodies, Travesties, Epigrams, Epitaphs, Translations, including all the most celebrated comic poems from the Anti-Jacobin; Rejected Addresses, Epigrams, Legends, Christmas Carols, Buntings, Blackwood and Punch. With a collection of more than 200 Epigrams, and the choicest humorous poetry of Peter Pindar, Cowper, Lamb, Thackeray, Præd, Swift, Scott, Holmes, 'Anon,' Gay, Burns, Saxe, Southey, Hood, Fryer, Coleridge, Byron, Moore, Lowell, &c. &c. With Notes Explanatory and Biographical, by J. B. PARSON, Author of 'Life of Horace Greeley.' 1 vol. 12mo. Wayside Songs. By E. C. Goodwin, Author of 'Hampton Heights.' 1 vol. 16mo. MASON BROTHERS, Publishers. April 19.—7m1. 108 and 110 Duane st., N. York.

A HUMAN LIFE SAVED!!

J. A. RHODES, Esq., Bath, March 11, 1856. I have sold on consignment, "no cure no pay," I take pleasure in stating its effects as reported to me by three brothers who live in this place, and their testimony is a fair specimen of all I have received: W. S. Conklin told me—"I had taken nine bottles of Rhodes' Fever and Ague Cure, and I was cured. I was while using it, until my lungs and liver were congested to that degree that blood discharged from my mouth and bowels, so that all thought it impossible for me to live through another chill. The doctors too, did all they could for me, but I thought I must die. Nothing else would cure me until I got Rhodes' Fever and Ague Cure, which at once relieved me of the distress and nausea at my stomach, and pain in my head and bowels, and produced a permanent cure in a short time." H. M. Conklin says: "I had been taking medicine as good as a doctor as we have in our country, and taken any quantity of quinine and specifics without any good result, from 25th August to 17th December. But seeing how nicely it operated on my brother, I got a bottle of Rhodes' Fever and Ague Cure, which effected a permanent cure by using two-thirds of a bottle." S. M. Conklin was never better, but the other brother—my case was the same as H. M.'s. I sold the medicine to both the same day, and the cure was as speedy from the same small quantity, and I might so specify. Yours, with respect, A. HUNTINGTON. The above speaks for itself. Good proof is it, is it of no better tenor than the vast number of our certificates have already published, and the still greater number that are continually pouring in to me. One thing more. Last year I had occasion to caution the public in these words: "I notice one firm who have taken one of my general circulars, substituted the name of the medicine, and then with brazen impudence, and their pamphlet with the exclamation, 'Let the proprietor of any other medicine say as much if he dares.'" Now I take pleasure in saying that the caution referred to the same "Dr. Christie's Ague Balsam" that is mentioned in the above certificate. There are several other industrious people who are applying to their poisonous trash all that I publish about my Fever and Ague Cure, or Antidote to Malaria, except the certificates of cures, and the certificate of the celebrated chemist, Dr. Jas. R. Chilton, of New York, in favor of its perfectly harmless character, which is attached to every bottle. These will always serve to distinguish my medicine from imitations. JAS. A. RHODES, Proprietor, Providence, R. I. For sale in Bloomington by Joseph Orr, and by druggists generally. (SMP—NY AG.) 7m5-is

SUGAR KETTLES.

A FINE LOT on hands and for sale cheap. Also HOLLOWARE of all kinds. SEWARD & CHASE. 52tf

NEW SPRING STOCK OF DRY GOODS, &c.

S. C. DAY, STATE STREET, BETWEEN MARKET AND SPRING, NEW ALBANY, Wholesale Dealer in DRY GOODS, NOTIONS, HATS, CAPS, BONNETS, BOOTS, SHOES, &c., &c.

IS now in receipt of a full and complete stock of Staple and Fancy Dry Goods, Notions, Ladies' and Misses' Boots, Busskins, Gaiters, and Slippers; Men's, and Boys' Kip and Calf Boots and Brogues; Men's and Boys' Palm, Straw, Leghorn, Panama, Wool and Fur Hats in great variety; all of which are offered to dealers at the lowest prices, as the same class of goods can be purchased west of the mountains. We ask the attention of Indiana Merchants to our stock of goods, assuring them that goods are sold as low as New Albany as in Louisville or Cincinnati. New Albany, April 1. 1856—6m6. S. C. DAY.

NEW GOODS GREAT BARGAINS AT THE NEW STORE.

