LAWRENCE CITY, K. T., January 21st, 1856.

To his Excellency, Governor of Indiana,-Sir: We have authentic information that an overwhelming force of the citizens of Missouri are organizing upon our border, amply supplied with artillery, for the demolishing our towns and butchering our unoffending free State citizens.

We hope to be able to hold out until assistance can reach us. We respectfully request, on behalf of the citizens of Kansas, that such steps may be taken by the people of the States as humanity suggests, to prevent the successful carrying out of so inhuman an outrage.

Respectfully, J. H. LANE, Chairman Executive Committee K. T. C. ROBINSON, Governor elect of Kansas. C. W. DEITZUR, Secretary.

EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, INDIANA, Indianapolis, Feb. 21, 1856.

JAMES H. LANE, C. ROBINSON, and GEO. W DEITZUR, Lawrence City, K. T.

Gentlemen: Your communication of the 1st of January, addressed to me in an official capacity, and asking that steps may be taken to protect your people from the violence of the citizens of Missouri, is now before me.

If the Legislature were in session, should lay your communication before them, not with the most remote idea that Indiana would deviate from her well known opinion upon the principle involved but out of respect to you as citizens.

I shall certainly not interfere in the domestic institutions of your Territory, nor recommend that our people should take any part therein.

The conduct of the Missourians, as wel as those from the free States, who have gone into your Territory, with the view of controling your elections, and not to become bona fide citizens, is alike reprehensible and liable to the severest censure and punishment:

But the remedy for these evils is properly and constitutionally lodged with the legal and sovereign power of the Territory; and if this is not sufficient, it is most wisely left to the action of the Executive of the Nation, and to that of Congress.

Our form of government never contemplated for a moment, that, in the domestic troubles so frequently arising in the different States and Territories of the Union. make themselves the apologists for the sister States in the confederacy should take any part. Whenever this doctrine is assumed and carried out, we shall find lie all our institutions—the absolute right ourselves approaching a state of things, of each State and Territory to make its and ties that bind us together as one peo-

We must live faithfully up to all our compacts-not only discharging the duties ve owe to our own State or Territory, but those we owe to the national government. And this can be done most effectually by guarding against the slightest encroachment upon the great bond of our Union, which makes us a united people. In the furtherance of this object we should act towards every member of the confederacy alike—to each as equal to equal. While we enjoy the right to make our own form of government as to all domestic institutions the same right we should freely accord to others.

There is a spirit of Propagandism which seems to be increasing in the South and the North, to which even the law making powers is invoked. This must not be tion of Banks the Abolitionists have won countenanced or encouraged. The whole a victory. in the ability of the people of Kansas to mould their own institutions to suit themselves, and the consequent aggressive spirit of interference for the purpose of influencing their elections, seem to originate in a sort of egotism, both in parties and individual citizens, who, while they doubt the integrity and capacity of the people of Kansas, are ready to assert their own honesty and ability to regulate their institutions for them.

Indiana, as a State, has wisely selected her own domestic policy. She is willing to give her neighbors the same right, and to suppose them capable of choosing and deciding for themselves. She has never given any cause of complaint to any of ner sister States or Territories. She expects the like exact justice from them. And I do sincerely hope that none of her citizens will so far forget the relation they sustain to their neighbors, and the national compact, as to take any part in the strifes and contentions of others who are openly violating the laws of the land.

Notwithstanding it was telegraphed from your Territory to New York, that I was willing and ready to offer the assistance of citizens of this State, in your controversy, let me assure you that while I have the honor to be her Executive Officer, I will not in any manner attempt to bring her down from her present high position, and have her in any way mingling in the do-mestic strifes of her sister States or Territories.

The sentiment of our people is to leave the settlement of these questions to the people of Kansas, who are actual citizens of the Territory. If this cannot be brought about, if influences are at work which render this impossible, the remedy is not to be found by others unlawfully interfering; but by the constitution and laws, is most properly lodged in the hands of those who have the power and ability to restore order and Appeals are frequently made to our sympathies to redress grievances and outrages which occur in many of the relations of life, and in many instances these influences command our services. But in the higher and more important relations we sustain to each other, as members of our happy form of government, the Constitution and the laws should alone be the rule of our action.

