Fiery Cross Finances Are in Excellent Shape

No one has been set for the budget of the church's fund drive. The service was called a "friendly" by Ernest Reicher, president of the Cross Publishing Company, who entered the suit.

Prince Bloom, assistant secretary of the company, was in excellent shape, and was welcomed by Mrs. Reicher, who is the president of the company. The service was led by Mr. Reicher, who announced that it was to be held in the auditorium. The church was filled with people, and the service concluded with a collection for the fund drive.

SCHIERER BEARS MINISTRY

In his announcement as a candidate for re-election, Mr. Reicher says:

"I am the owner of the church and I am the leader of the membership in our church. We have been working hard to build up our membership and we have done so.

"We have had a lot of success in our fund drive, and we have built up a strong membership. We are now in a position to take on new projects and to expand our work.

"I am confident that we will continue to grow and to strengthen our membership. I am proud to be associated with the church and I am proud to be a member of our membership."

EDITORIAL

The Fiery Cross is published every Friday by The Fiery Cross Publishing Company, Indianapolis, and will maintain a policy of unbiased, fair, and balanced reporting. Our goal is to keep our readers informed about current events without bias or sensationalism.

Where Taxes Go

A general press dispatch from Washington gives the United States government a total of over $10,000,000,000 since the last report. This is the highest figure ever recorded, and it is expected to continue rising.

News of the week's events includes several stories noteworthy than the others. For instance, the New York Times reported that a series of murders had occurred in a small town in the state of California. The police are still investigating the case, and it is unclear what the motive behind the crimes could be.

The crosses of the Bible are an example of the power of faith and devotion. They serve as a reminder of the faith of those who have believed in God and His teachings. The crosses are also a symbol of the suffering and sacrifice that many people have undergone in the pursuit of their faith.

The Library Fund

They say that $10,000,000 of gold is being spent on the building of the Library of Congress, but few people seem to know what this means. The Library of Congress is a place where books are stored and can be borrowed by anyone who wants to read them. It is a place where knowledge is preserved for future generations.

The moral of our story is that we should value knowledge and education, and work to ensure that everyone has access to it. This is a responsibility that we all share, and it is important that we work together to make it happen.

The Rose and the Sea

“A rose by any other name would smell as sweet.” —Shakespeare

The nature of the rose has remained the same regardless of its name. This is a fact that we can all agree on. It is also true that the rose has a certain charm and beauty that is difficult to replicate.

The道德 of our story is that we should appreciate the beauty of things as they are, rather than trying to change them to fit our own ideas. This is a lesson that we can all learn from the rose.

Why Not Use Economy?

There is a discussion as to whether or not we should use the word “economy” in our discussions. Some argue that it does not have a clear meaning, while others believe that it is the right term to use. There is no clear consensus on this issue.

The moral of our story is that we should use words that are clear and easily understood. This is important if we want to communicate effectively with each other.

The Spiritual Power

We believe in the power of the spirit to influence the world. The spirit is a force that can be harnessed and used for good. It is a force that can be used to bring about change.

The moral of our story is that we should use the power of the spirit to make the world a better place. This is a responsibility that we all share, and it is important that we work together to make it happen.

The Values Become Clear

Several involved in history and political science have stated that the rise in the number of people living in poverty is due to several factors. Among these factors are the policies of the government and the actions of corporations.

The moral of our story is that we should be careful with our words and actions. We should strive to make the world a better place, and we should work to ensure that our actions are in line with this goal.

JUNIOR KLASMANN HAVE A NEW PLAN

funds, may become Junior Klasmann.

Under the arrangement, all members of the senior organization in Gibbon county are to pay an equal amount toward this fund. The junior members are to have the same amount and will be paid at the end of the school year. The money collected will be invested in the local bank.

When the funds are paid in, the junior members will be able to use the funds for any project they wish. They may use the money to pay for a trip, a special event, or even to buy a new building for the school.

The idea for this arrangement came from the junior members themselves. They were tired of seeing the senior members take all the fun and money, and decided to take matters into their own hands.

GEO GEORGE WOOD

CHARLES W. W. Va., March 28—A group of students from the junior class at the high school in Gibbon, Nebraska, are planning to raise funds for a new building.

The students have been working hard to plan and organize the fund-raising effort. They have already held a bake sale and a car wash, and have received several donations from local businesses.

The students hope to raise enough money to cover the cost of the new building, which will be used for educational purposes.

The students are asking for the support of the local community in their efforts to raise funds. They believe that the new building will benefit the entire community, and are grateful for any support they can receive.

The students are working hard to ensure that the new building is built as soon as possible. They are determined to make sure that their hard work and dedication pay off, and are confident that they will succeed.

The students are planning to hold a grand opening ceremony for the new building when it is completed. They hope that the community will join them in celebrating this important achievement.

For more information about the fund-raising effort, please contact the students at the high school in Gibbon, Nebraska.

Another Klan Buster Is Facing Probe in Alleged Crooked Land Deal

(Bureau Publication and Education) WASHINGTON March 20 — R. R. Cresper of Brownsville, Tex., Re- publican national committeeman for the Lone Star state, is reported by the Associated Press to be charged with rights to the Ku Klux Klan in both national conventions. At the Republican national convention in 1908, Cresper was absent and was found in the same state with his Alamo Land and Sugar Company before a Senate subcommittee of the committee on postoffice and post roads of the Senate.

