Smearing under the sting of Charges by The Fiery Cross

That vice is rampant in Indianapolis, Mayor Shank, apparently availing himself of the opportunity presented by the acknowledgment of Chief of Police Rikhoff, on Saturday ordered a cleanup of the city and within forty-eight hours approximately five hundred alleged law violators, including gamblers, women of questionable character, pool room habitués, vagrants and suspicious characters, were rounded up and arrested. His action Mayor Shank substantiated the charge made by The Fiery Cross that the police department, under Chief Rikhoff, was not making a proper effort to rid the city of crime.

The fact that almost five hundred were caught in the police net within forty-eight hours, after the raids in the absence of the mayor's order, Rikhoff had been given more or less liberty and had not been molested in their operations.

"I learned to my own satisfaction," he said, "that the propaganda about 'the Godless public schools' are the very ones who are fighting to keep the Bible out of the public schools. You can well imagine my satisfaction when upon my return I learned that the schools of this county were responsible for no such thing as 'the Godless' school system."

The victory here is but one of many which has been gained by Klansmen throughout the state of Indiana and helps to lessen the error-growing list of Hoosier schools in which the Bible has been outlawed. Just why these places should be overlooked by the police has not been made clear. The drive has been characterized as "a drive on schoolrooms." Immediately before the officers began action a man, said to have been a vice investigator, was seen in a room in a back alley.

It is understood that police believe that the majority of those sending a writ for professional bondmen, will have freedom in court when taken there for trial. The whole affair, from certain angles, looks as if it may be merely a political play on the vast majority of those who would not respect the temperance laws of law breakers. It is a stop-over, if consistently followed up, that would reduce crime in Indianapolis. However, in the opinion of many, the "cleanup" process will receive a setback when Chief Rikhoff returns.

Among the members of the day who accused him of being a bootlicker for the police. The list of murders in Indianapolis, under Chief Rikhoff, is seen in the testimony submitted in the Schott murder. It was stated that he had been in the city for twenty-five men and a book who accused him of being a bootlicker for the police. The list of murders in Indianapolis, under Chief Rikhoff, is shown by the past figures. (Continued on Page 9)

Will Begin Next Friday—Many Contests Scheduled

Plans are practically completed for the Pageant of Protestantism to be staged at Hiawatha Gardens in East Thirty-eighth street, on Friday and Saturday of this week, by the Klansmen. More than one hundred contests will take part in the pageant in addition to the pageant there will be community singing, led by a chorus of five hundred voices. There will be a number of contests given by those in charge of the program, in addition to a lyric program, which will start at two-thirty in the afternoon. The pageant will begin at nine o'clock in the evening and will be preceded by a band concert and the team, which was announced Monday afternoon that a diamond ring will be given to the most popular young lady member of the Indiana organization. The candidates in the popularity contest will be chosen from the Klansmen. Officers are excluded from the contest, according to the rules given out.

There will also be two women watches, given to the two women selling the largest number of tickets. From present indications the affair will be most largely attended.

One of the features of the event, it has been announced, will be more than a hundred cars, which will be afterword shown for Klansmen and Klanswomen. This picture will chiefly show the crowd in attendance. All winners in the different contests scheduled to take place will also be shown in the picture.

A number of bands and drum corps composed of Klansmen will be on the grounds throughout the two days. The gates will be open at ten o'clock each morning. It was stated that the best way to reach the Pike at which point the gardens are located. The gardens are reached by the Fortville Interurban and by Ft. Harrison, bus lines. Adequate transportation has been assured for the program, it has been stated.

WOMEN OF ANDERSON TO CELEBRATE JULY 31

All-day event is planned and program is now being completed. ANDERSON, Ind., July 15.—Excellent speakers, it has been announced, will deliver addresses at the celebration of the Klansmen at Athletic Park, this city, on July 31. At 8:30 in the evening a large parade will be held in which, it has been stated, will play a very important part. There will be refreshments served on the grounds and a program which is now being completed will take place. It is expected that Klanswomen from all over the state will be in the city. Among the speakers of the day will be Mrs. E. G. O. P. The Klanswomen who about one year ago were the official speaker for The Fiery Cross. Rev. Griffies delivered a brilliant address and was warmly appreciated by the program.