There are those who indulge in the use of hard names and sectional phrases, such as subserviency to southern interests, doughfaces, and the like, in order to influence the public mind, and to arouse our people to the violation of law. All this, however, ardently hope will not lead our people own institutions without the influence of others.

Upon this principle we can stand and maintain the peace and harmony of the Union with safety and honor. It is the corner stone upon which the security and purity of the Union rest.

Having the utmost confidence that the people of Indiana will not, under any circumstances, abandon this high position, I frankly say to you, no efforts will be made by this Department, to induce a solitary citizen to enter upon a crusade against any portion of the people of the Union or their institutions. If others do wrong, we will do right.

I have the honor to be, Yours, most respectfully, JOSEPH A. WRIGHT.

Close of the Second Volume.

This number closes the Second Volume of the News-Letter. For two years we have done our utmost to publish an interesting and useful paper. How far we have succeeded, we will let our readers determine. We now enter upon the third year, and we are determined to increase the interest of our paper as far as we are able. We believe that the year 1856 is destined to be more prolific of important events than any preceding year of our country's history. Fanaticism, in all its forms, has pervaded our whole counnearer, and threatens revolution, bloodshed and ruin.

Abolitionism, like a great black cloud is creeping over the map of our country from east to west, bringing certain destruction to the Union, if its progress be not Worse than all, the vile and devilish spirit of religious persecution has been revived. A secret order has arisen in our midst, which seeks to control the affairs of the government, and in whose pestiferous dens the vilest passions of the human heart are inflamed, which break out in murder, arson and the destruction of public order. The fraternal lave and Christian charity which once characterized our people have been supplanted by a sullen, bit- Abel. ter, malevolent feeling—the legitimate temper has been engendered, such as characterized the French people on the eve of the revolution in 1793.

It is time that all our people should read and understand. It is time that the kirk. friends of the Union should be wide awake. It is time that all the friends of civil and religious freedom should unite to crush the hydra-headed monster of religious persecution.

The News-Letter will always be found battling against the hosts of fanaticism, and waging eternal war against the secret ing high priest of blood and arson, thus closes Union and desire to see its blessings per- | Philadelphia platform: petuated-to all who wish to avert the Great Destruction of Property.

Last Saturday evening the Licking River, opposite Cincinnati, commenced rising rapidly and caused the ice in the Ohio, below the mouth of Licking, to break up, and the consequence was that a great number of steamboats, barges and flatboats heavily laden, were totally destroyed or much injured. The steamboats Albertini, Salem, Bridge City, Yorktown, Madonna, Grape Shot, The Flag, Darson, were sunk with full cargoes of great value. Many other steamboats were much injured, and a great many coal-boats and barges were lost. Thousands of spectators collected on the river bank to witness the awful destruction of property. Many coal-boats were seen passing down the river that had broken loose. At the last accounts, the steamboats had taken refuge in the mouth of Licking, and it was thought they Journal may appropriately say, like the spirit were out of danger.

Last Thursday night was the occasion of the welfth Annual Commencement of the Law School of the State University. The exercises were opened with an appropriate prayer by Dr. DAILY. After which addresses were delivered by the graduates, ROBERT I. MORRISON, of Salem, Indiana; GEORGE W. DEAN, of Springfield. Illinois; and D. Sheeks, of Bloomington, Indiana. An excellent address was then delivered to the class by Hon. S. B. GOORINS, of Terre Haute, one of the Judges of the Supreme Court. Dr. Daily added a few remarks and then delivered the Diplomas. Professor BEN-BRIDGE's String-Band enlivened the occasion with good music.

