proved, that they are sure and confident of their own blessedness, at least all of them, though we may very sure of it. 29. Therefore the pope, when he speaks of the plenary remission of penalties, does not mean simply all, but only of those imposed by himself.

21. Thus those preachers of indulgences are in error who say that, the indulgences of the pope, a man is loosed and saved from all punishment.

22. For in fact he remits to souls

23. If any entire remission of all purgatory no penalty which they would have had to pay in this life, according to the canons.

24. Hence the greater part of people must needs be deceived by this indiscriminate and high-sounding promise of release from suffering, but most harmful, if through them they lose the fear of God.

25. Such power as the pope has in purgatory in general, such has a bishop in his own diocese, every curate in his own parish, and the Catholics in general, in the exercise of pardons, he would prefer that the basilica of St. Peter should be burnt to ashes, than that it should be built up with the skins of flesh, and bones of his sheep.

226. The pope acts most rightly in granting remission to souls not the power of the keys (which of no avail in this case) but by St. Peter, and to give of his own.

27. They preach man, who say that the soul flies out of purgatory as soon as the money thrown into chest rattles.

38. It is certain that, when the money rattles in the chest, avarice gains may be increased, but the rage of the church depends on will of God alone.

29. Who knows whether all the pardons may be preached, condemn the word of God to utter silence in other churches.

The Iron Hand

the power of selfishness in big business is as glibly used as the word "progress." The Georgia senate recently voted 31 to 0 and the lower house 170 to 2 against the amendment. This fact presents a stubborn obstacle to the abolition of the poll tax. It is a terrible mistake in the eyes of the politicians and forecasts a terrible future in the north and east. In time, however, we shall see that there are references of the manner in which the iron race will eventually destroy itself if the thing be possible. The iron race upon the child's throat is one of the numberless ways in which the great murder of the race may be accomplished during the coming century.

tative of the best type of American womanhood. Such contests, she held—contests depending on the beauty

The Klan has always deplored any "wave tendency" in American life that detracts from the early life of the American child. It has been that America be the mightiest and purest standard to the highest and noblest of man, and has testified that our race-mothers, be they protected in any way from the European influence, whether women are paid to be milk maids or school teachers.

Of course we understand that they disclaim all hostility toward Masons, but when we would like to know is why a meeting was called for March 20, 1924, before a meeting of the St. Joseph State League, held in Indianapolis, Rev. Fanatic Who Branded Self Now in Ugly Predicament

Romani Catholic, Who Burned Own Body to Cast Stigma on Klan, Goes in Hiding After Confession to Authorities—Is Member of Knights of Columbus

By Grand Dragon of Oklahoma

Nelson B. Burrows, a Roman Catholic, a member of the Knights of Columbus, former insurance agent of Rochester, New Hampshire, branded himself with the letter "K" on three parts of his body, then disappeared from his home for nearly three weeks, wrote a warning letter to a newspaper man to bring publicity for himself, tried to lay the blame upon the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, and then remained in seclusion in Lawrence, Massachusetts, until the secular press made a sensation of the meager details of his alleged kidnapping, branding and release from captivity, has confessed his actions, has been repudiated by the Knights of Columbus and stands before the world today as one of the biggest fakers of the year.

It was a wild yarn which Burrows concocted and put over on the secular press; if he had been press-agenting for an actor, he would have been a big thing in the way of publicity, but now that he has confessed, people look upon him as a plumb fool or mentally unbalanced human being. It took an all-night grilling by the attorney-general of the state, the county sheriff, the county solicitor and a Boston detective to bring the truth from his lips. The confession was obtained at 4:30 o'clock in the morning. He finally yielded and told them the story of how he made up the story and how he peddled out to the newspapers which played it good and big.

Burrows suffered the tortures of the branding iron, burning himself on breast and forehead, within a short time. He was in bed for a week and will not even leave a scar. Detectives who have recently examined him, declare that his physical condition is good and that all traces of the branding will disappear within a month.

Those hunting for his motive in this thing, are at a loss. The only one who has an effort to discredit him, is a man in member-ship rapidly in Rochester and one of the members of the Knights of Columbus, a Roman Catholic convert and a member of the Knights of Columbus, who went to Rochester about twelve years ago and became a convert to Catholicism. He was twice married, his last wife, whom he wedded last November, also being a convert.

Should Serve As Lesson

This strange case ought to serve as a lesson to notoriety seekers and would-be martyrs that they can't make a thing out of nothing. It is K for ever. If the Klan did do such things, it would be a public scandal. It did, the public would be quick to find it out and punish accordingly. The Klan, themselves, would be the first to denounce and punish the gully ones if such were done. People who try to blame the Klan for such things do not understand the organization and its

Tid-Bits

There is no wobble in a Klansman's gait.

Emigration is the true solution of the negro problem.

The Klan believed in the election of patriots, not partisans.

It is better to break a political record than a Klan promise.

The Madison Square gathering was palpably a fixed show for Al Smith and a big one, but most of the free acts were tiresome.

It is a grand thing to preach Klan principles, but it is a grander thing to live them.

Klansmen do not lay up treasures in heaven at the rate of a nickel a week in the church collection plate. When they give, they give wholeheartedly as becomes men of altruistic purpose.

There can be no retreat from the position taken by Congress in its handling of the exclusion law and no hope of a more liberal treatment of a class of people afflicted with a sort of words and a growth of honest thoughts.

