Under the above head, the New Albany Tribune combats the claims of JoSIAH I. COOPER to the honor of composing the "lines on the death of Fuller," published in the News-Letter a week or two ago. The Tribune says the 'Pome" was written 34 or 35 years ago by ALFRED J. COTTON OF WHITE COTTON, Of Dearborn county, and that the editor has often heard it sung when a boy. We shall not disof ours who used to be engaged in railroad civil engineering in that part of the State, says he has often heard it sung in the most pathetic manner by some "fair damosel" at the farm houses "on his line" -where she would

"Sit on her creepie and spin at her wheel And think on the laddie that loved her so weel.

We thank the Tribune for rescuing from unmerited oblivion two additional fragments of the song-one in relation to the trial of the unfortunate Fuller as follows:

"Then Fuller was condemned by the Honorable Court Of Lawrenceburgh, in Dearborn, for to die That ignominious death, to hang above the earth, Like Haman on the gallows so high."

The other, a/happy description of the per sonal appearance of the prisoner when he was executed:

"Like an ange he did stand, For he was a handsome man And in his bosom wore a ribbon of blue."

The object of their adhesion is plain enough. It is to protect the interests of Mr. Dunn. When that is effected, if it suits these men, they will coolly throw off their Abolition allies, and the latter will find themselves sold again. As long as they permit Mr. Dunn and his representatives to mingle in their counsels and control them, the public verdict must be that they have profited little by experience. But whose business is it? "Go in lemons and get squeezed." Where were the resolutions approving Dunn's course, and why were they not offered at the late meeting? Henry Ballantine announced the object of the meeting,-stating also in behalf of the Society, that they regretted very much that the usual music was necessarily dispensed with on this occasion, this county from the Southern States, where and that the exercises would be opened they sold their niggers, and laid out their price with prayer by Dr. DAILY.

Dr. Daily then made an eloquent and impressive prayer, after which he made some very appropriate and cutting remarks about the tender consciences of some individuals, who have so suddenly the Pharisee, "Stand thou off, for I am purer discovered the sinfulness of permitting and holier than thou." their Church to be desecrated by instrumental music. He said that he regretted very much that the usual accompanying music for such occasions must on this be dispensed with; but he would line a hymn, and hoped the audience would join him in singing and make this substitute for the music common on such occasions. The hymn selected and lined was beautifully appropriate, and was sung in a spirit that indicated the good feelings of the audience for the Society,—thus rebuking the spirit

Mr. D. D. We have just finished the perusal of this last of FANNY FERN'S writings. If we should turn critic we might point out some faults, or rather blunders, which FANNY has fallen into; but as a whole, it is far superior to RUTH HALL, When two young men have been out or any other of the writings of this gifted auwe find a more beautiful character than Rose BULWER's glowing pen, or the titled ladies of Scorr's graphic page; because we feel that with all the beauty and innocence of Rose Clark, she is still a woman-a REALITY. The excellence of Fanny Fern as a writer, is, that she throws around matters of every day life all the picture that is life-like and real. FANNY is so full of life, so pungent, so witty, so pathetic, so eloquent, and so truthful in her style, that

Who are Abolitionists?

The old Abolitionists claim that they are actuated by humanity and philanthropy. Let us love, generosity, and chivalrous sentiments? No! theirs is a bitter and malignant philanthropy. Look around among the Abolitionists of this county. In general, they are selfish, stingy, and cowardly. Most of them came to in land in Monroe county. Do n't our readers know this to be true? And yet these canting hypocrites white through their noses, and talk about the sin of slavery, and put on long, sanctimonious faces, as much as to say, like

We see the name of Judge Hughes men ioned for Congress. The Judge is a very talented gentleman and a good Democrat; but he s Judge of the Circuit Court, his term continuing until 1858. We have already noticed the matter alluded to in the above paragraph. We presume our editors of the Jackson County Democrat. This matter is governed by the constitution of the United States, not by the State constitution; which applies to other officers.

The section of the State constitution referred to by the Democrat, is as follows: "No person elected to any judicial office, shall, during the the South. term for which he shall have been elected, be eligible to any office of trust or profit, under the State, other than a judicial office." Representatives in Congress are not officers "under office is created by the constitution of the United States, and their qualifications fixed by honor to an older head. Music. If those having charge of the Methodist Church thought it would have been such a sin to have had stringed music at the Athenian Anniversary, Tuesday night, how do they reconcile it to their tender consciences that the Saxe Horn Band has often played there, without objection? Are violins and guitars any more carnal or ungodly than the piano and guitar music at the exhibitions of Mr. Sinex's Academy? temporary injunction to restrain said defendant from transferring, or from any proceeding for the collection of three certain promissory notes in said complaint, mentioned to wit: One note given by said complaint, said defendant for two hundred dollars, dated Novemtreatment of Consumption, Asthma, and all diseases of the lungs. We refer to "Dr. Curtis's Hygeana, or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup." With this new method Dr. C. has restored many afflicted ones to perfect health; as an evidence of which he has innumerable certificates. Speaking of the treatment a physician remarks:—It is evident that inhaling—constantly breathing an agreeable, healing vapor, the medicinal properties must come in direct contact with the whole of the ærial cavity of the lungs, and thus escape the many and varied changes produced upon them when introduced into the stomach, and subjected to the process of digestion. The Hygeana is for sale at all the druggists throughout the country. (From the New York Dutchman of Jan. 14th.)