Last Tuesday night, pursuant to printed notice, there was a meeting of Democrats at the Court House, in Bloomington, for the purpose of organizing a Democratic Club, to meet one night in each week, for the purpose of open and public discussion of political questions, and for the furtherance of the principles of the Democratic party. Dr. WILLIAM C. FOSTER, senior, was called to the Chair, and A. B. CARLTON was chosen Secretary. The object of the meeting was stated by the President, in a few appropriate and patriotic remarks. Short speeches were also delivered by Governor Dunning, Judge Hughes, P. L. D. Mitchell, George A. Buskirk, Elias Abel, Milton McPhetridge, Colonel John M. Sluss, James W. Cookerly, John M. The spoke four hours, and delivered one of the Convention was a failure, in a national point of view; for the delegates from Connecticut, New Hampshire, Massachusetts. Rhode Island, and a portion of those from Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, and Pennsylvania. withdrew from the Convention. The Resolutions adopted as a platform, comprising fifteen sections, are a singular specimen of Jesuitical finesse worthy of their dark-lantern paternity. They consist, with a few exceptions, in the announcement of axiums and truisms that no party calls in

In section 1 they make the grand discovery that there is a God—"a Supreme Being who rules the Universe." Quite a valuable discovery for Know Nothings to make. We hope they will profit by it, and that they will remember that He is the Great Avenger of Blood, who will not suffer the murderers, who make the streets of smoking cities slippery with blood, to go un-

The attention of persons wishing to have land warrants located in Western Iowa, is called to the advertisement of John A. Good-LETT, Esq., of Council Bluffs, Iowa. We have been intimately acquainted with Mr. G. for several years. He is a young gentleman of unexceptional character and is an active business mans has resided for about a year in Western Iowa, having been engaged in civil engineering. His opportunities have therefore been excellent to become acquainted with the location of the best lands in that region. He will be at Bedford during the next two weeks, and persons wishing to send warrants by him can send them to him at that place; after which his address will be Council Bluffs, Iowa.

"Ion," the Washington correspondent of the Baltimore Sun, in a recent letter, Colonel Orr and Mr. Howell Cobb have eturned from their recent excursion to New Hampshire, where they addressed large and enthusiastic bodies of men. on the political topics of the day, and made a most favorable impression. New Hampshire and Maine are relied upon, still, as Democratic States. The other New Eng. land States may possibly be taken by the Americans or Fusionists. New York is quite as uncertain as ever.

It is very doubtful whether there is any Republican party in the country, though we have occasionally heard of such an institution, under a dark epithet.

The state of things in Congress do not give much color to the belief that there is such a party. Yet if there was, it would be more strongly manifested in the House than elsewhere, because a majority of the members were elected under the impulses of the anti-Nebraska feeling, which has very generally subsided.

EDITH, or the Quaker's Daughter. A TALE OF PURITAN TIMES. BY ONE OF HER DESCENDANTS.

THE SCENE of this Domestic Tale is laid during that religious persecution of the Quakers, which is so deep and sad a stain upon the bright fame of the Puritans. To the charm of absorbing interest as a tale, it adds the attraction of historical accuracy.

We have never announced new books with greater satisfaction than in the present instance. These are not sensation books. They do not in any respect be-long to the "gutter literature" of the day. Though differing widely in plot, purpose and style, they may alike lay claim to fascinating interest, and an adapta-tion to improve both head and hear t. [51tf

NEW PURCHASE

Or, Early Years in the West. BY ROBERT CARLTON, ESQ. SECOND EDITION, REVISED AND ILLUSTRATED. IN ONE YOL-UME. FOUR HUNDRED AND FIFTY PAGES. 12MO. сьоти. PRICE $1.25.

THIS work was first published by the Appletons, of New York, 1843, and was sold immediately at $1,50 per copy. The first edition, of 1,000 copies, was not sufficient for the demand and Mr. Appleton was so pleased with the readiness with which the book was sold, that he proposed to the author a new edition of 6,000 copies. Before any steps were taken to reprint, old Mr. Appleton died, and, as the work was not then old air. Appleton deet, and, as the war was no stareotyped, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than ten years the book has therefore been out of print.

