What's in a Name

What's in a Name

In selecting its membership from a particular class of persons, the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan in nowise reflects upon those who do not belong to that class. This, however, does not mean that the class which is not eligible to membership does not have within it those who, despite their great cry against the Klan for its "un-Americanism" foully take the law into their own hands and attempt, by coercion, intimidation, assault and even murder, to destroy the Klan.

The daily press is filled with news of assaults on Klan parades, Klan meetings and individual .Klansmen. In view of this fact, just which class of the two mentioned above is the law violator? Surely the Klan is not violating the law because its meetings are fired upon; it can hardly be said that the Klan is breaking the law when their parade is stoned. Klansmen who are murdered certainly have not transgressed the law by dying by the bullet fired or the knife wielded by one opposed to the Klan.

the Man. The list of the outrages against Klansinen is so long that it would take weeks to compile even an incomplete list. However, the more recent and outstanding incidents are the murder of Robert Watson, of Indianapolis; the murder of the Klansman who was shot down in Pittaburph last Saturday as he marched in a parade. The assault by a mob on visiting Klansmen in Steubenville, last week. The two men who were shot at Rushville about three weeks ago as they sat listening to a speech at an alleged Klan meeting. The shooting of a Klansman as a parade started in Burlington. Indiana, last week. The concerted assault on an alleged Klan meeting in East Chicago, last week, was most certainly not made by Klansmen.

The kidnapping of a cripple, an alleged Klansman, at Cincinnati, recently and his torture by his captors who afterward threw him from a preeding machine could hardly be "ladd at the door of the Kinn." At Washington, Indiana, a man is now waiting trial for the murder of a Klansman; at Khox, an exsecretary of the Knights of Columbus must face a trial for firing on men and women who sat peacefully within a building at, an alleged Klan meeting, and wounding two of them. The advancementioned crimes are but a mere scratch of the surface of the work of the merits of the decreased of the members of the Knights of the arrange of the myriad of crimes of which those opposed to the Klan are guilty. In view of the scores of such crimes committed each day throughout the country and against the members of the Kn Klux Klan, it naturally gives the output and Jews. Which of these four divisions produce these criminals? Or, have these four divisions formed into an alliance to perpetrate these outcrages?

A man's nationality can usually be determined by his name. Would of the outrages against Klansmen is so long that it would or, nave the victors of each of these victors are to perpetrate these outrages?

man's nationality can usually be determined by his name it be a good idea for one who wishes to determine who is It not be a good idea for one who wishes to determine who is the most radically opposed to the Ku Klux Klan, to watch the names of those who most vigorously attack the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan? Also, one may, after fascertaining one's nationality, usually determine his religion. While not wishing to check up names, nor to make the deduction for the reader, an example of the method advocated to gain the information

In Indianapolis, the names that prominently appear as fighting the Klan, are: O'Brien, Mullin, Glenn, McNamara, Rikhoff, Lyday, O'Mahony, stc. The name of the chief of police in Lexington. Kentucky, who arsets a men as- he finished repeating the Lord's prayer, was Reagan. In Springfield, O'Mio, the name of the chief of police who is now under fer from patriotic organizations for his unjust attack on the Klan, is 'Brien. Hogan is the name of the culprit who fired a shotgun into a neeting of women and men not far from South Bend. The names of the new ho founded the most radical anti-Klan paper in America are Roach and O'Donnell.

and O'Donnell.

These, of course, are just a few names, but it will give the reader ni idea of how to determine just who it is that hates the Ku Kiux Kian—ind why. The reader, after some study, should be abje to determine attenuity of the men named above which, in a way, helps determine helically when the study would be interesting. The names vary greatly—A nation-wide study would be interesting. The names vary greatly—nee in a while the name of Sweeney will appear, or Flarity or Mulligan It is, indeed, an interesting study.

Submitted Without Comment

Tolerance, mouthplece-in-chief for the alien forces bent upon destroyspirit of Americanism in this country, and which is filled with outrages" each week, prints, on page nine, the following in its f August 28, as the official version of the "Klan outrage" in Steu-it is submitted without comment:

it is submitted without comment: Clansmen parked their cars in front of the postoffice and went to adquarters, where they remained for a time and then re-entered

"In the mentime a great crowd had gathered about the machines. As the head car, decorated with American flags and an electric cross, started away, men jumped onto the running boards and attacked the occupants, who were pulled into the street and beaten.

"Fights started all along the street. Four policemen who rushed to the scene were unable to fight their way through the crowd.

"A riot call was sounded. A score of police and deputy sheriffs arrived on the scene as the mob overturned a dozen machines and beat and kicked the occupants."

The Tact that Tolerance, according to its own word, "just happened" to have a correspondent in Steubenville on that date, is also submitted without comment. meantime a great crowd had gathered about the machines

It may be learned that they "just happened" to have a correspondent in Pittsburg on last Saturday when a Klansman was shot to death and scores beaten and stoned by the alien mobs whom Tolerance represents.

With Ora Davis, mayor of Terre Haute, an announced "anti-Klas date for governor; Limber Lunged Lew, rubber stamp of Indianapolis, sought to run for president, and Mayor Durgan, of Lafayette, "named" by the Indiana Catholic Record as Democratic nomines for the governor-ship, Mayor Brown, of Nobleaville, is no doubt, patiently waiting an offer to take Garagel Parables." to take General Pershing's job.

As Italian merchant in Pittsburgh, after viewing a large Klan parade, sold his business and salled for Italy, because "Americana had no rights any more." Fortunately, the right to return to Italy, his hirthplace, had not yet been denied this staunch American.

With the crews near mutiny as they neared yet unsighted land, the days of the navigator of 1492 must have been drab and fearful; but just think of the nights of Columbus. How much worse,

A selective limitigration law appeals to Secretary of Labor James J. Davis—and he ought to be an authority on the subject. Returning from a six months' solourn in Europe, where he made an intensive study of the question as it affects that must make some people shake in their shoes. Mr. Davis dwells on the fact that millions of foreigners are desirous of coming here. Selective immigration, based upon the fittest, he believes, is the answer to flux of undestrables must be curtailed so "that we will be able to Americanize the alien before the alien allenizes the American." He callies that we must have profection and safety against the hordes of Hortentots (that figure is ours), that seek to swamp us. Says Mr. Davis: "If we have the courage and vision to make a real, true, rigid selective immigration jaw, we will be able to get strong, unstanding men and America." All of which sounds nice—and is being much quoted.
