Steel Work Reaches Fifth Floor of Ten-Story Building—To Furnish Protestant Center

In this face of handicaps, including "valuable" winter weather, an excessive and continuous rain during the spring months, Liberty Hall, which when completed will furnish a meeting place for Protestant organizations and a community center of a large scope, is now under way. The project is being carried on by the Protestant community center, which has been organized to secure additional funds for the project.

Each time that appeals have been issued to secure additional funds for the project, the response has been so generous that the project is now well advanced. The project is being carried on by the Protestant community center, which has been organized to secure additional funds for the project.

Increasing 1,000 a Week on Long Island—Roman Catholic Is Quoted as Friendly

(Special to The Fiery Cross)
NEW YORK, June 16.—That the Klan in New York is gaining enormous strength on Long Island is declared by some of its most ardent enemies. The New York Times, an avowed enemy of the organization, has recognized this fact and in its issue of June eighth prints the statement that 1,000 were in attendance at the first meeting of the organization at the Long Island City club house.

The article in question was one of the fairest so far printed by New York papers and is looked upon as an "entering wedge" for more to follow. It is in the opinion of many, the first break in the rigid wall set by the metropolitan press against the Klan organization.

Arguments Are Heard on Petition Filed on October 2, 1923—Importance of Decision Is Seen in Confidence Placed in Indianapolis Judge by Legal Fraternity and Jurists Throughout the Country—Suits Based on Allegation That Names Were "Illegally Kept on Klan Register"

In a ruling made by Judge A. B. Anderson, in federal court, Indianapolis, in the suit filed by Joseph Roach and Patrick O'Donnell last October on the behalf of citizens of Indianapolis, the names of the members of the Ku Klux Klan will not have to be made public.

The legal fraternity and jurists throughout the country put much confidence in the Indianapolis judge.

The suit was filed by the Klan on October 2, 1923, and the plaintiffs being Benjamin Thomas and other citizens of South Bend, and arguments were heard before Judge Anderson on a motion to have the Klan answer thirty-four questions.

The Creager forces at several times thought they were on the verge of success, but the cool counsel of Senator Norbeck, of South Dakota, and the masterful arguments of Senators Watson and Smoot finally overcame most of the opposition. The committee then decided to reject Creager's demands and adopt a plan that could not offend any Senator.

The Rian plank as adopted is as follows: "The Republican party reaffirms its unflinching devotion to the constitution and to the guarantee of civil, religious and political liberties therein contained. We must have respect for law. We must have observance of law. We must have enforcement of law. The very existence of the government depends on this. The substitution of private will for public law is only another name for oppression, disorder, anarchy and mob rule."

Dr. Hiram Weaver, former University of Chicago, was in Cleveland of the Klan was in Cleveland and he was ably backed and assisted by prominent Klan leaders from all sections of the United States who made their influence felt among Republican leaders for the good of the Klan and the country. Their work was intensive and it required such because of the activity of the anti-Klan fellows. They even had to combat such men as Ogden Mills, of New York, who was a member of the committee and ready to fight the adoption of an anti-Klan bill. Mills wanted the others, it was with Congress. It was a great Klan victory and can not be construed in any other way.

The back is now respectfully passed up to the Democratic party at its coming New York convention and Kluksunna everywhere, millions of them, are only waiting to see what will be done. A strong and perhaps stronger effort will be made there to get a plank denouncing the Klan. Such a position is taken by Senator Oscar Underwood, a candidate, and it is reported that he will be aided by Governor Al Smith along the same line. Undoubtedly Greager will be found trying to get in his word that the Democrats just in time will be able to get a plank against and there will be others. And the right is just ahead. Watch the outcome.

OBERLIN, Kan., June 18.—A Masonic ceremony of exceptional interest took place when the Master Mason degree was conferred on a candidate with his father acting as master, his four brothers acting as wardens and deacons, and his uncle acting as senior warden.