WE invite the attention of the citizens of Bloomington and vicinity to our large and desirable stock of FRESH GOODS, FOR SPRING AND SUMMER TRADE. Consisting in part of DRESS GOODS, NEW SPRING STYLES, RIBBONS, WHITE GOODS, BLU & FANCY SILKS, EMBROIDERIES, GLOVES AND HOSIERY, DRESS TRIMMINGS, ROBES, LUSTRES IN GREAT VARIETY, GINGHAMS, PRINTS AND LAWNS, UMBRELLAS AND PARASOLS, And a Complete Assortment of DRY GOODS, GROCERIES, HATS, CAPS, BOOTS AND SHOES.

Our Motto is still the same—"QUICK SALES AND SMALL PROFITS." J. B. HOBSON & CO. 'Mch. 22, 1856.

DR. J. C. BURCH, DENTIST.

Inventor of the Compound Lever Forceps. A NEW instrument for extracting teeth, (patented A. 1852.) Dr. B. is prepared to practise the latest improvements, and perform all difficult operations in DENTAL SURGERY. An experience of 15 years in Virginia, Southern Indiana and Kentucky, enables him to offer, with confidence, his services to the public. Operating and private parlors for the ladies at the Orchard House. N. B. Charges moderate and governed by the peculiarities of each case. 5w3

TAN, BARK AND HIDES WANTED.

AT THE OLD STAND OF DAVID B. JUDAH. HAVING purchased the tan-yard formerly owned by David B. Judah, near the Railroad depot, I wish to purchase any quantity of Bark and Hides, for which I will pay the highest price in cash. All kinds of Leather—sole, upper, kip and calf—always kept on hands, and for sale cheap for cash. April 12, 1856—6w3. JOHN WALDRON.

MILLINERY.

MRS. HALL would respectfully announce to the public, and especially to her old customers, that she has just received all the plates of the latest fashions, and everything necessary to enable her to do all that may be entrusted to her care, in the neatest, latest and most approved style. Work sent from a distance will be promptly attended to. SUSANNAH HALL. Bloomington, April 10, 1856—6w4.

HORSE FOR SALE.

A good work animal for sale at a low price. Enquire at this office. April 12, 1856—6w3.

Another Revolution! COPARTNERSHIP.

S. F. DUNN, J. S. AKIN and F. C. DUNN, have entered into a copartnership, under the name and style of DUNN, AKIN & CO., FOR the purpose of transacting a General Produce and Commission business. They will keep constantly on hands a good supply of Groceries, Iron, Nails and Salt, which they will exchange for cash, or good country produce. They have also a large and well selected stock of Queensware of DIRECT IMPORTATION which they offer very low, by wholesale or retail. We call the attention of country merchants particularly to this department of our business. We respectfully solicit a call from those wishing Groceries, Iron, or anything else in our line. We are confident we can do better for you than any house north of the Ohio. 5w4

BLOOMINGTON CLOTHING STORE.

THE undersigned would inform the public generally, that they still continue to keep a large assortment of CLOTHING AND NOTIONS, On the West Side of the Public Square; Consisting in part, as follows: COATS, of all kinds, fashions and qualities. PANTALOONS, of every style and mode. VESTS, of all prices and descriptions. Shirts, "Unmentionables," Collars, Suspender, Cravats, Carpet Sacks, Hosiery, In numbers and style to suit the most fastidious. Their stock of "cool" clothing, admirably adapted to the approaching hot summer days, is unexceptionable. They also keep for sale an unusual variety of WATCHES, JEWELRY, CUTLERY AND NOTIONS. To which they call the attention of the ladies. Their prices are fixed with the view of making the lowest living profits west of the Alleghenies. Give them a call, and if you are at all in favor of being "fixed up," they warrant to rig you out so fashionably fine, that your best friends won't know you. April 8, 1856. KAHN & BRO.

J. A. GOODLETT, LAND SELECTOR AND LOCATOR, Council Bluffs, Iowa.

PERSONS wishing to locate LAND WARRANTS in Western Iowa will have their business attended to promptly and with care by addressing me at Council Bluffs, Iowa. J. A. GOODLETT. *Warrants left at the News Letter office, will be promptly forwarded. March 1.—52tf.

DR. GOBLE.

TENDERS his professional services to the citizens of Bloomington and vicinity. Office on West Main street, opposite the residence of Hon. S. H. Buskirk. August 18, 1855—25tf. P. GOBLE, M. D.

BLANK DEEDS, printed on heavy paper, for sale at this office.