ORANGEMEN PARADE IN DRENCHING RAIN

Former Fiery Cross Lecturer Delivers Address—Big Picnic is Held. (Special to The Fiery Cross) GREGG HAUTE, Ind., July 14.—Forming their parade and marching four miles in a drenching rain, the Orangemen of Vigo county on last Saturday held their annual celebration. About one thousand persons took part in the ceremonies held during the day at the grounds where the all-day affair was held and the crowd refused to permit the rain to dampen its spirits.

After a pouring rain from seven o'clock in the morning the skies cleared at four o'clock and the parade which had been planned to take place at that time, was held. Just how serious matters had become in Indianapolis, under Chief Rikhoff is seen in the testimony submitted in the Schott murder. It was stated that he had been in the city for twenty-five men and a book who accused him of being a bootlicker for the police. The list of murders in Indianapolis, under Chief Rikhoff, is shown by the past figures. (Continued on Page 9)

HUMOROUS EDITOR PULLS A NEW ONE

Michigan Scribe's Story Will Not Cause Klansmen to Quit, However. (Special to The Fiery Cross) GAYLORD, Mich., July 15.—The fact that this is a lumbering district seems to have affected the Outlook County Herald and Times, inasmuch as a humorous article has just appeared in the Herald-Times; the name of the editor, it is not believed, has anything to do with the lumbering article even though the name is Forrest.

Whether or not the shop is out of 'K' or whether the editor has taken the name of the Klan in his paper, is not known. However, the following, which brought many a smile, in comparison with the number of people who read the paper, appeared in the Herald-Times: Although the watchfield was shattered, much opposition, most of it of a petty nature, was encountered by the Klansmen and Klanswomen. It can only be believed that because they had a celebration was to be held here.

The affair was a great success and one of the features was a parade in which contingents from Anderson, Elwood, Ferndale, Frankton, Tippecanoe, and other Klan units participated. A prominent part in the procession, the Junior band of Tippecanoe, in the parade. Klanswomen also did much to make the parade a success and hundreds of them were in place in the procession which was cheered along the entire line of march. The largest crowd ever gathered in Frankton viewed the parade. After midnight of the day, on which the celebration was held, Klansmen and Klanswomen were seen in the streets of Frankton, which the celebration was held in. "Eight Immigrants Are Passed Each Minute"

When the immigration law now on the statute books was pending in Congress, and when public attention was consequently directed so intensely to that subject, Dr. Spencer L. Davies, medical examiner of the New York State Hospital Commission, gave some illuminating information as to the laxness with which the immigration law then in force was handled by the department of labor.

His statement, which has the appearance of accuracy, disclosed the wholesale manner in which immigrants both physically and mentally were admitted to the United States through correct political influence in violation of the law. The following Associated Press report of his statement appeared in The Evening Star, of Washington, April 24, this year:

Many New York, April 22.—Mentally defective immigrants are being admitted to the United States daily through the political influence on the department of labor. Dr. Spencer L. Davies, medical examiner of the New York State Hospital Commission, declared today that the laxness with which the immigration law is handled is manifest. Any number of immigrants are admitted to the United States without the required examination and bond, and are not friends of the United States. They should be sternly disciplined and made to obey the law or be promptly and permanently retired from the service.—The Protestant.

When two very rich young moral regenerators foolishly murdered another youth at Chicago, those acquainted with propaganda methods of the Roman press and of the hierarchy that controls it fully expected that the crime would be exploited in the periodicals of Rome.

