Fatal Affray.

Yesterday evening Mr. Thomas B. Dent, druggist, corner of Walnut and Seventh streets, was fatally stabbed by Edwin Clark, formerly a clerk in M. C. C. Spencer's Auction House. He was stabbed in the breast with a small bowie knife, the blade of which penetrated three or four inches, causing his death in three minutes. Clark, after inflicting the fatal wound, and seeing Dent fall prostrate on the ground, went directly to the jail and gave himself up.

The affray occurred in the street, in front of or opposite to Mr. Dent's shop, about 5 o'clock across the Atlantic, and overtook the party at in the evening. We heard various versions of stamps. STAMPS CUT FROM LETTER ENVELOPES ARE VALUELESS.—We understand inquiries continue to be made at the Department why stamps cut from stamped envelopes cannot be used in the prepayment of letters, in the same manner as ordinary postage mistake, destroy the envelope, and without stopping to reflect, many think it a hardship that, having paid the government both for the stamp and envelope, they cannot be allowed to cut out and use the stamp on a plain envelope.

The principal reasons why this cannot be permitted are: first, the law gives no value to such stamps, and makes no provision for their use, except when connected with and forming a part of the envelopes as prepared under the law, with suitable water marks, &c., to prevent fraud; second, letters in stamped envelopes may be lawfully carried outside of the mail, and when so carried, it is believed that the stamps are seldom, if ever, cancelled. These are controlling reasons, and will at once commend themselves to every person of reflection. Wash. Union.

Terrible Steamboat Disaster! MESSRS. CARLTON: Permit me through your COLLISION BETWEEN THE HENRY LEWIS AND E. HOWARD!!

Yesterday morning intelligence of a city. We took some pains to gather, from all sources within our reach, as many particulars as possible. The following are On Saturday morning, about 4 o'clock, the steamer Henry Lewis, bound for New bound came in collision at the head of Anderson's bar, in the Ohio river, some ten miles below Hawesville. The Henry Lewis was loaded down to the guards, and was covered with freight upon the hurrifell in and settled down upon the boiler deck. It is supposed that most of the firemen, deck hands, and persons on the lower deck, perished. We are told that when the side of the boat which careened over, must have been drowned in their berths, while others escaped from the cabin.

We learn that the second steward and second cook are among the drowned. One man whose life was saved had his wounded by the crush of the cabin.

The books of the boat and all are sunk together; hence the names of the passengers are not known. The officers-at least the captain and clerk—are safe.

We conversed with a young man who was in the cabin at the time of the collision. He says he stayed on board until he saw that the boat was taking fire, when he jumped overboard, hoping at first to swim to the E. Howard but afterwards feared that the waves from that boat would drown kinds; also a variety of household and kitchen furnihim, turned about and swam with the currant until he got hold of a barrel, and after floating half a mile was picked up by some men in a skiff. He say's several ser giving note with freehold security, waiving all valuation laws. All sums under there dollars cash. others swam from the cabin-how they fared, whether they escaped to shore or were drowned, he could not tell.

Accounts differ widely as to the number suppose to be lost. Some estimate the number not to exced from fifteen to twenty, while others insist that thirty or forty perished. We shall hope to learn the particulars in

Or, Early Years in the West. BY ROBERT CARLTON, ESQ. SECOND EDITION, REVISED AND ILLUSTRATED. IN ONE VOL-

UME. FOUR HUNDRED AND FIFTY PAGES. 12MO. CLOTH. PRICE $1.25. THIS work was first published by the Appletons, of New York, 1843, and was sold immediately at $1,50 per copy. The first edition, of 1,000 copies, was not sufficient for the demand and Mr. Appleton was so pleased with the readiness with which the book was sold, that he proposed to the author a new edition of 6,000 copies. Before any steps were taken to reprint, old Mr. Appleton died, and, as the work was not then stereotyped, his sons lost sight of it, and for more than stereotyped, its sons lost signs of it, and in indee that ten years the book has therefore been out of print. The publisher has now the gratification of offering a racy and brilliant book, which, for a time, had sunk into obscurity, but now appears again to delight and interest a new generation of readers.

The New Purchase is a truthful story of the life of the author for a period of nearly eight years, a portion of which time he was a Professor in the University of Indiana, and enjoyed the society of many men eminent in learning and politics. Amid the varied joys and sorrows, trials and triumphs, which attend the career of the author while sojourning in the West, he kindly in-troduces the reader to many of his cotemporaries, troduces the reader to many of his cotemporaries, some of whom are painted by a friendly hand, whilst others are touched as if with caustic. Some of the characters are General John McCalla, of Lexington, Ky., and now of Washington City; Prof. Harney of the Louisville Democrat; Governor Wright, of Indiana; the tate Governor Whitcomb; Prof. Bush of N. Y.; Hon. Paris C. Dunning; Austin Seward, Esq.; Rev. Andrew Wylie, D. D.; D. H. Maxwell, M. D.; Rev. Isaac Reed; Dr. R. Breckenridge, of Ky.; Rev. W. Martin, of Ind.; with many others whom it may not be advisable to mention. mention.