CALL and see A. HELTON & SON'S fine stock of goods, before you purchase. 7tf

J. M. HOWE.

HAS just received a handsome stock of spring Goods, comprising all articles usually offered in this market. Also Men's and Boys' Clothing, HARDWARE, QUEENSWARE, BOOTS AND SHOES, HATS AND CAPS, STRAW, SILK AND FLORENCE BRAID BONNETS, And Bonnet Trimmings, all of the very latest styles. Just rec'd a fresh lot of Lasts, Pegs, Awls and Awl Hairs. The public are requested to call, and he will take great pleasure in showing them through his stock. All kinds of country produce taken at the highest market price, in exchange for goods. March 31, 1856. [5tf] J. M. HOWE.

AT THE NEW ALBANY Iron, Hardware, & Tool Store,

Nos. 16 AND 18, PEARL STREET, Can be found— 60,000 lbs. Iron, ass'd sizes; 20,000 lbs. Wagon Boxes; 30,000 do Steel Plug Slabs; 18,000 do Springs and Axles; 11,000 do Castings, ass'd; 55,000 do Cast, Sheet, and other Steel; 37,000 do English and American Anvils; 12,000 do Solid Box Vices; 5,500 do Stone and Blacksmith Sledges; 27 Brown's warranted Belows; 55 dozen Nos. 1, 2, and 3, Cast Steel Hand Hammers; 240 dozen Grass and Grain Scythes; 190 do Wood and Iron Brace Cradles; 170 do Hay and Manure Forks; 100 do Wood, Iron and Steel Rakes; 120 do Ass'd Nos. 2, 3 and 4 Snares; 180 do Field and Garden Hoes; 380 do Locks and Latches, ass'd; 2,800 gross Gimlet, and Wood Screws; 300 dozen Butts, ass'd; 140 do Table Hinges; 50 do Blind Hinges; 27 Casks straight and Twist Trace Chains; 13 do Log Chains, ass'd; 5 do Chain Cable; 100 dozen Double Twist Breast Chains; 100 do Sna Kettles; 150 do Wagon Buggy, and Gig Hames; 10 Casks Sad Irons; 1,700 dozen Saws and Files; 120 do 14 and 16 Meal Seives; 30 do Gordon's warranted Axes. All orders promptly attended to. Goods delivered at the Jeffersonville and New Albany and Salem Railroad Depots free of charge. 'Call and examine. Feb. 9, 1856—34yl. JOHN GORDON.

READY-MADE CLOTHING, on hand and for sale, SLIDER & TIBBETTS.

A LARGE stock of Ladies' DRESS GOODS, for sale at the lowest cash prices. [5tf] S. & T.

A FINE assortment of BONNETS, Bonnet Trimmings, Ladies' Collars, do. Gloves, do. fine Oiled Gaiters,—also a full assortment of enamel, patent, kid, goat and calf shoes, for ladies' wear. S. & T.

CHEWING TOBACCO, a fine article, in store and for sale by [5tf] S. & T.

PATENT MEDICINES for sale. We have for sale the Family Medicines of Dr. David Jayne, J. D. Park, D. C. Mearns, and G. W. Haines; also Chinese and Mustang Liniment. [5tf] S. & T.

GARDEN SEEDS.—A full supply of fresh Garden Seeds, in store and for sale by [5tf] S. & T.

SIXTEENTH EDITION LABELS FOR BETTISON'S ENGLISH HORSE LINIMENT.

Over 100,000 Bottles Sold! Every year the demand and sale has doubled the preceding one! Examine certificates of your friends.—Price reduced to 25 cts. per small bottle, 50 cts. for half pint, and $1 for pint do. A liberal discount to dealers.

THIS Liniment is prepared only by Dr. Bettison, at his Vaccine Depot, corner 11th and Market streets, and is the only one of the kind in the city. It has recently, (May, 1855,) had the name "Bettison's English Horse Liniment, 11th and Market, Louisville," blown upon the bottle. Be sure to ask for Bettison's English Horse Liniment. It is sold by all respectable druggists and many merchants.

The following is from one of our most distinguished physicians and one of the editors of that valuable work, "THE WESTERN JOURNAL OF MEDICINE AND SURGERY." LOUISVILLE, July 13, 1853.

Dear Sir: I have examined your Recipe for the article called English Horse Liniment, and have often used it for various inflamed and diseased parts of the feet and legs, and think it much the best thing of the kind I have ever seen for such affections in the horse.

Yours, T. S. BELL. April 1, 1856—5m6.

ON OUR "PEGS" ONCE MORE!

I take this opportunity of announcing to the good people of Bloomington and vicinity, that after having passed through one of the roughest chapters in the vicissitudes of fortune, I am again on hands with a fine large assortment of the very best stock to be found in any western city, ready to do up any kind of work in my line in the most satisfactory manner.

A liberal share of patronage is respectfully asked. Shop one floor below the Orchard House. April 1, 1856—5tf. JOHN HESSON.