The execution of our American schoolmate was promptly reported by the diocesan organ of the Roman bishop enthroned in Brooklyn, devoted to the cause of the Roman hierarchy, in a bitter arraignment of the "College of Cardinals." The virulent attack in the Roman periodical was based on statements which a Lutheran minister was alleged to have made.

The shocking tragedy appeared in Jewish names and are therefore probably neither Protestants nor Roman Catholics. David Goldstein and Robert Franks, worthy knights of Columbus. The slain and those charged with his murder are Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb.

But while using that horrible tragedy to fuel and malign our institutions of higher learning. The Tablet made no such application of the incident appearing inopportunistly at the foot of the same page to his father, "Aristoteling Rites."

If the awful murder committed apparently by two young Hebrew degenerates in Chicago was due to lack of Roman training in school, what caused the son of a Roman Catholic at Lowell, Massachusetts, to commit a crime of the same nature? Was that due to his Roman training?

Was it Roman Catholic education that incited Karl Janorek to shoot Catholic Austria a month or so ago in the streets of Vienna? Or was it where Roman Catholic education is forced upon all students in all schools? What causes the revolution and violence that devastates or menaces Roman Catholic Latin America nearly all the time?

New Jersey Klansmen Celebrate Fourth of July

The Klan—A Crystallization of a Thought Held for Ages

The Ku Klux Klan is not of recent birth; that is, the impelling force behind this great American organization is not. The Klan is the crystallization of a sentiment, or thought of ages, that has taken concrete form and is named the Ku Klux Klan.

For centuries human thought has battled against tyranny; for centuries the world has sought enlightenment and education. And just for that same length of time, despots, regard less of what might have been their titles, have fought against those greater minds that rose above the masses held in ignorance by those who have assumed the God-given right of man.

Despite the dark ages, the Spanish Inquisition, the massacre of the Huguenots, and the innumerable acts of a like nature, which were devised and carried out by that same power that today would disrupt the American school system, destroy her freedom and manacle her liberties, this thought, which has now crystallized, has struggled onward and today is a living, breathing thing called the Ku Klux Klan.

The Ku Klux Klan is an organization of persons persistent in their fight for all things American. It is an organization determined that Right shall rule; a great militant Christian body which determines the cause of religion shall take precedence over the cause of the Ku Klux Klan is alive, to the end of the world. It is a political movement, it is thoroughly conversant with the times of the political movement of the fact that the millions of non-

"No school should exist in Michigan without a copy of the Bible and the King James version, in the language of which is familiar to us all. Do not allow your school to re-open without having available a copy of the Bible," is part of the message contained in a letter sent by Superintendent Johnson to all school officers.

Mr. Johnson said further that he wished to find a quotation from the Holy Book and was unable to find a Frank Cody superintendent of the public schools of Detroit has taken exception to the letter from Lansing in reference to the King James version and says this will be a matter of consideration.

Mr. Cody has been a member of the Ku Klux Klan for some time and is believed that he is willing to allow the teachings of "Church Never State" in these schools where the executives and teachers are followers of the foreign system of education.

A maypole dance was given by about of the young people after the birthday cake, using the Knight Templar sword of Brother Bean. A letter of congratulations was also received from President Coolidge.

Drastic Steps Needed to Prevent Decline of Intelligence

Ill-regulated Immigration Has Brought United States Face to Face With a Most Serious Problem

There are two ways to combat the decay of a people that is composed of distinctly inferior and superior stocks. First, the fertility of the inferior stock may be diminished; second, the fertility of the superior stock may be increased beyond the present average capacity.

Of these two methods the best and most important method is to stock to increase it beyond its present trend and tendency.

To increase the fertility of the superior racial stock is a problem which confronts the Klansmen thoroughly deeply because it is more than any other organization, the imperative need of America shall produce more Americans of the true-type stock.

National Future Jeopardized

The future of the nation has been jeopardized in the dim past by the importation of large numbers of slaves of the colored race, and later by the admission of hundreds of thousands of inferior hereditary stocks. Until recently legislative policies have favored proletarianization of the population and not the improvement of the race. It is essential that the Klansmen should be able to overcome these measures by a policy of corrective measures be adopted and immediately advocated and rigidly applied, otherwise it will be impossible to prevent the extinction of our racial stock mixtures.