From Eliza Cook's Journal. The Deck of the Outward Bound How seldom we dream of the mariner's grave,

Far down by the coral strand; How little we think of the wind and the wave,
When all that we love are on land!

When all that we love are on land!
The hurricane comes and the hurricane goes,
And little heed do we take,
Though the trees may snap as the tempest blows,
And the walls of our homestead shake;
But the northeast wind tells a different tale,
With a price of fearful sound. With a voice of fearful sound, When a loved one is under a close-reefed sail,

On the deck of an "outward bound." How wistful then we look on the light, As the threatening clouds go by
And the wind gets up, and the last faint night
Is dying away in the sky!
How we listen and gaze with sitent lip,

And judge of the bended tree, How the same wild wind might toss the ship, And arouse the mighty sea; Ah, sadly then do we meet the day When signs of storm are found, And pray for the loved one far away On the deck of the "outward bound."

There is one that I cherished when hand in hand We roved over the lowland lee;
And I thought that my love for that one on land Was as earnest as love could be;
But now that he hath gone out on the tide,
I find that I worship him more,
And I think of the waters deep and wide,

As I bask on the flowers on shore.

I have watched the wind, I have watched the stars, And shrunk from the tempest sound; For my heart-strings are wreathed with the slender spars That carry the "outward bound."

I have slept when the zephyrs forgot to creep, And the sky was without a frown;
But I started soon from that fearful sleep, When I dreamed of a ship going down.
I have sat in the field when the corn was in shock, And the reaper's hook was bright,
But my fancy conjured the breaker and rock,
In the dead of a moonlight night.
O. I will never measure affection again,
While teading and the faction again,

While treading earth's flowery mound,
But will wait till the loved one is far o'er the main,

BROOKLYN. N. Y., Dec. 20, 1853.

For about eight years I have been severely afflicted with the Asthma; for the last two years I have suffered beyond all my powers of description; months at a time I have not been able to sleep in bed, getting what rest I could sitting in a chair. My difficulty of breathing, and my sufferings, were so great at times that for have and my sufferings, were so great at times, that for hour together my friends expected that each hour would be together my friends expected that each hour would be my last. During the past six years I have had the aid and attendance of some of the most celebrated physicians, but have received no permanent benefit, and but little relief. I at length had the good fortune to procure Dr Curtis' Hygeana or Inhaling Hygean Vapor and Cherry Syrup. At the time I first obtained it, I was suffering under one of my most violent attacks, and was in great distress, almost suffocating for want of breath. In less than ten minutes from the time I applied the Inhaler to my stomach, and took a teaspoonful of the Cherry Syrup. I was relieved in a great measful of the Cherry Syrup, I was relieved in a great measure from the difficulty of breathing, and had a comfortable night. I have since continued with the greatest possible benefit, and am now comparatively well. God only knows the amount of suffering this medicine has religious the form. relieved me from. My advice to the suffering is—tray ir.

combination, together with the important fact that it is the only preparation in America containing Honduras or Para root, establish beyond all doubt that it is the sufferer's remedy. Its extensive popularity and wide-spreading fame, coupled with unparalleled cures effect ed by its agency, have gained both public confidence and professional reliance. Therefore, henceforth let it be understood, for the proofs are too numerous and overwhelming to be questioned, that HURLEY'S SAR-SAPARILLA is the most valuable and wonderful medicine ever offered to the world.

DR. LEWIS' MOTHERS' FRIEND.

THIS compound I have proved by practice of more than twelve years, and it has ever proved efficacious in the cure of diseases for which it is recommended, where there was any hope.

Market st., between Second and Third. Jefferson Co., K y., arch, 1855. Dr. Lewis-I take great pleasure in informing you that I consider your Mother's Friend one of the very best compounds now offered to the public, and especially to afflicted females. For my wife it has worked wonders after a long and tedious trial of three years with other medicines. After she had become much de-

Hurley's Sarsaparilla. THIS invaluable compound, so fully appreciated by the American people, is gaining wide celebrity, and has become permanently established the best and most effective medicine of the day. Certificates are daily pouring in from all parts of the States, and the afflicted now rejoice that there is help when every other remedy proved ineffectual. Diseases which for years proved a source of misery and agonizing torture readily yield beneath its irresistible influence, and countless amilies rendered happy and cheerful by its extraordinary efficacy. If you want the pure and genuine Sarsaparilla, that which is as different and superior to Bull's, Blackwell's, Townsend's, Sands', Guysott's, Cox's, or Nothing under heaven could induce me to say so lieving it strengthening and purifying to the lungs, without proof of the strongest and surest kind; therewithout proof of the strongest and surest kind : there-fore I speak willingly and positively on the subject. My daughter has been afflicted with skin diseases and stiffness of the joints for several years. I employed the principal physicians of this city, and they could not cure her. I gave her your Sarsaparilla, not expecting it would do much good, but, to my great astonishment, she rapidly got well, and, thank God, continues so.—