John Gordon, NOS. 16 AND 18, PEARL STREET New Albany, Ind.,

WHOLESALE DEALER IN FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC HARDWARE, IRON, &c.

IS now receiving for the Spring

The Muses.
[From the Knickerbocker.]
Damasena.
BY WILLIAM NORTH.
I have wandered, wandered, wandered,
Over land and over sea;
I have pondered, pondered, pondered,
On what is, and what must be;
Art is longer,
Time is stronger
Than the Will misnamed the Free.
When to Damasena kneeling,
Delicate, seductive maid!
Golden tribute, thought and feeling,
With blushing heart I paid;
Like a flower
In a shower,
Drooped she, pleased yet half afraid.
And before my urgent passion,
Drooping, with averted face,
Shrank she, in such timorous fashion,
That it lent a double grace
To the whisper
She would lip, or
The soft smile upon her face.
It was long ere I grew braver,
For so delicate she seemed,
Scarcely of an earthly favor,
In my spring of love I dreamed;
So appearing To my longing
Soul—champagne, forth as it creamed!
Might not rapture's wild enjoyer,
With so fairy-like a prize,
Prove a fatal fall to me,
Of his visioned paragon?
Hesitating,
Yet unsating,
Drank I poison from her eyes.
Amethystine-hued they glistened;
Swayed her shape as lilies sway,
While entranced I fondly listened
To the words she designed to say:
Ever changing, Idly ranging
From the graver to the gay.
But at length the dream was over,
And sweet certainty—bright sun!
Shone on me, the happy lover,
The preferred, the chosen one.
We had spoken,
Bartered token,
And I held her, mine alone!
By what delicate attentions, Sought I then her love to kind!
What devices, what inventions, Sleeplessly my brain designed To enchain her!
What is rainer
Than a mad young lover's mind.
Once at night I sought her garden,
On her window-ledge to gaze;
Content of easy pardon,
Musing in impassioned lays:
Sonnets glowing,
Beauty showing
As immortal as my lays!
But a trace to vain ambition;
What is this that charms my blood,
With a thrill of black suspicion
Freezing all the bounding flood?
Why thus frigid Stand I rigid
As the oak trees in the wood?
Damasena! freely talking
With a man—that man of all!
In the moon-lit midnight walking!
Yes, that face I well recall;
Well I know him,
Well I'll show him
How the innocent can fall.
Damasena! she, the tender,
Gently, exquisitely like Meg or Kate; Needing hourly, to defend her
From a breeze, such love as mine:
Damasena!
Sneal I mean a Vision, Eden-born, divine!
She in coarse and ready dalliance
With a low-born, low-bred knave, Boaster, full of pot-house valiance,
Neither good, nor true, nor brave;
Flaming Laugh in revels,
Deep in Hades, while I rave.
Shel—whom I approached adoring,
Tried with a hug, like Meg or Kate;
With that wretch the road exploring
I had turned to Heaven's gate!
Damasena!
I have been a Fool! I am wiser—not too late.
Wiser! what is wisdom? Ask it
Of the gods that throne above!
Is it in Alanshar's basket?
Is it in the dew-drops of love?
Is it madness?
Of the serpent or the dove?
Pease! let other maidens view an Off-cast lover with a smile;
Let me play the reckless Juan!
Men are fools, and women vile.
Like the Spanish
Dop, I am a
From the sentimental file.
Gold and honor, power and splendor,
And the reverence which men
To the mighty masters render
Of the sword and of the pen;
These shall try me,
These supply me
Damasena's ten times ten!
Fare thee well! whilst nester sucking
From the lips of yon base hound,
Ask him how he liked the ducking
In the horse-rough near the pound?
But no more—End my story;
Hark! the engine's distant sound!
WHO WANTS TO BE MARRIED!
THE ART OF LOVE MAKING.
The most extraordinary book of the nineteenth century!
The Bliss of Marriage.
THE WAY TO THE ALTAR.
MATRIMONY MADE EASY; OR HOW TO WIN A LOVER.
One vol. 160 pages, 32mo. Price $1.
500,000 copies already sold; 13th edition now ready.
Printed on the finest paper, and illustrated in the first style.
"Love rules the court, the camp, the grove;
For love is Heaven, and Heaven is love,"
So sang the bard, yet thousands pine
For love, the light of life divine.
Who, did they know some gentle charm,
The hearts of those they love to warm,
Might live, might die, in bliss supreme,
Possessing all of which they dream.
THE Bliss of Marriage, is a great book, treating upon Courtship, Matrimony, the duties and delights of married life, the secret of fascination, love, beauty and the subtle laws of nature, &c.
Until the publishing of this treatise by the great German philosopher, no one supposed love to be such an easy affair, but the bliss of marriage dissects the whole mode of creating it in any person you please of the opposite sex, at will.
It is the only fascinating, interesting and really useful and practical work on courtship, love, matrimony, the peculiarities of each sex, the duties and delights of married life, and the attainment of the greatest felicity ever written by a philosopher.
Persons wishing this or any other book, have only to inclose the advertised price in gold or any current State bills, write their names, the post office, county and State, and direct the envelope to J. A. GOODLETT, DAVEN-PORT & CO. Publishers, Cincinnati, Ohio.
Persons residing west of New York than to Cincinnati, call address to 93 Broadway, N. Y.
The book is always mailed closely enveloped.
ESTRAY STEER.
TAKEN UP by John Morris, living in Van Buren township, Monroe county, Indiana, an estray steer, red and white pided, with a scar on his back; marked with a swallow fork in the left ear, with a small parti-colored end at the tail, no other marks and brands perceivable. Appraised to eighteen dollars and fifty cents, by William Rice and Wyatt Adkins, before me, on this 1st day of April, 1856.
Test, MILTON MCPHERIDGE, C. L.
6w3