Cresper and his company stand charged by Senator Heflin, of Ala- bama, and others, with having defrauded many persons during a period of years of money through the sale of land in Cameron and Victoria counties, Tex., in the Rio Grande valley.

Cresper also is charged by Senator Heflin with having instrumental in conferences here with officials of the postoffice department and the department of justice in having an investigation of the alleged frauds dropped. Senator Heflin is being quoted as saying "Dr. Proctor" by James H. Fisk, of Kansas City, an attorney who has investigated the matter and also by a number of postal officials who are to give evidence.

Voluntary correspondence be- tween the postoffice and justice de- partments and their field branches and between the officials of the department in Washington and individuals outside who were interested in the several development companies in the Rio Grande valley went into the records. Those dealt mostly with efforts made in 1911 and 1912 to obtain a continuance of cases pending in Kansas City against the W. R. Stewart Company, with the successful move of R. R. Cresper, Republican national committeeman for Texas, to have the investigation into the Alamos Land and Sugar Company by a postal inspector from the Kansas City district transferred to the jurisdiction of some other agent.

Cresper charged James H. Fisk, of Kansas City, the inspector who started the inquiry, was prejudiced, and Cresper used his influence to have the case taken away from him and given to a Philadelphia man. According to testimony given in October, 1921, soon after Cresper and other land company officials had called at the postoffice department to ask, according to testimony, that no action be taken until the newly selected investiga- tives, the correspondence covered a period of some four months.

RECKLESSLY INDEPENDENT IN KOUNTZ 26—Mar. 19—The Times-Republican, the reck- lessly independent newspaper of this community, does not desire the business of Americans. It refused to print an advertisement touting a sale of public Kountz land. After it had ac- cepted the money and gave a receipt to the Klan agent for the adver- tisement, the newspaper community could sue the paper for dam- ages. Since it is incorporated under the laws of Texas, the newspaper is subject to suit.

ANOTHER FLAT-COLLARED MAN—March 19—The Daily News gives an especial annual selection of the most beautiful, elegant, and tasteful ladies' wear. The Daily News is the only daily paper in Texas which prints in full-page advertisements and American news. Why is it, if it is going to be done, Why Not Find Out Also Who Placed Pope's Head on American Paper Money?

(Bureau Publication and Education) WASHINGTON March 20—The House of Representatives has or- dered an investigation by a special committee of the Inspector General regarding duplication of bonds by the Bureau of engraving and printing, and the printing of the pope's head on United States paper money, all done by the same company.

The House passed the Seabury resolu- tion, a substitute for the Kilgore reso- lution, ordering that this investiga- tion shall be made by a special commit- tee of five members to be ap- pointed by the Speaker.

Chairman Seabury told the House that he had consulted with Secretary McNeil, who advised him that the government had not lost any money by duplication of bonds, but that he favored an investigation in order that the entire controversy which had developed into a scandal might be cleared up.

Representative Watkins, (Dem., Ohio) objecting whether this special committee would go into the same controversy or officials at the Bureau of engraving and printing by order of President Harding. Chairman Seabury then asked that an inquiry into the commission was not neces- sary and satisfactory investigation in the matter.

Representative Carrell, of Tennes- see, minority leader, explained that if it were known in the duplica- tion of bonds, the trial led to the Sargent House floor and that the Democrats from the floor so that the subject became in- terrogated, the investigation was commit- ted to the majority party. Chairman Seabury agreed with this interpretation and others argued for a real investigation that would clarify the matter.

The investigation ought also to go on and close the purpose of the investigation act on the pope's head on American paper money. Let the investigation be cleared up and the gutter nailed. No whitewash whatever should be used.

Romans Ordered to Vote for Al Smith and Walsh

Dorothy, W., Vis.

Editor The Fiery Cross

Dear Sir—Permit me a few words of my appreciation of the topics of the day, and to my mind, the day of the red-blooded American citizen.

It is with a heart full of rejoicing that I write to you today. I feel that the people of this city are ready and willing to give their support to the great office of president of the United States. The campaign has been long and arduous, but I am sure that the victorious candidate will be the best choice for the country. I am fully aware that there are many who think differently, but I believe that the voice of the people should be heard.

Should we be concerned about the outcome of the election? Of course we should. The future of our country depends on the choice we make. It is important that we vote for the candidate who we believe will best represent our values and ideals. I urge you to vote for Al Smith and Walsh, as I am confident that they will make the right decisions for our country.

Sincerely,

Terre Haute Man Calmly Looks Into Barrel of Revolver and Refuses to Be Stamped

As an illustration of the way the organizers of the campaign are attempting to stifle free speech, a man in Terre Haute was arrested by the police for carrying a loaded revolver. The man, who refused to talk to the police officer, stated that he was simply defending himself. This is a typical example of the tactics being used by the organizers. They are trying to silence anyone who dares to speak out against their plans.

In Need of Help? Bobbing and Blossoms

Bobby had an apparently mean and biting disposition. He would not allow anyone to touch him, and he was always ready to leap at the slightest provocation. This behavior was particularly annoying to the other customers, who found his constant barking and hissing to be disruptive to their shopping experience. It was decided that Bobby should be removed from the store.