See advertisement of Medicated Inhalation to a part of the court for two hundred dollars, date November 18th, 1854; due the first day of January, 1856.—One other note, given as aforesaid, for the sum of three hundred dollars, due January 1st, 1857. Corn-Shellers.

WE respectfully call the attention of Farmers and others having corn to shell to our improved Cornstellers. These Machines are warranted to be equal in durability and speed for shelling to any hand machine in cuistence. Our Machines not only shell off the corn in a rapid and satisfactory manner, but it also separates the cob from the shelled corn, and by the assistance of a Fan attached to each Machine, it thoroughly cleans out all the chaff, so that the corn is perfectly cleaned when it comes from the Machine.

Those who have used the old fashioned machines, that throw the corn, cob and chaff all in one pile can well appreciate the superiority of our Machines over all others.

WE have the pleasure of announcing that we have in press, and shall publish about the first of December, a new work of fiction, entitled ROSE CLARK;

A ROMANCE-BY FANNY FERN. TO RENT.

The last work, and first continuous tale of this brilliant authoress, "Ruth Hall," achieved a success unexampled in the annals of letters. In the language of a leading periodical it "created a more and a leading periodical a leading leading periodical it "created a more profound sensa-tion than any which has been issued during a quarter of a century." But it is unnecessary to allude to the merits of "Ruth Hall." Judging from the number of

The Marriage of Sir John Smith. The following is PHORBE CAREY'S parody upon the death of Sir John Moore:

Not a sigh was heard, nor a funeral tone, As the man to his bridal we hurried; Not a woman discharged her farewell groan, On the spot where the fellow was married.

We married him just about eight at night, Our faces paler turning, By the struggling moonbeams misty light, And the candles dimly burning.

No useless watch-chains covered his breast, Not over-dressed we found him; But he looked like a gentleman wearing his best With a few of his friends around him.

And we spoke not a word of sorrow,
But we si!ently gazed on the man that was wed
And we bitterly thought of the morrow. We thought as we silently stood about,

Few and short were the things we said.

With spite and anger dying,

With spite and anger dying,

How the merest stranger had cut us out,

With only half his trying. Lightly we'll talk of the fellow that 's gone,

And oft, for the past, upbraid him, But little he'll reck if we let him live on, In the house where his wife conveyed him. But our heavy task at last was done. When the clock struck the hour for retiring,

And we heard the spiteful squib and pun The girls were sullenly firing.

Slowly and sadly we turned to go,—
We had struggled—and we were human;
We shed not a tear, and we spoke not our woe,
But left him alone with his woman.

Fair Ines.

BY THOMAS HOOD.

O saw ye not fair Ines? She's gone into the West, To dazzle when the sun is down, And rob the world of rest: She took our daylight with her, The smiles that we love best, With morning blushes on her cheek, And pearls upon her breast.

O turn again, fair Ines, Before the fall of night, For fear the moon should shine alone, And stars unrivall'd bright; And blessed will the lover be That walks beneath their light And breathes the love against thy cheek I dare not even write!

Would I had been, fair Ines, That gallant cavalier,
Who rode so gaily by thy side,
And whisper'd thee so near!
Were there no bonny dames at home, Or no true lovers here, That he should cross the seas to win The dearest of the dear?

I saw thee, lovely Ines,
Descend along the shore,
With bands of noble gentlemen,
And banners waved before;
And gentle youth and maidens gay, And snowy plumes they wore; It would have been a beauteous dream,

Alas, alas, fair Ines,
She went away with song,
With Music waiting on her steps,
And shoutings of the throng;
But some were sad and felt no mirth, But only Music's wrong, In sounds that sang Farewell, Farewell, To her you 've loved so long.

Farewell, farewell, fair Ines, That vessel never bore So fair a lady on its deck, Nor danced so light before,-Alas for pleasure on the sea, And sorrow on the shore! The smile that blest one lover's heart Has broken many more!

Prohibition.

Verily there is nothing new under the sun. We have before us a number of the Bloomington Post, printed in 1837, (nineteen years ago.) in which we find the following anti-kissing platform. It will be seen that it was "an age of reform" at that time, as at the present, and that the writer puts kissing a pretty girl and drinking whisky in the same dangerous category: We confess that we are not conversant in matters of this sort, and therefore we withhold our opinion. But we give our house a trial. (Jan. 28, 1854-1y1) venture to assert that a good many pretty girls have been kissed "after the usual bedtime," without any direful results:

ON THE PRACTICE OF COURTING AFTER BED-TIME.