1856. SPRING TRADE. 1856.
NEW ALBANY SADDLERY AND HARNESS NOT TO BE UNDERSOLD.
Can depend on Buying their QUEENSWARE AND HARDWARE
From the Mammoth Establishment of Brooks & Campbells,
As low as from any house west of the Mountains.
WE have in Store and to arrive for the Spring Trade 500 CRATES OF CROCKERY, Comprising all the latest designs and qualities, which we are determined to offer to the trade at UNUSUAL LOW FIGURES!
Also,
1,000 BOXES OF GLASSWARE,
Consisting of all kinds of Tumblers, Jars, Molasses
Cans, Salts, Sugars, and Preserve Dishes, &c.
Together with an immense stock of FOREIGN AND DOMESTIC HARDWARE AND CUTLERY.
In our Domestic Hardware Department, we can only say that WE WILL duplicate any Cincinnati or Pittsburgh invoice. And in all Foreign Goods, no house, East or West, shall undersell us, as we import directly from the manufacturers.
We have also the heaviest stock of FARMING TOOLS
Around the Falls, and offer them at such prices as will induce every one that gives our stock an examination to leave their orders.
We only ask that all, before making their purchases, will give our stock a thorough examination, and we feel confident of quoting prices that will be satisfactory and secure your custom.
If you will always find us open from 6 A. M., until 9 P. M., ready to show you through our stock.
All orders sent, we will receive the personal attention of one of the members of the firm.
Goods delivered at Wharf-Boats, Jeffersville, and N. A. and S. R. R. Depots free of charge.
GIVE US A CALL.
BROOKS & CAMPBELLS,
Main street, New Albany, Indiana.
February 23—511f
THE GREAT
PIANO, MELODEON AND MUSIC ESTABLISHMENT —OF—
HORACE WATERS, Agent,
No. 333 Broadway, - - - - New York.
PRICES GREATLY REDUCED!—THE CASH SYSTEM ADOPTED!!
THE largest assortment of Pianos, Melodeons, Musical Instruments and Musical Merchandise of all kinds in the United States. Pianos from Tex different Manufactories, comprising those of every variety of style, from the plain, neat and substantial $150 octaves, in Walnut or Rosewood Cases, from $150 to $200, to those of the most elegant finish up to One Thousand Dollars. No house in the Union can compete with the above in the number, variety and celebrity of its instruments, nor in the EXTREMELY LOW PRICES at which they are sold.
HORACE WATERS' MODERN IMPROVED PIANOS,
With or without Iron Frames, possessing in their improvements of over strings and action, a length of scale, power and compass of tone equal to the Grand Piano, united with the beauty and durability of structure of the square Piano. No house in the Union can compete with the above in the number, variety and celebrity of its instruments, nor in the EXTREMELY LOW PRICES at which they are sold.
With or without Iron Frames, possessing in their improvements of over strings and action, a length of scale,
power and compass of tone equal to the Grand Piano,
united with the beauty and durability of structure of the square Piano. No house in the Union can compete with the above in the number, variety and celebrity of its instruments, nor in the EXTREMELY LOW PRICES at which they are sold.
Each Instrument guaranteed to give satisfaction, or purchase money refunded. SECOND HAND PIA-NOS AT GREAT BARGAINS, constantly in store, prices from $30 to $140.
HORACE WATERS' MELODEONS, Superior Instruments in tone, touch and durability of make. (Tuned the equal temperament.) Melodeons of all other styles and makes. Prices, $45, $60, $75, $100, $125, $140, double Reeds, $150; Couble Reeds, and two banks of Keys, $200. Clergymen and Churches, 12 1/2 per cent discount, and a very liberal discount to all purchasers for cash.