COLLECTS FOR POKE IN EYE AFTER 32 YEARS

Ohio Man Finally Secures Action on Long Standing Judgment

BUCKEYS, Ohio, July 10.—Adolph Bunker Bucyrus township constable can collect a debt and enforce a judgment, even though it takes him thirty-two years to do it.

In 1892 Adolph was a runner for the Dean Hotel here and in an argument over two prospects, one of which he lost, he was convicted of a crime that left him in the jail.

Gets Judgment—Ours

Adolph went to law for damages and got a judgment of $23.30 from the jury. That's all he got, however, for the defendant was collected.

After several years the judgment was about to lapse when Adolph discovered that the contingent fee attorney would do no good if the book was lapsed for he would then own a good-sized bill in attorney's fees.

Adolph on the Job

Rather than be liable for this debt he had the judgment revived, paying all costs, and thenceforth had it revived every five years for three decades. Recently he learned that his neighbor had inherited property and at once moved to have an execution levied on the result of the thirty-two years' delay. Bunker will collect $318.30 for his judgment, with interest compounded. But of this, one-half will be due his first attorney and at least half the balance spent in court costs and subsequent attorney fees. Constable Bucyrus' attorney is about as much as the original judgment.

Dr. Butler, 'Solipsist'

The Christian Science Monitor has been having a little chestnut fun with Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, of Columbia University, the university head proponent of boozeholders.

The editorial is a model that might be used in the classrooms of every college that offers courses in four-year education. Probably Dr. Butler will still hold that the eighteenth amendment ought to be scissored out of the constitution. He will still be a "solipsist."

The Monitor editorial follows:

"With some eagerness the Monitor has been awaiting the reply of Dr. Butler to the editorial on boozeholders which other follow hit him in the eye.

BELIEVE EDUCATION MEASURE WILL PASS

Ultimate Success of Bill Contidently Expected by Educators

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—The annual convention of the National Education Association, meeting in Washington with twenty thousand teachers and educators in attendance, expressed confidence in the ultimate passage of the education bill.

Every influential writer of modern times frankly admits its debt to the Bible. The hero souls of the nations have been nurtured from the sacred eloquent tributes of appreciation to the Book of Books. It is not an accident that the Bible rests upon the altar in every Masonic lodge in America.

The prevailing ignorance of the younger generation concerning the Bible is most deplorable. A recent writer has said that when the average man and college graduates meet a table state of affairs. Many thought this sacred book away from the child. Paul was a book of the Bible, that dreads so long. Some day, they hope, Ephesians was a province in Asia this condition may be overcome, and Minor, that Leviticus was a disciple study in the most splendid literature of Christ, that the epistles were the true in the English language be a series of the apostles, the church part of the Bible, and the last part of the Bible, the sermon on the Mount, and The New Age Magazine.

The Bible Rises Above the Sceptic and Purist

After all the criticism of sceptics and purists, the fact remains that the Bible is one of the great lights of modern civilization. Those readers stand the highest where the Bible is most honored. Read your histories and you will find that, wherever a nation has struggled for freedom against ecclesiastical despotism or political tyranny, the opening of the Bible, the giving of the Word to the people, always has been the sign of victory for popular rights.

The splendid literatures of Christendom are saturated with Bible lore. Every influential writer of modern times frankly admits its debt to the Bible. The hero souls of the nations have been nurtured from the sacred eloquent tributes of appreciation to the Book of Books. It is not an accident that the Bible rests upon the altar in every Masonic lodge in America.

When the laugh provoked by the ridiculous answers dies down, we might well contemplate the personal, social and political effects springing from such woeful ignorance concerning the book of books.