The publisher has now the gratification of offering racy and brilliant book, which, for a time, had sunk into obscurity, but now appears again to delight and interest a new generation of readers. The New Purchase is a truthful story of the life of and now of Washington City; Prof. Harney of the Lou-isville Democrat; Governor Wright, of Indiana; the late Governor Whitcomb; Prof. Bush of N. Y.; Hon. Paris C. Dunning; Austin Seward, Esq.; Rev. Andrew Wylie, D. D.; D. H. Maxwell, M. D.; Rev. Isaac Reed; Dr. R. Breckenridge, of Ky.; Rev. W. Martin, of Ind.; with many others whom it may not be advisable to mention.

The incidents of the book are substantially true.

The Camp-Meeting, the Log-Rolling, the Rific Match the Sermon in Foster's Sa Mill, the Barbecue, the Stump Speeches, the troubles and dissensions in College, the Exhibition, the Trial, the Post-office scene Mizriah Ham's discourse the Charivari, the Pigeon shooting, &c., are seenes drawn from nature and pre-sent faithful portraitures of life in a new country. [For the Bloomington News Letter.] My Sister's Grave.

It is a lonely spot; No marble monument is there, To bear the name of one so fair, That she might not be forgot. There stands beside her grave As the tree-a monarch of the west.

As the to guard her place of rest,
As its branches gently wave.

'T is there I love to kneel, Beneath the stars' pale, trembling light, To blend my tears with the drops of night; When sorrows o'er me steal I love to linger there, When twilight's hour dispels each fear, When earth seems distant, heaven near, To lift my soul in prayer.

Sweet Sister, sleep on!— Winter's storm is round thee howling, And the winds are wildly wailing Round thee a fearful song. But sleep on—sweetly rest— Thou art free from earth, free from care,— Thou art an angel bright and fair, With the good, with the blest.

Yes, 't is a lovely spot; But she is with the angel throng— She joins in heaven's blessed song— Earth's sorrows all forgot.
Ere long, I 'll sleep by thee;
Who 'll then linger at the sun's decline
To train the rose tree and the vine Above thy grave, so lonely? Bloomington, February 24, 1856.

Firmness of a Loving Girl in a Pet. Well, let him go, and let him stay-

I do not mean to die: I guess he'll find that I can live Without him, if I try.
He thought to frighten me with frowns,
So terrible and black—
He'll stay away a thousand years
Before I ask him back!

He said that I had acted wrong,

And foolishly beside;
I wont forgive him after that—
I would n't if I died.
If I was wrong, what right had he
To be so cross with me? I know I 'm not an angel quite— I do n't pretend to be.

He had another sweetheart once, And now when we fall out, He always says she was not cross, And that she did n't pout. It 's enough to vex a saint—

It's more than I can bear; I wish that girl of his was— Well, I do n't care where.

He thinks that she was pretty, too-Was beautiful as good:

Was beautiful as good;
I wonder if she 'd get him back
Again, now, if she could?
I know she would, and there she is—
She lives almost in sight;
And now it's after nine o'clock—
Perhaps he 's there to night Perhaps he 's there to-night.

I'd almost write to him to come-But then I 've said I wont; I do not care so much, but she Shant have him, if I do n't. Besides, I know that I was wrong, And he was in the right; I guess I 'll tell him so—and then— I wish he 'd come to-night!

Funeral Eulogy.

As delivered in the Florida House of Representatives, 1848:

Silas Higgins, who was lately a member of this legislature, is dead, and he died yesterday in the forenoon. He had the browncheturs, and was an uncommon individual. Horace Greedy.

This gentleman boasts of having 150-000 subscribers to his Weekly Tribune, $750,000 CAPITAL! which circulates mostly in these Western States. If he makes six cents nett on a subscriber, he is doing a good business. He can well afford to put down his paper He can well afford to put down his paper so near cost that no western publisher can compete with him in price. His becomes a huge monopoly, dictating not only terms is the competence of the co a huge monopoly, dictating not only terms to the printing profession, but by his overshadowing circulation, dictating western opinion. The principal aids to his success in the west are the postmasters in cities towns and country. They have not only been in the habit of volunteering their efforts to get up clube for the Towns. forts to get up clubs for the Tribune, but have been acting as mailing clerks for Sir Horace, saving him thousands of dollars clerk hire per year.