Martin's Guitars, Brown's Harps, Flutes, Violas, and Musical Instruments of all kinds,
At lower prices than ever before offered to the public.
A large discount to Teachers and Schools. The trade supplied on the most liberal terms.
MUSIC:
One of the largest and best selected catalogues of Music now published, comprising many of the choice and most popular airs of the day, and will be sold at reduced prices. Teachers and Schools will find it to their advantage to buy Music and Instruments from this house.
Music sent by mail to all parts of the country, postpaid. Particular and personal attention paid to all orders received by mail. Satisfaction guaranteed in every instance. Second hand Pianos taken in exchange for new. General and select Catalogues and Schedule of prices forwarded to all parts of the country by mail.
Great inducements offered to agents in all parts of the country, to sell the Horace Waters' Pianos, Melodeons, and Catalogues of Music.
February 23—511f
ON MANHOOD.
JUST PUBLISHED.
A NEW DISCOVERY IN MEDICINE.—A few words on the rational treatment, without medicine, of spermatorrhea, local weakness, nervous debility, low spirits, lassitude, weakness of the limbs and back, indisposition and incapacity for study and labor, dulness of apprehension, loss of memory, aversion to society, love of solitude, timidity, self-distrust, dizziness, headache, involuntary discharges or nightly emissions, pains in the side, affection of the eyes, pimples on the face, sexual and other infirmities in man.
Professor Carnochan, late of New York, has just published, in French and English, a little treatise showing his mode of curing nocturnal emissions and the above complaints, by his wonderful instrument, which is externally applied, and is so small and delicate as to be wholly unobservable to the most intimate. Price of instrument with full instructions, and all, $3; sent free of charge by mail.
Dr. GUILLOTTE TELL CARNOCHAN, Cincinnati, O.
Foreclosure of School Mortgage.
IN default of the payment of interest due to the School Fund of Monroe county, Indiana, on the mortgage hereinafter mentioned, I will sell at the court house door in Bloomington, on Saturday, the 12th day of April, 1856, between 1 and 3 o'clock, P. M., to the highest bidder, for cash, so much of the following described real estate as will satisfy the principal, interest, damages, and costs due on said mortgage:
No. 641. "One half acre of ground lying immediately in the southeast corner of two Sections, Nos. 22 and 23, and lying immediately fronting the tanyard buildings formerly owned by Samuel Moore and now owned by Oron & McCullough, lying near in a square form in said corner of said lot No. 22." Mortgaged by David Moore.
Principal, interest, damage, and costs $221.64.
R. C. FOSTER,
Auditor Monroe County.
N. B. All persons who are indebted to the School Fund for interest will take notice that unless they pay up the mortgages on their respective lands will be foreclosed and the premises sold.
March 13—21s.
J. A. GOODLETT,
LAND SELECTOR AND LOCATOR, Council Bluffs, Iowa.
PERSONS wishing to locate LAND WARRANTS in Western Iowa will have their business attended to promptly and with care by addressing at Council Bluffs, Iowa, J. A. GOODLETT.
If warrants left at the News-Letter office, will be promptly forwarded.
March 1—521f.
SUGAR KETTLES.
A FINE LOT on hands for sale cheap. Also HOLLOWWARE of all kinds.
521f
SEWARD & CHASE.
BLANK NOTES, printed in the very neatest style, on superior paper—bound in books of 50 notes each—for sale at this office.