There are many sincere citizens who are ignorant of the Bible, and colleges graduates and ministers have the same state of affairs. Many thought this sacred book away from the child. KLANSMEN!

We appeal to you to patronize the persons and firms advertising in The Fiery Cross.

True, not all such advertisers are Klansmen. Yet they are friendly to us, or they would not advertise in our publications. Some are not members because of our own restrictions as to nativity. We would not, if we knew it, accept an advertisement from any one who is barred by our moral restrictions.

Before making your next purchase scan the columns of The Fiery Cross and try other Klan publications that you may have at hand, and see if you can find what you want advertised in The Fiery Cross. Then, when making your purchase, endeavor to let it be known to the advertiser where you saw his advertisement, and thus show him that you appreciate his friendly interest in our organization, whether he is a Klansman or not.

It is constantly drilled into us through lessons in Klancraft that we should "Return Good for Evil." Let's do that, but, at the same time, let us return good for good, and patronize those who patronize us.

Breadth and Tolerance

A few Klansmen have had some things to say from time to time against Protestant sentimentality. That is, people who sob and sigh and fear that the Klan is not willing to let people believe as they choose in religious matters, people who are against the "over-intolerance" toward the Roman Catholics who certainly "ought to have a right to worship God as they choose."

Yet, if the Klan had not stood firmly and forcefully for strict and rigid Protestantism, the growth of the growth of popery (that monster that the serpent and unyielding of all religious faiths) in this country would have been more than doubled.

That silly notion.

The Klan calls upon the people in general to get away from the silly notion that the Catholic church should never be hounded with greed, and that it is not right to let it do in the past centuries. If anybody imagines that popery is fairness let him debate himself the thought. The old enemy is as robust as ever, and unconquerable as ever. The Klansman need erant" toward the Roman Catholics who certainly ought to have a right to worship God as they choose. It is a right that should be protected and forestalled within the past few years, there is danger that the growth of popery (that most intolerant and unyielding of all religious faiths) in this country would have been more than doubled.

That Silly Notion.
The Klan calls upon the people in general to get away from the idea of a "right to worship God as they choose." If Protestantism is to exist, it must fight for its life now just as it has had to do in past centuries. If anybody imagines that popery is whipped to submission, it is kidding himself. The old enemy is standing out against the skyline as robust as ever and uncompromising as ever. The Klansman need not treat him to the candy of kindness which is mischievously called "liberalism." The Catholicistic church knows not the meaning of the word and must be faced over as a deadly enemy.

A Worse Evil
This fact is brought out very clearly in the following quotation from the New World, a Catholic publication, and it ought to be read thoughtfully by every Klansman in the country. "An old saying has it that justice always finds the right way out. It may be walked about for a time but finally it triumphs. The church has this god-like quality that means little to an immortal institution. It is a temporal power, the alleged necessity that it interfered with the compactness of a united Italy. The loss of temporal power brought in its train that which was the worst of the time. The pope is a sovereign ruler with or without temporalities. He guides the destiny of 300,000,000 people. For this reason he must of necessity have his complete liberty to get rid of those who are in his way or reference from kings, emperors or prime ministers."

J. CLAUDE KEIPER MADE MASONIC SECRETARY

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 14.—J. Claude Keiper, past grand master of the Grand Lodge of the Grand Army of the Republic, has been appointed and installed as secretary of the Grand Chapter of Royal Arch Masons, and grand feoffee of the Grand Chapter of Knights Templar, all of the District of Columbia, in place of Arrive W. Johnson, who has served these grand bodies for many years, who resigned these offices on account of ill health.

Brother Johnson has been made honorary grand secretary and named bodies, with full salary for life.

Grand Secretary Keiper is at present secretary-treasurer of the George Washington Masonic National Memorial Association, and has served in 341 branches of masonry for many years.

fortable home and luxurious clubs, he is not concerned with the tremendous efforts made by the American people to rid themselves of the saloon by means of the legislation of the past few years. The true salogist can never be moved by altruistic motives, for he knows none other than himself to exist—which makes us wonder who those behind Dr. Butler want the ways turned on once more.