The fact that the Klan leaders prefer Raision to McAdoo merely changes the chronology of the New York contention as it has been generally anticipated. It probably means, according to shrewd political observers here, that instead of the expected long deadlock with McAdoo and Smith as the two leaders, there will be many observers who believe that the situation of Raision, the deadlock will merely shift to a Smith-Raision struggle early in the fighting.

In addition, it means that instead of the Smith forces being willing to go to Raision when they see that their own fight is hopeless, they will now be embittered against the Indiana senator.

In this case there will be two groups, which will divide into two groups, which has characterized almost every Democratic convention since the days of Grover Cleveland. On the one side will be the dyas and against them the yets. On the outside of the dyas will be the progressives and on the side of the yets will be the conservatives. The dyas and progressives, according to what has happened in the past, will come from the north and western states, while the conservatives will come from the north and east.

The Klan will be found fighting with the drys and liberals, while the enthusiasm of the Smith candidacy will be confined largely to the wets and the conservatives.

Save for the Klan-Catholic issue the lineup is the same as it was in 1931. Bryan first split the party with the free silver issue in 1936 and then Grover Cleveland stood firmly for prohibition in 1937. In 1938 Bryan won the same at the 1900 convention, and in the same triumphed over the party later at St. Louis, when Tammany and the conservative north and east put over Alton B. Parker. In 1908 Bryan triumphed again, with the same lines of difference drawn. In 1912 it became so bitter that Bryan denounced Thomas Fortune Ryan on the floor of the Baltimore convention, but compromised

Woodrow Wilson's grip on the party prevented an outbreak in 1918, but the same time of "cleavage" he developed at San Francisco in 1920, with the Tammany conservative element scoring another victory, and Bryan announcing that his "heart was in the grave."

Since that time McAdoo has restored his prestige and revived the respect of his opponents by his big primary victories. The Klan leaders are not impressed by those. They point out that McAdoo merely burned an opponent who had burned them.

A poor Klan-talk will pay poor interest on the time invested; a good Klan-talk will put capital in the bank of good deeds.

the Klan from the house tops. They call attention to the heinousness of the American voter to vote against somebody instead of for somebody. They were voting against an enemy of the Klan, not for McAdoo, the Klan leaders say.

child labor which was recently held

The conditions surrounding the thousands of children in America who are working in the sweatshops, manufactories, best fields, canneries, on the streets, in the cotton fields, and in the mines, are so deplorable that it is heartening to report that the consensus of opinion even among the users of child labor, is to the effect that it is, in the long run, the most expensive labor in the world, looking at the matter from the standpoint of the best way to make Americans of this mass of un- promising material. They must be taught, or we will all pay the price—which brings us right back to our starting point—our public schools.

Equality of Opportunity

Equality of opportunity is the very foundation stone of our democracy; but what chance has a child whose body is warped and nervous system shattered by long hours of unrelieved work, bad air, no recreation and proper food, of these little starters and respectively seven, nine and ten, who work all day and Sunday, too, saving cents in a reeking, damp, badly lighted room. They go to school a few hours; but must return to the sewing as soon as they get home, and then the mother and girls obviously feel that the child teacher advised the parents to take her out of school and build up her body. A little later, however, hearing to call to see how the child was progressing, she found her in the dimly lighted room, sewing on the same old machine, and this was a case of rest and recreation!

Since the federal amendment was declared unconstitutional, the increase in child labor has been appalling. One story will illustrate the condition of things. A lecturer on child labor, named Woodrow Wilson, freed the slaves and Woodrow Wilson freed the children. At the moment, a boy rose in the back of the hall, and cried: "Screw loose in that somewhere, mister! Ain't nobody never freed me!" Think of the army of little children who know the meaning of play, Sunshine, flowers, and children—the very words should be synonymous! Then think of the thousands of little human flowers being driven by the whip of greed indoors out of the world, and the thousands of thousands of little dragging feet being driven indoors out of the sun! Can we find no way of making the world safe for little children?