A. ADAMS,
SADDLERY AND HARNESS MAKER.
West Side of the Public Square, immediately
West of the Court House.
Would respectfully announce to the citizens of Bloomington and Monroe county, that he has permanently located in Bloomington, for the purpose of carrying on the above business in all its branches.
I will keep on hands, or will manufacture at short notice,
Saddles, Bridles, Harness, Collars, Martingales, Carriage and Riding Whips, Trunks,
And any and every article made by saddlers and harness makers anywhere. I will endeavor to keep on hand every article in the line.
By employing none but the best of workmen, using none but the best material, and by close attention to business, he is satisfied that it will be to the interest of all to call and see his work before purchasing elsewhere.
If Shop next door to J. T. Cox's store. A. ADAMS.
Bloomington, March 29—41f.
STATE OF INDIANA. OWEN COUNTY, SS.
Owen Circuit Court to May Term, 1856.
James L. Strong, vs. Lucinda Strong, Plaintiff for Divorce.
BE IT REMEMBERED, that the plaintiff, by Mr.
Dyer, his attorney, has this day filed his complaint herein, together with an affidavit of a competent witness, by which it is satisfactorily shown that the above-named defendant is a non-resident of the State of Indiana.
The said defendant, Lucinda Strong, is therefore notified to appear in said Court on the second day of the next term thereof, to answer said complaint, or the same will be heard and determined in her absence.
Test, BASIL MEEK, Clerk.
March 24, 1856. [4w3]
The Monroe County Agricultural Society
WILL give premiums of the following lots in field cultivation, and other products of the farm and garden, which will be hereafter specified.
For the best one acre of fall wheat.
For the best 5 acres of do do.
For the best 5 acres of do do.
For the best 1 acre of spring wheat.
For the best 5 acres of do do.
For the best 1 acre of Indian corn.
For the best 5 acres of do do.
For the best 1 acre of oats.
For the best 5 acres of do do.
For the best quarter acre of Irish potatoes.
For the best 1 acre of do do.
For the best quarter acre of sweet potatoes.
For the best 1 acre of do do.
Premiums to be awarded by the appropriate committees, and amounts specified on bills.
All persons presenting lots for inspection, of either of the above mentioned grains or products, will be required to present them with a written statement of the manner of cultivation, quality of soil, manner of applying manure, if any, the kind of grain and amount sown per acre, or seed planted in the hill or drill, as the case may be, together with any other information which may be useful to the agricultural community. [4w4]
"GET THE BEST."
WEBSTER'S QUARTO DICTIONARY.
WHAT is more essential to every family, counting know the right use of language—the meaning, orthography, and pronunciation of words, than a good EN-GLISH DICTIONARY?—of daily necessity and permanent value.
WEBSTER'S UNABRIDGED
Is now the recognized Standard, "constantly cited and relied on in our Courts of Justice, in our legislative bodies, and in public discussions, as entirely conclusive," says Hon. JOHN C. SPENCER.
Can I make a better investment?
Published by G. & C. MERRIAM, Springfield, Mass.
—sold by all Booksellers.
ALSO,
Webster's School Dictionaries—Academic, High School, and Primary. [4w3]
City Bakery.
THE subscriber would respectfully inform the citizens of Bloomington and vicinity that he has opened a Bakery and Confectionery, in the frame building one door above Judge Butler's residence, on West Main street, where he will keep constantly on hand a supply of Bread, Cakes and Confectioneries, Consisting in part of the following:
Light Bread, Rusk and Tea Rolls, Apple, Peach, Mince, Lemon and Cranberry Cakes, Cakes of every description, including Pound Cake, Sponge Cake, Fruit Cake, Jelly Cake, &c., &c.
And a first rate supply of Sponge Gingerbread, Confectioneries of all kinds, besides a variety of Toys, Notions, Cigars, &c.
If Weddings and Parties supplied with Cake on short notice. Families supplied with fresh Bread every morning, and, if they desire it, it will be delivered at their houses.
The subscriber having had several years experience in the Bakery business, he is fully prepared to furnish everything in his line, and will endeavor by industry and strict attention to business to merit a share of the public patronage.
Give him a call and examine his stock.
JACOB GUTHEB.
Bloomington, Dec. 14—421f Boot and Shoe Store.
THE subscriber would respectfully inform the citizens of Bloomington and vicinity, that he has opened a Boot and Shoe Store on West Main street, three doors below the Orchard House. He will keep constantly on hand a supply of the best material, and promises that his workmanship will not be inferior to any in the city. All he has to say is to give him a call and try him, and if you are not satisfied, he will not charge you anything.
Particular attention will be paid to the manufacture of Ladies' Bootes, Gaiters, &c.
If Don't forget the place—SIGN OF THE BIG BOOT.
DANIEL SHRADER.
Bloomington, June 16, 1855—16f.
MASON BROTHERS, New York,
WILL PUBLISH, Saturday, January 19th, LAN-GUAGE, By Mrs. Julia C. Dorr, author of "Farmingdale," 1 vol., 12mo. Price $1.25.
The many readers and admirers of "Farmingdale," will anticipate with pleasure a new volume from the pen of "Caroline Thomas," (the nom de plume formerly used by Mrs. Dorr. We can assure them they will not be disappointed.) one which is less charming than its predecessors. We shall be disappointed if the public do not award it yet warmer praise.
SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 2nd.
EDITH, or the Quaker's Daughter
A TALE OF PURITAN TIMES.
BY ONE OF HER DESCENDANTS.
1 vol., 12 mo. Price $1.25.
THE SCENE of this Domestic Tale is laid during that religious persecution of the Quakers, which is so deep and sad a stain upon the bright fame of the Puritans. To the charm of absorbing interest as a tale, it adds the attraction of historical accuracy.
If we have never announced new books with greater satisfaction than in the present instance. These are not sensational books, they do not in any respect belong to the "quaker literature" of the day. Though diffusing widely in plot, purpose and style, they may also claim to be fascinating interest, and an adaptation to improve both head and heart. [511f]
DR. GOBLE
TENDERS his professional services to the citizens of Bloomington and vicinity.
Office on West Main street, opposite the residence of Hon. S. H. BUSKIRK.
August 18, 1855—251f. P. GOBLE, M. D.
W. INNIE AND I, for sale by W. & B.
GAS LAMPS.—A superior lot just received and for sale by [4w3] WOODARD & BUCHANAN.