Mistaken Again
"In today's New York papers Dr. Butler is quoted as saying 'no attempt to answer my arguments has been made by anyone.' Within ten days printed answers to Dr. Butler from a number of distinguished publicists, among whom may be mentioned Dr. Charles W. Elliot, President of Chicago, Governor Kendall of Iowa, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, Walter Dill Scott, President of the National Association of Josephus Daniels and the Hon. Horace G. Tatt, it would seem to us that Roosevelt's 'shorter and uglier word' is more applicable in this instance than 'solipsist'.

But what an epithet that is for one college professor to hurl at another! Was it Dr. Johnson who recalled her 'tetrahedral paratellipson'? No one never can, no such nasty names in the fish market before' cried the outraged harriard. The higher learning indeed had controversial weapons directed to the mere journalist.

Religious Illiteracy

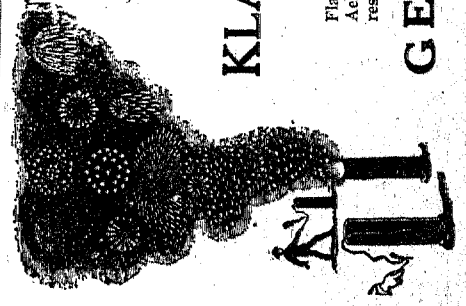

There are twenty-seven million children and youths in this country who are receiving no systematic religious instruction in any church. This information by the Institute of Social and Religious Research of New York. Only three out of every ten of our young people are enrolled in any church or private school to receive religious instruction.

This condition is not a reflection upon the public school system, because it is not the function of the schools to teach religion. Their duty is to teach children in those scientific, academic, civic and ethical subjects upon which all well-informed and educated people agree. The disputed subjects of religion and theology are properly left to the home and the church.

The mere reading of a passage of scripture does not constitute religious instruction, nor does the teaching of ethics. Admirable as these things may be in themselves, children may hear them and yet pass out of the schools little better than pagans. No magical effect is produced upon religion by mere recitation by simple reading of the Bible.

In the home and the church must rest the responsibility of imparting religious instruction. Parents, priests and ministers can not evade their responsibility for the religious education of the youth. Primarily it is the work of the church, and unless the churches call a truce in their unfraternal quarrels, and apply the united intelligence and devotion of all the churches to meeting and solving the stupendous problem of the religious education of the youth, one can contemplate the future of this church in America only with misgivings.

Protestantism Assailed

The unfair recedes of the New York papers during the Democratic convention, when all candidates, except Al Smith, Roman Catholic, were assailed at intervals, is now a matter of history. Every opportunity was taken advantage of to belittle Protestantism. The usual method was to attack the Klan, an organization which typifies Protestantism in America. Hitting behind the "Klan issue," Protestants were assailed as never before.

In one instance, The New York Times, in an editorial captioned "An Irrepressible Conflict," the Klan, composed of more than six million American-born Protestants, was called "a secret, insidious, hateful and un-American organization." The Times, steeped in the lore of anti-Klan propaganda and published in the midst of an alien population, did not have the courage to say "The Protestants of America have formed a secret, insidious, hateful and un-American organization, to which many thousands of bigoted Protestant ministers belong." That is just what the Times really did say; but it did not have the courage to say it in that way.

The publications of America, those which are being into the hands of the Roman Catholic machine, have at last found a way whereby they may launch venomous attacks on the Protestants of the United States and have an alibi ready. The tommyrot displayed in the cross effort to make persons more tireless and repentant each day.