In our intercourse with the world, we have discovered one evil among the young people of our land, who are not bound in Hymen's golden chain, that exerts a most direful influence on society. We mean the practice of courting after the usual time of going to bed. Now we are fully aware that in laying this subject before the public we will have to combat the prejudices and practice of those for whom it is deand practice of those for whom it is designed. But, as this is an age of reform, we trust every enlightened and virtuous we trust every enlightened and virtuous citizen of this great republic after viewing purifies the system, and thus entirely removes all the cause of disease ti in its proper light and in all its bearings, will concur with us in saying that it is not only unnecessary, but also very pernicious to the best interest of the fairest portion of God's creation, and treat it, as it justly inhaling Malaria or Miasma.

But it is said by some, that it is a very harmless employment to spend an evening, or as some do, two thirds of a night, in conversation with the person of our affections, and perhaps steal an innocent kiss! So says the base toper, as a innocent kiss! So says the base toper in the perhaps with the p little will hurt no man; but this little lands him in ruin. Now this is a parallel case—they say there is no harm in that innocent kiss: perhaps not, if one or two would suffice. Hurley's Sarsaparilla.

THIS invaluable compound, so fully appreciated by the American people, is gaining wide celebrity, and has become permanently established the best and most effective medicine of the day. Certificates are daily pouring in from all parts of the States, and the afflicted now rejoice that there is help when every other remedy proved ineffectual. Diseases which for years proved a source of misery and agonizing torture readily yield beneath its irresistible influence, and countless amilies rendered happy and cheerful by its extraordinary efficacy. If you want the pure and genuine Sarsaparilla, that which is as different and superior to Bull's, arilla, that which is as different and superior to Bull's, Blackwell's, Townsend's, Sands', Guysott's, Cox's, or any other compound, as one thing is capable of being to another, then take Hurley's, for out of thousands of cases scattered through Alabama, Mississippi, Wisconsin, Indiana, Missouri and Kentucky, it has never in a single instance been known to fail, and will cure, be-

Hurley's Sarsaparilla is what is represented, and I believe it the most wonderful medicine before the public. Nothing under heaven could induce me to say so without proof of the strongest and surest kind: therefore I speak willingly and positively on the subject.

My daughter has been afflicted with skin diseases and stiffness of the joints for several years. I employed the principal physicians of this city, and they could not cure her. I gave her your Sarsaparilla, not expecting it would do much good, but, to my great astonishment, it would do much good, but, to my great astonishment, she rapidly got well, and, thank God, continues so.—
Had she been taking any other medicine, I would not give this certificate; but your Sarsaparilla, the only remedy employed, leaves no doubt of its medical qual-remedy employed, leaves no sities, and that it alone cured her.

A NEW METHOD.

A MOST WONDERFUL DISCOVERY has recently been made by Dr. Curtis, for the cure of Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Coughs, Colds, and all Lung Complaints, by Medicated Inhalation. Dr. Curtis, Tis HyGEAN A. or INHALING HYGEAN VAPOR and CHERRY SYRUP, has accomplished the most and CHERRY SYRUP, has accomplished the most city of New York and vicinity for a few months past, ever known to man. It is producing an impression on Diseases of the Lungs never before witnessed by the Medical Profession. [See certificates in hands of agents.]

ASTHMA CURED.

BROOMLYN. N. Y., Dec. 20, 1853.

For about eight years I have been severely afflicted with the Asthma; for the last two years I have suffered beyond all my powers of description; months at a time I have not been able to sleep in bed, getting what rest I could sitting in a chair. My difficulty of breathing, and my sufferings, were so great at times, that for hours together my friends expected that each hour would be my last. During the past six years I have had the aid and attendance of some of the most celebrated physicians, but have received no permanent benefit, and but little relief. I at length had the good fortune to procure Dr Curtis' Hygeana or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup. At the time I first obtained it, I was suffering under one of my most violent attacks, and was in great distress, almost suffocating for want of breath. In less than ten minutes from the time I applied the Inhaler to my stomach, and took a teaspoon-int of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great meast of the control of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great meast of the control of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great meast of the control of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great meast of the control of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great meast of the control of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great meast of the control of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great meast of the control of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great meast of the control of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great meast of the control of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great meast of the control of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great meast of the control of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great meast of the control of the Cherry Syrup. The New Purchase is a truthful story of the life of the author for a period of nearly eight years, a portion of which time he was a Professor in the University of Indiana, and enjoyed the society of many men eminent in learning and politics. Amid the varied joys and sorrows, trials and triumphs, which attend the career of the author while sojourning in the West, he kindly introduces the reader to many of his cotemporaries, some of whom are painted by a friendly hand, whilst others are touched as if with caustic. Some of the characters are General John McCalla, of Lexington, Ky, and now of Washington City; Prof. Harney of the Louisville Democrat; Governor Wright, of Indiana; the late Governor Whitcomb; Prof. Bush of N. Y.; Hon. Paris C. Dunning; Austin Seward, Esq.; Rev. Andrew Wylie, D. D.; D. H. Maxwell, M. D.; Rev. Isaac Reed; Dr. R. Breckenridge, of Ky.; Rev. W.