Mr. Greedy, in order to cut under and break down the Western Press, puts clubbing terms down so low as not to take into account the expense of writing subscribers' names upon their respective papers, leaving this for the postmasters to do, who so kindly have sent him his subscribers, and who he knows have got to write said names before they can properly deliver the said papers. In this way he steals a vast amount of gratuitous service from western post masters, which we western publishers do not think of asking.

Now, all we have to say to western post-masters is, that if they owe any such gratuitous service to Horace Greedy, or any other mammoth monopoly establishment east, we expect they will continue to discharge their obligations to him in this way; but if they are real western men, and devoted to western interests; in favor of sustaining western men and western institutions and opinions, we shall expect they will go no farther in their favoriteism for eastern publications than to fully and fairly discharge their duties as post-masters, and leave Sir Horace to mail his own papers or pay his own clerks for so doing.

There is a regulation of the post-office department which requires post-masters, when papers are not "properly directed,' to send them back to the office of publication for proper direction. Of course when a paper or package of papers comes to an office with no direction at all, except the name of the post-office, on the outside wrapper, it becomes the duty of the postmaster to return said papers. If the package is directed to an individual, it should be delivered to him upon his paying the delivered to him upon his paying the proper postage. If he refuses it, it should be returned to the publishers, with the reason given.

Will our cotemporaries throughout the west look to their laurels a little in this matter. We are all threatened with annilation by these huge and overshadowing monopolies of the east. Already the country press is suffering severely, and the city press feel sensibly their undermining influence. Soon the west will be without its press, without its literature, and without its own religious, moral and political opinions. The east will make, extend, control, and govern all.—Cleveland Plaindealer.

Hurley's Sarsaparilla is what is represented, and I believe it the most wonderful medicine before the public. Nothing under heaven could induce me to say so without proof of the strongest and surest kind; therefore I speak willingly and positively on the subject.
My daughter has been afflicted with skin diseases and stiffness of the joints for several years. I employed the principal physicians of this city, and they could not principal physicians of this city, and they could not cure her. ASTHMA CURED.

Here is a case:

BROOKLYN. N. Y., Dec. 20, 1853.

For about eight years I have been severely afflicted with the Asthma; for the last two years I have suffered with the Asthma; for the last two years I have suffered beyond all my powers of description; months at a time I have not been able to sleep in bed, getting what rest I could sitting in a chair. My difficulty of breathing, and my sufferings, were so great at times, that for hours together my friends expected that each hour would be my last. During the past six years I have had the aid and attendance of some of the most celebrated physicians, but have received no permanent benefit, and but little relief. I at length had the good fortune to procure Dr Curtis' Hygeana or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup. At the time I first obtained it, I was suffering under one of my most violent attacks, and was in great distress, almost suffocating for want of and was in great distress, almost suffocating for want of breath. In less than ten minutes from the time I appried the Inhaler to my stomach, and took a teaspoonful of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great measure from the difficulty of breathing, and had a comfortable night. I have since continued with the greatest possible benefit, and am now comparatively well. God only knows the amount of suffering this medicine has relieved me from. My advice to the suffering is—TRY IT.

Soon after wearing the Inhaler; I found it relieved the pressure on my lungs, and after a while the disease made its appearance upon the surface under the Inhaler. I took he Cherry Syrup as directed, and continued to do so, my cough gradually growing better, until it entirely left me, and I now consider myself cured. I still wear the Inhaler, as the use of it is rather pleasant, and believing it strengthening and purifying to the lungs, feel unwilling at present to dispense with it.