What is the Klan if it isn't its membership? Its membership is absolutely Protestant. Its membership is composed of Protestant educators, Protestant ministers, Protestant church workers, Protestant business men, Protestant native-born Americans, in which it exists. Each week finds tens of thousands of Protestants within its ranks. These Protestants are being slandered, lied about and vilified by an antagonistic press playing to the string pulling of a foreign potentate. The camouflage of Protestantism and virtuous Protestant women and noble Protestants compose the Klan, by directing their filthy attack "at the Klan," will some day act as a boomerang. Not that it is not already having a reverse action on the minds of the people who are beginning to think, but the boomerang will be such that Protestantism will be swept to the fore by a revulsion of feeling on the part of Protestant America, and no longer be forced to accept the insults directed by the hidden hand of an ecclesiastical corporation acting from Europe.

Ignatz Speaks

Declaring in a letter to The New York Times, that he is not in sympathy with the Klan principles, Ignatz Pergelchevski took occasion to say the Klan "is not the worst organization in existence." He did say, however, that he "was no lover of the Klan." This really could have been expected by his name, even though he had not said that he was not a native-born American and was not a Protestant.

Mr. Pergelchevski declares publicly that he does not believe in the principles of the Klan, and that he is foreign born and not a Protestant. It would not be out of place to note at this time some of those principles in which the foreign-born, non-Protestant, who is making his

No Force is Lost

Sometimes we send poorly-nourished children out to "fresh air farms." It's a good idea, but there is a better and more Klanslike one—that of sending those who are poorly nourished mentally somewhere far from the blight of working-conditions God may enlighten them.

This is a day when the drift is away from origins and old order of things. Children, young and old, grasp at new notions of life when old notions and habits of thought may be fondly recalled from worn out. It is in thinking the most out of practices and principles that are still good. No force is lost in that method.

Religious Training Important

Many Cities Are Now Watching With Keen Interest Introduction of Religious Study in Public Schools

In many cities of the country an experiment is being tried that will be watched with keenest interest by ministers and religious teachers. In order to provide for their religious instruction, the children are excused from regular school work for one hour or so each week during which time they attend some religious school designated by their parents.

An effort is being made, in this way, to meet the wishes of parents who believe that the children should receive definite training in religious subjects.

The plan is meeting with hearty approval by some people, while others object on the ground that the benefit received by the children in so short a time does not offset the disarranging of the regular school curriculum.

Others again feel that this is but another method of shifting the responsibility to the schools a responsibility that should rest upon the home.

The Telegraph of Wheeling, W. Va., makes editorial comment as follows:

An Excellent Plan

The plan of religious education now in operation in the public schools of Wheeling is an excellent one, and should result in much good.

It is of course optional on the part of their children, and it is gratifying to note to what extent it is being taken advantage of.

The plan provides for children in the second to eighth grades inclusive being excused for one hour each week during the school year, for the purpose of attending religious instruction in a church of their own choosing.

The subject matter taught and directed under the entire control and direction of the authorities of the respective churches. Those responsible for this work make the following reference to the matter:

"The subject matter of religious training is of at least equal importance with their training in arithmetic, reading and writing, etc. The plan outlined provides, as an integral part of our public school system, both the time and opportunity for the child which otherwise would be denied. Parents are urged to take advantage of it.

Also of interest is the following vote of the parents of the children in the Union School district, of whom some 71 per cent voted to have religious instruction given to their children.

Attorney-General's Opinion

The attorney-general holds that such action would be discriminatory and in violation of the constitutional provisions prohibiting sectarian instruction in the public schools of the state.

The appropriation of state school funds is dependent upon the attendance of pupils. The hours during which a child is absent receiving religious instruction on reading of the state do not count against the state in computing appropriations.

The attorney-general holds that the spirit and intent of the statutes of the state do not admit of any provision which either directly or indirectly discriminates on the basis of religion or against the children whose parents or guardians might not desire to have religious instruction given to their children.

Balaam and the Klansman

Balaam, according to the New Testament, was a bad man. His conscience was always in the market for a price. He was willing to sell himself for the money of the world. His reputation in the New Testament, was as unscrupulous as a political artist. No doubt he was of the type (according to present interpretation) that would be described as a "steak and kidney" man. For a bribe he would exploit the necessities of his fellow men. He was ready to sell out for use in foreign lands.

