In these circumstances, what would that editor think of a Summer's night, 100 degrees in the shade—what about the stove and rosycheeked wife?

Webster, the theatrical critic of the Wag, arrived at a country hotel in one of the most pleasant villages on Long Island, after a long day's journey, and being very tired, he requested to be immediately shown to a sleeping apartment, but the landlord said it was quite impossible to afford the traveler that accommodation, as every room was occupied, his own wife having to sleep upon a sofa, and himself slumbering upon the floor. On consultation, however the landlord's wife said that there was one double-bedded room which the traveler might occupy, provided that he would agree to enter the room in the dark and to quit it just before daylight the next morning, in order to prevent scandal, as one of the beds was occupied by a lady. Wiggleton Webster agreed to do so. About 2 o'clock A. M., however, the inmates of the whole house were awakened by anawful noise, caused by the 'professor' rushing along one of the corridors in his night-robe, and tumbling heels over head down a flight of eighteen stairs. On the landlord's arriving at the spot he inquired what the matter was, when Mr. Webster faintly ejaculated, as soon as he was ableito speak-'Oh, Lord the woman is dead!' An hour before she spoke of things, That Memory to the dying brings, And kissed me all the while; Then, after some sweet parting words, She seem'd among her flowers and birds, Until she fell asleep.

'T was Summer then, 't is Autumn now; The crimson leaves fall off the bough, And strew the gravel sweep, I wander down the garden walk, And muse on all the happy talk We had beneath the limes; And, resting on the garden seat, Her old Newfoundland at my feet. I think of other times;

Of golden eves, when she and I Sat watching here the flushing sky, The sunset and the sea Or heard the children in the lanes, Following home the harvest wains, And shouting in their glee.

But when the daylight dies away, And ships grow dusky in the bay, These recollections cease; And in the stillness of the night, Bright thoughts that end in dreams as bright. Communicate their peace.

I wake and see the morning star, And hear the breakers on the bar. The voices on the shore; And then, with tears, I long to be Across a dim unsounded sea, With her forevermore.

The Hypocrite.

Seest thou the man! A serpent with an angel's voice! a grave
With flowers bestrewed! and yet few were deceived
His virtues being over-done, his face Too grave, his prayers too long, his charities Too pompously attended, and his speech Too pompously attended, and his speech
Larded too frequently, and out of time
With serious phraseology—were rents
That in his garments opened in spite of him,
Through which the well accustomed eye could see
The rottenness of his heart. None deeper blushed.
No longer herding with the holy ones:
Yet still he tries to bring his countenance
To sanctimonious seeming; but, meanwhile,
The shame within, now visible to all,
His purpose healthed; the righteous smiled, and even His purpose baulked: the righteous smiled, and even Despair itself some signs of laughter gave,
As ineffectually he strove to wipe
His brow, that inward guiltiness defiled.
Detected wretch of all the reprobate,
None seemed maturer for the flames of hell;
Where still his face, from ancient custors we Where still his face, from ancient custom, wears A holy air, which says to all that pass Him by: I was a hypocrite on earth!—[Pollok.

This invaluable compound, so fully appreciated by the American people, is gaining wide celebrity, and has become permanently established the best and most effective medicine of the day. Unlike other compounds which, when first introduced, are said to possess medical qualities, but soon degenerate into injurious trash, this highly concentrated fluid Extract, is prepared with the greatest accuracy and chemical knowledge, entirely of vegetable substances, and warranted never to deviate in strength. The powerful machinery employed with care devoted in combination, together with the important fact that it is the only preparation in America containing Honduras or Para root, establish beyond all doubt that it is the sufferer's remedy. Its extensive popularity and widespreading fame, coupled with unparalleled cures effect ed by its agency, have gained both public confidence and professional reliance. ASTHMA CURED.

BROOKLYN. N. Y., Dec. 20, 1853.

For about eight years I have been severely afflicted with the Asthma; for the last two years I have suffered beyond all my powers of description; months at a time I have not been able to sleep in bed, getting what rest I could sitting in a chair. My difficulty of breathing, and my sufferings, were so great at times, that for hours together my friends expected that each hour would be my last. During the past six years I have had the aid and attendance of some of the most celebrated physicians, but have received no permanent benefit, and but little wilds. Let longth had the good fortune to prolittle relief. I at length had the good fortune to procure Dr Curtis' Hygeana or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup. At the time I first obtained it, I was suffering under one of my most violent attacks, and was in great distress, almost suffocating for want of breath. In less than ten minutes from the time I applied the Inhaler to my stomach, and took a teaspoonful of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great measure from the difficulty of breathing, and had a comfortable night. I have since continued with the greatest possible benefit, and am now comparatively well. God only knows the amount of suffering this medicine has relieved me from. My friends and physician pronounced my case Consumption, and beyond the reach of medicine. I accidentally heard of Dr. Curtis' Hygeana, or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Oherry Syrup, and obtained a package, which I verily be lieve was the means of saving my life. Soon after wearing the Inhaler; I found it relieved the pressure on my lungs, and after a while the disease made its apmy lungs, and after a while the disease made its appearance upon the surface under the Iuhaler. I took the Cherry Syrup as directed, and continued to do so, my cough gradually growing better, until it entirely left me, and I now consider myself cured. #### DR. LEWIS' MOTHERS' FRIEND.

THIS compound I have proved by practice of more than twelve years, and it has ever proved efficacious in the cure of diseases for which it is recommended, where there was any hope.

arket st., between Second and Third. JEFFERSON Co., Ky., arch, 1855. Dr. Lewis-I take great pleasure in informing you that I consider your other's Friend one of the very best compounds now offered to the public, and especially to afflicted females. For my wife it has worked wonders after a long and tedious trial of three years with other medicines. After she had become much debiliated and almost helpless, from the long continued use of useless drugs, she resorted to your other's Friend in connection with other prescriptions which you recommended. These she continued for a short length of time, when she recovered, and now enjoys the blessing of good health. One of my neighbors who was afflicted in a manner similar to that of my wife, took the same articles and it produced a most wonderful and speedy cure. It should be found in every family.

SAML. B. WOACK.

NEW ALBANY, 1854. Dr. Lewis-I have used and thoroughly tried your ot hers' Friend, and find it to be one of the best com-others friend, and find it to be one of the best compounds for female weaknesses now extant; and further say that it may well be styled the others' Friend for after all specifics have failed, it has performed cures that appeared almost incredible. JOS. CADWALADER. Louisville, Ky., 1854.

Dr. Lewis—Dear sir: I cannot withhold my testimony as to the value of your Mothers' Friend. It has been used freely in my family in distressing complaints, and always with the best effects. It is decidedly the most valuable medicine for female complaints generally, I have ever known.

I have used it, and its effects surpass any preparations of that order I ever saw. in those distressing and weakening diseases to which the sex is liable. It quiets the nervous agitation, and restores the natural secretions. Therefore I can safely recommend it to the special attention of my female friends every where, believing they will find it a friend indeed. DR. J. TRUEBLOOD. Hodginsville, July, 1854.

Dr. Lewis-I have been using your Mothers' Friend in my practice, and it acts promptly as directed and for the uses for which it is recommended. One of my patients had been afflicted in a manner to be unable to ride on horseback for four years, but after taking one bottle of your Mothers' Friend, she rode six miles and back the same day. Yours,