A boy has recovered from his loss of memory. If witnesses at court could be persuaded to do the same, justice might be able to take the message of one of her sore eyes at heart.

It is no use to live in a house by the side of the road, unless you can be a friend to Klansmen.

The Jewish drive for a million dollars to be used for the maintenance of the Ku Klux Klan and similar parties in eastern Europe and Asia—so long as the schools remain in eastern Europe.

Expect all politicians to renew their oracular shrieks for economy. The cry rises insistently once every four years—and is forgotten the moment the election is over. Every body and Harry Mary Ann, Matilda and Henrietta all want economy, and are howling their heads off without accomplishing it. It is the great pose of a free people—a people that would not spend money in these bad times, made a real effort to save the people's money. Now, as always, the Klan points out the need of sincerity in the disposal of the nation's surplus. And the work should be done without summer and backbiting. This is summer and backbiting. Economy for the good of the real payers.

The new revenue bill may cut off some of the nuisance taxes, but it will not be able to cut off the nuisances.

The Good Woman

A good woman is the ally of good morals. That is why the Klansman preaches and believes in our superb American without compromise. The Klansman is neither a servant nor a radical. She may bob her hair, but she will not open her head and heart to low and coarse trends of thought and culture in no-where.

on the grounds and this will be ready the day before the celebration begins. Juniors have been urged to open their parents to the celebration. The grand finale will come in the way of a surprise and it is being kept a "dark secret" as to just what it will be. If one is to take Mr. Tinsley's word for it, however, it will be a hot contest for the ladies, the hats will be given these contestants on whom the hats are the most becoming.

An Ideal Spot

Hawatha Gardens, which is located at East Thirty-eighth street and the Pendleton Pike, affords an ideal spot for the Junior celebration and is reached by good roads, bus lines and street cars. The Junior celebration will be held on the grounds which joins Pendleton Pike, or drive out Thirty-eighth street. The Port Harrison bus line passes the gardens as does the Portline traction line. All Juniors have been requested to meet at the gardens at 7:30 o'clock on the earliest possible time, in connection with the coming event. There will be band concerts, athletic contests, races, Junior shows, moving pictures, a parade and a myriad of other things to keep our busy from the first.

Sentiment is Reflected

America is now filled with aliens who refuse to become Americanized. Judge Cliffe will serve as a beacon by which will govern the admittance to citizenship of the foreigners who make request for citizenship papers. The attitude of Judge Cliffe reflects the feeling throughout America at this time. It is a feeling that the United States should become Americans in spirit as well as otherwise.

He illustrated his own works with humorous drawings. His "Borale" series included more than a dozen books published from 1913 to 1918.

Born at Grady, where he was graduated from the Grady academy, Mr. Cox went to San Francisco in 1913, and, for twelve years, engaged in literary work there. His first book was published in 1913. It was a story.

What do you call fulsome gaffery and flamboyant, praise? The Boston Post goes thus about the notorious Al Smith, prince of wet wire pullers: "His personal and political life is a record of a man's tooth, and his personality is a mound of words." Ugh! Ugh! The new business of 1923 was the largest volume of any year except 1918, and was the crest of life insurance expansion in this area. Members admitted in 1923 numbered 1,295,762, with insurance written and increased amounting to $1,232,336,933.

The fact that each year the fraternal system received over a million new adherents and covers their lives with over a billion dollars of insurance is evidence of its forward march. The growth of the new members was 1,034,016 and the new insurance $1,199,331,571.

The production increase of 1923

The membership of the societies showed an increase last year, reaching 10,195,017. At the close of 1922 the membership was 8,156,285 beneficiaries, $11,174 social and 236,397 juveniles.

Louisiana Passes a Law—It Is to Laugh

A law has recently been passed in Louisiana banning the hood and mask. The following shows how it will work out if honestly and legally enforced:

"Pro Bono Publico!"

The legislature has just enacted a law to the effect, "That if any person shall wear upon any public highway, public road, public building, public street, public passage, or other public place of any city, town, or village, or in any open place of any city, town, or village in view thereof, any badge, emblem, or insignia of Louisiana, a hood and mask, or anything in the nature of a disguise of any kind or description whatsoever, calculated to conceal or prevent the identity of said person, or to prevent his being readily recognized, he shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and shall be punished in the parish prison for a term of not less than six months nor more than one year."

Webster's dictionary defines the word 'hood' as follows: 'A flexible covering or garment for the head and neck, often attached to a robe or mantle, or having an attached cape; esp.: a garment formerly worn by men either under the hat or tailing behind the shoulders. Mail for the head or attached to a steel cap and covering the neck, etc., often worn under the helmet. The head covering of an ecclesiastical garment; esp.: a monk's cowl.'

et outlaws the wear-

as the hood of the K. K. K. The problem is now up to the officials as to whether the law shall be enforced without fear or malice."

Mr. Zamrowski, was elected by a large majority also, and for the first time in its history, it is said, Manistee has an all-Protestant school board.

Many voters were indignant over the fact that Roman Catholics run for offices connected with the public schools, when all the literature is so full of attacks upon the religion. It is directly opposed to the policy of education. "When a man votes against a certain principle," voters agree, "he can not but be harmful when he has authority vested in him to vote on its affairs."

With combined Roman forces working together against the public school, the Roman Catholic can run for one of its offices without branding him-