Seven Million Bibles

For the second time in the history of the American Bible Society the issues have exceeded seven million copies in one year. The total, as reported by the board of managers at the 108th annual meeting recently, is 7,101,239 volumes, an increase of 2,653,933 over the 4,447,306 sent out the preceding year.

From the Bible House at 450 Broadway, New York, 3,554,160 volumes were issued, 857,817 having been sent out for use in foreign lands.

Errors Served as Stimulants
It is true that from the fourth to the sixteenth centuries Christianity was to make its greatest contribution to the world. It was in this period, with each other for a long distance, finally they join their waters. One is crystalline and beautiful, the other is muddy and embroiled by the soil through which they flow. The muddy river will result in a muddy river, but the clear water will rise in its power, and as it flows on to the sea, make clear and lovely all its waters? The

It was in the fourth century that there are some persons who object to reading Church History. They say it is a long and boring history, and that it is full of doctrinal controversies. They say it is a bitter contest, and that it is full of blood and strife. They say it is a history of the past, and that it has no value for the present. They say it is a history of the past, and that it has no value for the present.

their teacher, descended into this world for a visit and to examine some of the things that were going on. They have never been seen since. They could not be found. In these chapels erected upon the primitive believers' superstitions of the past, interesting scenes of the baptism of our Lord, being the earliest painting that we know anything of. Our Lord does not appear in baptism as some think he did, that of being immersed, but His robe is being poured upon His head.

In the catacombs of Paris, was once found a spring. It was called "The Spring of Oblivion" and was formed with an inscription from the words of Jesus when He said, "Whoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again, but whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst; but the water that I shall give him shall be in him a well of water, springing up in him everlasting life." It is true that the water of everlasting life did refresh the lives of the early Christians who now lie silent in these crypts, each telling the story of religious fervor in the faith of Jesus. Of the credit of the martyrs we have no record and can form no estimate. This we do know that for ages Rome was crimson with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of the Christian era. In the middle of the third century, the middle of those who had suffered martyrdom was incalculable. Only at the last day will it be known. These who sleep beneath the burning streams of lava as it breaks these words: "mountain slides with so much madness, so much rage. It is but a vessel formed of clay, brittle and hastening to decay. Subdue the indomitable soul. Which, when fierce whirlwinds rends me, lay in calm serenity. And only bowe to God's control!"

It is for us today having received from the hands of these martyrs of the faith of our Christian institutions, that we do not forget to bear witness to their faith, until like Christ, they shall rise clothed in robes of glory and immortality, and shall be crowned by Him, and abolished death for every man, and who was crucified that we might live.

Origin of "Protestant"
We speak of the Protestant church, but what do we mean? The Protestants are the pre-Testaments. The names were given to those who on the 17th of October, 1529, at the Diet of Speyer, protested against the decision of the majority that the permission given three years before to every prince to regulate religious matters in his dominions (the freedom of a general council should be made till the council met). Besides protesting their protest, the emperor and future council. The diet rejected their protest, and they immediately presented a more extended one. The name is now holding the doctrine of the reformation and rejecting papal authority.

The word catholic, meaning universal, was used in the early church and medieval times for the great and medieval organizations which held the most sacred of all the laws were commended. When the Shaughnessy was dismissed from the force August 30, 1921, for intoxication, and in each of the loan cases it was testified that he secured the loans from his next pay check. Robert E. Cost of Ignorance

In Caracas, India, eight hundred telephones went out of commission with one stroke of the ax, as an ignorant coolie, making an excavation, mistook a telephone cable for a water pipe. The ax, as it were, was immediately repaid of course. It took for many hours, patiently to sort out the wires and slant each with telephone users went without the services of the telephone. What tragedies are thus caused will never be known. All that is reported is that in one instance ignorance undid the work of many hours, and that many were required to repair the damage.