The vocational feature added to our program is a practical measure which assures support. It means that each child upon leaving the high school will be able to do some one thing well enough to make a decent living. Just what this will mean to our country like a prophet of the future, but it is thoroughly practical, and moreover, it is pre-eminently a woman's job; the women are the guardians and conservers of our race.

Many Problems Will Cease
When the women of America have gotten all the children into a school where they will be thoroughly trained in the three R's—read, hear and write—and have been taught which lead to industrial readiness and unstable government will cease.

At Battle of Bunker Hill
The battle of Bunker Hill was fought on June 17, 1776. Although this battle was a defeat for the American forces, it served to arouse the British and therefore cost the British dearly.

General Joseph Warren, who lost his life in this skirmish, was formerly Grand Master of Masons of Massachusetts. Fifty years later, Marquis de Lafayette, another famous mason, laid the corner stone of the battle of Washington on June 18, 1815, on which occasion the allied armies under the generalship of the Duke of Wellington brought the dreams of the Emperor Napoleon to a disastrous end. The Duke of Wellington was a member of the Masonry and was a member of Lodge No. 484 on the Irish roll, held at Trim, in the county of Meath.

Pioneer days will be remembered on June 24th because on that date in the year 1807, the Holy Sacrament was first administered at the first meeting of the Grand Lodge which laid the foundation of that early commonwealth were many Masons.

KLANSMEN!

We appeal to you to patronize the persons and firms advertising in The Fiery Cross.

True, not all such advertisers are Klansmen. Yet they are friendly to us, or they would not advertise in our publications. Some are not members because of our own restrictions as to nativity. We would not, if we knew it, accept an advertisement from any one who is barred by our moral restrictions.

Before making your next purchase scan the columns of The Fiery Cross and any other Klan publication that you may have at hand, and see if you can find what you want advertised in The Fiery Cross. Then, when making your purchase, endeavor to let it be known to the advertiser where you saw his advertisement, and thus show him that you appreciate his friendly interest in our organization, whether he is a Klansman or not.

It is constantly drilled into us through lessons in Klankraft that we should "Return Good for Evil." Let's do that, but, at the same time, let us return good for good, and patronize those who patronize us.

Untruthful Bitterness

Speaking at Jackson, La. for the first time, the Fort Wayne Journal-Gazette writes its barbed subscribers the following: "The bodied organization of the Ku Klux Klan is the only one that can satisfy the patent constitutional principle of equality and the privileges conferred by the American institution of freedom for all. Ku Kluxism is 700,000,000 strong. It is the only organization that can think it does oppose the union of religion and it does hold that our own public schools should educate and protect children along unbiased lines. The Cleaver Vision

You may depend upon it that the cleaver vision is not the hurt to the political Christians and confidence men. People are pining to clearer vision. The steady publicity of Klan purposes has made it plain to millions that the rights of all men and the duties of all citizens shall be maintained. The cleaver vision will be cleared alone by party that will have slender picking in the fields of race. People are beginning to find

Or, is the whole thing just a step nearer centralized control by free Americans who in the end will become mere automatons, following like marionettes when Congress pulls the strings?

WOMEN DEDICATE HALL

WATERLOO, Ia., June 16.—The women of the Ku Klux Klan dedicated their new hall here recently. An appropriate program was held by the organization, which was attended by the Imperial Representative and the chief of staff of the Iowa Klan.

The building is centrally located and is a fine example of the architecture of the Klan. It is the second of its kind in Iowa, the first being at Charleston. The women's organization decorated the lecture hall with American flags, ferns, palms and flowers. The dedication was a service to the Klan for the social hour which followed the dedication service.

Chiropractic Health Talk No. 61
By J. D. GOLDSBERG, D. C.

So common is the complaint of Nervousness or Nervousness that text books call it the "King of Complaints" that it is almost impossible to find a person who has not experienced it. The physical and mental strains of life in this century are responsible, and disturbances are common everywhere. There is weakness and dizziness and occasionally palpitation of the heart, and a general feeling of being "run down." It is a long, rest-destroying time from two minutes to two years.