Da Lewis—I take great pleasure in informing you that I consider your other's Friend one of the very lest compounds now offered to the public, and especially to afflicted females. For my wife it has worked wonders after a long and tedious trial of three years with other medicines. After she had become much debiliated and almost helpless, from the long coutinued use of useless drugs, she resorted to your o'ther's Friend in connection with other prescriptions which you recommended. These she continued for a short length of time, when she recovered, and now enjoys the blessing of good health. NEW ALBANY, 1854. Dr. Lewis-I have used and thoroughly tried your ot hers' Friend, and find it to be one of the best com-pounds for female weaknesses now extant; and further say that it may well be styled the ohers' Friend for after all specifics have failed, it has performed cures that appeared almost incredible. JOS. CADWALADER.

Louisville, Ky., 1854. DR. LEWIS-Dear sir: I cannot withhold my testi mony as to the value of your Mothers' Friend. It has been used freely in my family in distressing complaints and always with the best effects. It is decidedly the most valuable medicine for female complaints generally, I have ever known.

SALEM. Ind., 1854. DEAR FRIEND—Thy letter has been received, and it is with pleasure that I certify to thee and the world that thy preparations called the Mother's Friend stands without a rival in medical practice. I have used it, and its effects surpass any preparations of that order I ever saw, in those distressing and weakening diseases to which the sex is liable. It quiets the nervous agitation, and restores the natural secretions. Therefore I can safely recommend it to the special attention of my female friends every where, believing they will find it friend indeed. DR. J. TRUEBLOOD.

Hodensville, July, 1854.

Dr. Lewis—I have been using your Mothers' Friend n my practice, and it acts promptly as directed and or the uses for which it is recommended. One of my patients had been afflicted in a manner to be unable to patients had been afficied in a manner to be unable to ride on horseback for four years, but after taking one bottle of your Mothers' Friend, she rode six miles and back the same day. Yours,

"THE MIRROR HELD UP TO NATURE."

'ELECTIC NEW PURCHASE:

Or. Early Years in the West. BY ROBERT CARLTON, ESQ.

UME. FOUR HUNDRED AND FIFTY PAGES. 12Mo.

CLOTH. PRICE $1.25.

THIS work was first published by the Appletons, of New York, 1843, and was sold immediately at $1.50 per copy. The first edition, of 1,000 copies, was not sufficient for the demand and Mr. Appleton was so pleased with the readiness with which the book was sold, that he proposed to the author a new edition of 6,000 copies. Before any steps were taken to reprint, old Mr. Appleton died, and, as the work was not then stereotyped, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than ten years the book has therefore been out of print. UME. FOUR HUNDRED AND FIFTY PAGES. 12mo.

en years the book has therefore been out of print.
The publisher has now the gratification of offering a racy and brilliant book, which, for a time, had sunk into obscurity, but now appears again to delight and interest a new generation of readers. The New Purchase is a truthful story of the life of the author for a period of nearly eight years, a portion of which time he was a Professor in the University of Indiana, and enjoyed the society of many men eminent in learning and politics. Amid the varied joys and sorrows, trials and triumphs, which attend the career of sorrows, trials and triumphs, which attend the career of the author while sojourning in the West, he kindly introduces the reader to many of his cotemporaries, some of whom are painted by a friendly hand, whilst others are touched as if with caustic. Some of the characters are General John McCalla, of Lexington, Ky, and now of Washington City; Prof. Harney of the Louisville Democrat; Governor Wright, of Indiana; the late Governor Whitcomb; Prof. Bush of N. Y.; Hon. Paris C Dunning; Austin Seward, Esq.; Rev. Andrew Wylie, D. D.; D. H. Maxwell, M. D.; Rev. Isaac Reed; Dr. R. Breckenridge, of Ky.; Rev. W. Martin, of Ind.; with many others whom it may not be advisable to mention.

The incidents of the book are substantially true.-The Camp-Meeting, the Log-Rolling, the Rifle Mutch, the Sermon in Foster's Sa Mill, the Barbecue, the Stump Speeches, the troubles and dissensions in College, the Exhibition, the Trial, the Post-office scene, Mizriah Ham's discourse, the Charivari, the Pigeonshooting, &c., are scenes drawn from nature and pre-sent faithful portraitures of life in a new country.