DENNISON HOUSE
Cincinnati, Ohio.
Cincinnati, Ohio.
DENNISON & SON, PROPRIETORS.
This commodious and long-established Hotel is now entirely complete in all its appointments, and merchants and others visiting Cincinnati, are invited to call and give our house a trial.
(Jan. 28, 1854—1y1)
New Principle! No Poison!
FEVER AND AGUE CURE,
AN ANTIDOTE TO MALARIA,
THE FOR PREVENTION AND CURE OF Fever and Ague, or Chills Fever; Dumb Ague, and other Intermittent and Remittent Fevers; also of Bilious Fever, accompanied by Typhoid Symptoms; Typhoid Fever, Yellow Fever, Ship and Jail Fever, General Debility, Night Sweats, and all other forms of Disease WHICH HAVE A COMMON ORIGIN IN MALARIA OR MIASMA.
THIS subtle atmospheric poison, which at certain seasons is unavoidably inhaled by every breath, is the same in character wherever it exists—north, south, east, or west,—and will everywhere yield to this new ANTIDOTE, which neutralizes the poison, completely purifies the system, and thus entirely removes all the cause of disease.
The proprietor distinctly claims these extraordinary results from his use.
It will protect any resident or traveler, even in the most sickly or swampy localities from any ague or bilious disease whatever, or any injury from constantly inhaling Malaria or Miasma.
It will instantly check the ague in persons who have suffered for any length of time, from ONE DAY TO TWENTY YEARS, so that they need never have another chill, by continuing its use according to directions.
It will immediately remove all the distressing results of bilious or ague fever, such as general debility, night sweats, &c. The patient at once begins to recover appetite and strength, and continues until a permanent and radical cure is effected. And as a proof that it is also WORTHY OF PUBLIC CONFIDENCE, Because of its
SINGULAR AND ENTIRE HARMLESSNESS
The following certificate from one of the most celebrated chemists in the United States is attached to every bottle:
New York, June 11, 1855.
"I have made a chemical examination of Rhodes' Fever and Ague Cure, or Antidote to Malaria, and have tested it for Arsenic, Mercury, Quinine and Strychnine, but have not found a particle of either in it, nor have I found any substance in its composition that would prove injurious to the constitution."
JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D., Chemist.
This allows of FREE USE AS A PREVENTIVE
by which all persons may be sure of entire freedom from the above named diseases no matter how sickly the season or swampy the locality.
PHOOPS OF EFFICACY are frequently published, and the confidence of the public is asked only in proportion to its actual merits wherever introduced and used. These only are relied upon to prove its worth.
One or two bottles will answer for ordinary cases;
some may require more. Directions printed in German,
French, and Spanish, accompany each bottle. Price
One Dollar.
Prepared and sold by the proprietor,
JAMES A. RHODES, Providence, R. I.
JOSEPH ORR, Agent, Bloomington, Ind., and for sale by druggists generally.
Bloomington, Nov. 16—3y1.
"THE MIRROR HELD UP TO NATURE."
NEW PURCHASE:
Or, Early Years in the West.
BY ROBERT CARLTON, ESQ.
SECOND EDITION, REVISED AND ILLUSTRATED. IN ONE VOL-UME. FOUR HUNDRED AND FIFTY PAGES. 12mo.
PRICE, $1.25.
THIS work was first published by the Appletons, of New York, 1843, and was sold immediately at $1.50 per copy. The first edition, of 1,000 copies, was not sufficient for the demand and Mr. Appleton was so pleased with the readiness with which the book was sold, that he proposed to the author a new edition.
6,000 copies. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering
a rare and brilliant book, which, for a time, has sunk
into obscurity. Before his steps were taken to reprint,
old Mr. Appleton died, and as the work was not then
sterilized, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than
ten years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering a rare and