J. D. GOLDSBERG
D. C.
Thyean Practices

The Chiropractor, however, finds the cause in an in-ordination of the cranial nerves due to spinal pressure. Rest is good, but a straight Chiropractic health method, by removing the cause corrects the condition.

In many places, the "Better Films" committees have been most useful in suppressing suggestive pictures and helping the managers to awaken interest in good ones. These better films committees are made up of groups of women who voluntarily pledge themselves to view the pictures and indorse or condemn a picture according to the standard.

No one gets a salary. These sets, in the local papers. The papers have co-operated by publishing this information free. These local think enough of their town and everybody's children for women just think through the matter and try to make a town which will attract the class of people who want to build homes. They realize that the screen is one of the most powerful suggestive forces in the world today. As a means of teaching either good or bad its influence is practically limitless. How necessary, then for us to know what is going represent the tastes of an entire community. But by voluntary cooperation the thing can be done, and managers gladly show the pictures to the committees ahead of their showing to the public, and cut out any scenes that are deemed offensive by the committees. A great many

Confidence Is Given

For one thing, it gives confidence to the manager. He has to live just as he lives, and he is human, like anyone else, and it is human to take as few chances as possible. He has to be sure that he is on something that must be sold to the public from a march to a moribund picture.

Again, he is handicapped by the system which prevails of having to buy several inferior pictures in order to get one good one which people will pay for. One manager has heard about one manager who had to buy the very frequently sold picture that these films and nockers were not worth the money.

In the moving picture world, as everywhere else, intelligent interest and support of the best, not criticism, is the thing that will bring the good which we so desire for our own towns and children.

BIBLE DECISION.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 1.—Attorney-General U. S. Webb, refusing to recognize a recent decision of the Supreme Court of California which permits use of the Bible in school libraries for reference work, has reaffirmed his original opinion that study of the Bible in the schools violates the laws. No citizen, he said, has the right to send his child to a public high school, and then to demand that the child be taught the Bible.

DETROIT, Mich., June 12.—Rumored to be the final settlement of the estate of Thomas W. Corby's four millions of cash and real estate will be July 9. The place will be as brocade court.

Arrayed on one side will be fourteen nephews, nieces, grand-nephews and grand-nieces of the aged millionaire. They will ask that Charles J. Corby, a lawyer, who is the brother of Corby, a partner in the firm, be appointed general administrator of the estate.

On the other side will be Mrs. Madeline Beals Corby Morgan, who will insist that John C. Robert, Sr., be appointed administrator of her 5-year-old daughter. Made this the appointed general administrator.

Would Discredit Child

As the battle progresses, the nieces, nephews et al will attempt to prove that Marie Therese is not the child of the elder Corby, and therefore is entitled to no part or parcel of the estate. This was definitely announced Wednesday.

Mrs. Morgan, who was divorced from her husband, Arthur Morgan, in 1921, through her attorney, J. Edgar O'Brien, who acted as her legal counsel, will attempt to prove that Marie Therese is a legitimate child, and that she is the daughter of her husband and as heir to the elder Corby is entitled to all his millions.

One side will introduce testimony that the Corby reputation for extravagance and dissipation has been maintained since the child was born about three months after Corby was married.

The other side will set forth that the Corby family recognized the child as his and his wife quarreled with her until he and his wife quarreled and the divorce action was instituted.

It was set as the date for the trial, August 1, 1922, at the court of Probate, Judge Edgar O'Brien presiding.

WASHINGTON, June 14—Acting Treasury Secretary Winston of the treasury department today announced Wednesday that the treasury department has issued a notice of intent to issue certificates of indebtedness at the lowest interest rate since the Panama Canal bonds were sold, had been subscribed and the subscription books were closed.

The treasury asked for about $150,000,000 on 2-4 per cent interest for six months to cover financial requirements for the next quarter.

