America Again Mourns

For the sixth time has America been made to mourn the death of her chief executive, and in each instance, the hand of death has touched the brow of the President of the United States when least expected. Heading, despite that he was ill, came as a shock and today millions of Americans have not fully realized that another has taken his place as chief executive of our country.

Mr. Harding, by virtue of his office as President of the world's greatest their government after the government of the United States.

Mr. Harding, by virtue of modified as the harassed nations of Europe looked to America to cure their ills while refusing to pattern their government after the government of the United States.

The career of President Harding, which ended so suddenly in San Francisco, on last Thursday evening, emphasizes the opportunities afforded Americans. Born a poor boy, Mr. Harding, by dint of hard work and study, gradually climbed the ladder of success until he stood at the head of the world's greatest nation. In this position, in the prime of life, he was struck down; the genial smile which had become known throughout the nation is gone as a faithful wife and an aged father mourn their irreparable loss. Americans have lost a president but to these two the passing of the president brings a far deeper and far more lasting sorrow than is felt by the millions whose heartfelt sympathy goes out to the bereaved with and sorrowing father.

The people of the United States, regardless of party, mourn the untimely death of Mr. Harding, his sudden going has left the nation stunned.

As to the true cause of the president's death The Flery Cross at thi As to the true cause of the president's death The Fiery Cross at this me withholds an opinion despite most peculiar circumstances that surround the illness and death of America's chief executive. However, his each has not stopped un-American statements out of Montreal, Canada, and this very fact has caused attention to be drawn to them and to cause onjecture as to why Montreal has been chosen as [Lo city through which tatements, fostered and written in the United States, are given to the press in that city.

Exploiting the Klan

Exploiting the Klan

The Fiery Cross does not propose to be the watchdog of the Klansmen's pockethooks and hank accounts, but it does feet keenly the responsibility to its readers where the matter of dollars and cents is concerned. Naturally, in a growing movement of this kind every sort, kind and conceivable manner of extracting dollars from Klan pockethooks as put forth. All these schemes are viewed with distrust and in the majority of instances after carreil investigation by the editorial department of The Fiery Cross are cast aside as unworthy of Klan support. We have consistently refused to carry advertising pertaining to the sale of stocks or even bonds or any other proposition that does not deliver either merchandles or service for every dollar received.

For this position we have been criticized and classed as czars, and termed dictatorial. Such is farthest from our intentions; it is only a sense of deep responsibility to members of the organization, and to protect them from exploitation that we are ever realous of safeguarding their welfare and interest in this connection.

Our policy will continue rigidly in the future as in the past, to refuse to give news matter or advertising space to any proposition whatsoever

Our policy will continue rigidly in the future as in the past, to refuse to give news matter or advertising space to any proposition whatsoever that has for its purpose, directly or indirectly, the selling of stocks or even bonds, regardless of their merit, regardless of how worthy they may be, regardless of whether they have passed the Public Service Commission or not, and regardless of every other point whatsoever. If corporations desire to cater to Klansmen they should finance themselves and then thrive on Klinb business, and we will always lend them our support in securing Klan business, and we will always lend them our support in securing Klan business and Klan support, but again reiterate that we will never at any time have anything whatsoever to do with a single proposition, regardless of how worthy or unworthy it may be, if it has to do with the selling of stocks or bonds to Klansmen.

unworthy it may be, it is nist of working the sense of the organizers selling emblems, which in themates selves are prohibited, to members of the organization for $8$, that can be secured of Kian jewelers for $5$, and diverting trade from the usual channels of merchandising, can not be condemned too emphatically.

The members of the Women's Organization, if they desire emblems, and they are authorized, are certainly entitled to item, but for organizers at oself them and at a profit is commercialization of the worst order. It is unto authorized year and is principles and code of ethics.

The Fiery fores will at all times expose and condemn the practice of waving the flag in the face of individuals, and taking profit in one hand, while holding the Bible in the other.

If members of the organization want to wear enhelms, let them buy them of jewelers, and merchanis who are under fire, who are out in the open and who are operating under boycott, and not escourage practices of commercialization within the organization.

There's the Answer

There's the Aniswer

The past week chapters of the so-called Race Justice League were established in Cleveland and Cincinnati. News reports declare that its purpose is to "oppose and expose" the activities of the Ku Klux Klan. If the membership will subscribe to The Flery Cross they will find the activities of the Klan "exposed" as best trained newspaper men can do it. There is no question but what the league intends to prey upon the prejudices of the un-American elements and the foreigner. If that is not true, why did it make its headquarters in Ohio's two largest cliems, where the proportion of foreign-born residents is the highest and where elements opposed to true Americanism flourish easiest. Officials of our contemporary organization know full well that in cittes like Columbus, for instance, where the foreign population is less than 5 per cent of the whole, they would have no backing and would die a natural death.

Bankers and Bootleggers

There are bankers today who are financing bodtleg operations, just as there were bankers who gambled on warehouse receipts for whisky after it had become apparent that prohibition had won its signal victory, according to the charges of W. IOWA HEARS CALL AND IS HEARKENING

Membership Estimates Prove to Be Too Conservative as Ready Response Is Felt

DES MOINES, Ia., Aug. 7.—Iowa has heard the call of the Ku Klux Klan and is hearkening to it.

The pendulum of public sentiment is swinging in the direction of the Invisible Empire in spite of the propaganda of the enemy, and the smoke-screen tactics of pro-papists in Masonic and Protestant circles.

This summer is seeing a greater response to the Invisible Empire than has been witnessed in any other state in the union in a similar length of time. The recent prediction that Iowa would have 75,000 Klanamen by fall is already proven far more conservative than when the estimate was made less than a month ago.