The treasury is offering $450,000 in new certificates maturing in 1935. The treasury expects to retire the same amount of the new sale to the public from the balance on hand and to issue new receipts from the June 15 tax dividend.

—Fritz Lang, one of Europe's most famous directors, is quoted in a recent interview as saying: "I would never dream of attempting to make a cowboy film for Americans. I could do it so more than they. I make do with historical films. Americans can make historical films. We can't. They have no history. Unfortunately they try. But I don't think they will ever get the fact that Americans really care about their culture and tradition and idealism. The spirit of their old legends. My own trouble is that here in America it is so difficult to get it coming out to film time to film time before I have time to do a trailer of them."

But his statement that Americans should not make historical films is pure bunk. Europe has never made anything to compare with "The Birth of a Nation," which is pure history on first to last, depicting as it does a nation emerging from the horrors of a civil war which almost destroyed the country in twain and threatened to failure the world's most conspicuous example of democratic

NEW YORK, June 10.—An electric locomotive, using oil as fuel, the first of its kind manufactured in America, has been given a successful test on the New York Central Railroad tracks here today. It was built by the General Electric Company, is smokeless, and can be operated for about 100 miles on a single charge. The cost of operating a locomotive of this type is estimated to be about 60 per cent less than that of a coal-burning locomotive. The engine weighs about 60 tons, and its power plant consists of a 10-horsepower Ingersoll-Rand oil engine directly connected with a 200-horsepower generator. The generator carries current generating coils and a commutator for reversing the current.

The exposition, as a means of fostering civic pride among the people of Indianapolis, developing Hoosier loyalty throughout the state, and demonstrating to the world the wide variety and great value of Indianapolis-made products, is the most important and profitable from Indianapolis newspapers and civic agencies. Behind it are the combined forces of the manufacturers' and industrial committees of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce.

First reports made to exposition officials as a result of the release of the Indianapolis Chamber of Commerce indicate an enthusiastic response from the manufacturing and industrial concerns of the city. At a preliminary meeting of the Chamber of Commerce recently one-third of the board floor space was promptly subscribed.

FOES OF CHILD LABOR LOOK TO NEXT STEP

Law Should Be Concrete, Declares Congressman Foster of Ohio

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 15.—Opponents of child labor are already looking forward to the next step after the ratification by the states of the anti-child labor amendment to the constitution. The amendment merely authorizes Congress to bring the possibility of the supreme court declaring such efforts unconstitutional, as has twice happened.

Israel M. Foster (representative from Ohio) says of the next step: "I see in this amendment the foundation for federal and state co-operation in the protection of American children. The resources of both states and the federal government can give more than the states alone."

"The law ought to make concrete the purposes of the amendment, that the federal law should fix minimum standards and the states be enabled to co-operate with the federal government in the administration and enforcement of federal standards. We probably should make the highest federal law enforceable in the highest courts, which any one state has enacted, but it would attempt to establish such relatively conservative minimum provisions as public opinion throughout the country would endorse as an American standard."

ROCKS AT THE MOON

"The odds are law and order, and yet the Klan makes use of the law and order," Prof. John Moffatt Mecklin, Ph. D., Dartmouth College, says in a book, "The Klan in America." "Oh, that mine enemy might write a book." Of course, all intelligent Klansmen who attend our meetings and are familiar with our constitution and our principles, know that the Klan is "throwing rocks at the moon." Like other educators and writers who are assuming to tell the people about the Ku Klux Klan, he is either misled and doesn't know it, or, if he really knows the facts, he is deliberately spreading lies and distorting the truth.

country. Prof. Mecklin might, with considerable profit to himself, to his friends and to American institutions, take a little time and bestow a little energy toward an investigation of the Klan. The best elements in nearly every American community are already in the Klan, and quite naturally esteem the organization very highly because they understand its principles and purposes, and are familiar with its splendid and constructive work and helpful lines. Perhaps Prof. Mecklin might in his own neighborhood, if he is entitled to the confidence and respect of real Americans, discover some good friend who might be willing to give him some useful information.
